Overview & Current Events

First Mid Bancshares, Inc. is a 1982-founded financial holding company that offers a comprehensive range of banking and financial services through its American subsidiaries. Customers of the business include commercial, retail, and agricultural clients. The company provides deposit products, loans, wealth management, brokerage, Ag services, and insurance through a sizable network of locations across Texas, Illinois, and Missouri, as well as a loan production office in the greater Indianapolis area. First Mid is a company that prioritizes the community and has built a strong reputation in the communities it serves, and its total asset size is $6.7 billion.

On January 26th, 2023, the company announced results for the fourth quarter ending December 31st, 2022. FMBH reported Q4 Non-GAAP EPS of $1.01, beating market estimates by $0.07. The company reported revenues of $63.9 million for the quarter, up 4.9% year-over-year. For 2022, First Mid Bancshares reported revenue of $185.9 million, up 16.4% from the previous year. The company also reported net income of $20.8 million, up 22.6% compared to the previous year.

The company produced extraordinary loan growth and high credit quality through 2022. Due to double-digit growth in the wealth management and insurance businesses, which offset reduced mortgage banking revenues, its noninterest income increased by more than 7% for the year. First Mid Bancshares met all its financial benchmarks for acquiring Jefferson Bank and Trust ("Jefferson").

Investors are concerned that the current financial crisis, also brought on by rising interest rates in 2008, may be similar to the disaster after Silicon Valley Bank collapsed. According to CME's FedWatch Tool, traders anticipate a quarter-point rate increase at the March 22 meeting. As a result, the probabilities of a 0.5-point hike have vanished. The SVB collapse has sent shockwaves across the banking sector, and FMBH stock has plunged following the news.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028

DPS	$0.46	$0.55	$0.59	$0.62	$0.66	$0.70	$0.76	$0.81	$0.85	$0.90	$0.92	$1.12
Shares	5.9	7.0	8.5	12.5	12.7	16.7	16.7	16.7	18.1	20.2	21.5	44.4

First Mid Bancshares is a cost-efficient and resilient bank. In the last quarter, the bank's nonperforming loans fell by $1.6 million, bringing the ratio of nonperforming loans to total loans down to 0.40%. The allowance for credit losses (ACL) climbed by $0.3 million to $59.1 million as of December 31, 2022, with an ending ACL to total loans ratio of 1.22%. Thus, considering FMBH's high asset quality, we don't expect the SVB effect to impact its performance materially. However, the bank is small and vulnerable to the banking sector's shockwaves.

We forecast an EPS of $3.40 in 2023, in line with analysts' estimates, and we have assigned an annual EPS growth rate of 5.0% for the next five years, reaching $4.34 by 2028. First Mid Bancshares's DPS had a nine-year and five-year CAGR of 7.7% and 16.8%, respectively. Moreover, the bank has consistently increased dividend distributions to shareholders in the past 12 years, and we expect it to continue this track.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Avg. P/E	13.1	11.3	11.8	12.9	16.6	15.0	11.9	10.2	14.3	8.9	7.7	11.0
Avg. Yld.	0.7%	0.7%	0.7%	0.6%	0.5%	0.4%	0.4%	0.4%	0.3%	0.5%	3.5%	2.3%

First Mid Bancshares is trading at a forward P/E of 7.7, lower than its nine-year and five-year average P/E of around 12.0. The suppressed multiple is justifiable considering the financial crisis SVB has spread, and if there is no contagion effect and FMBH remains intact, then we believe a P/E of 11.0 better reflects the bank's risk/reward profile, suggesting a target price of $48, and a 83% upside from current levels.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	27%	30%	33%	30%	31%	28%	26%	30%	30%	25%	27%	26%

The bank continued to maintain solid capital levels that were comfortably above the "well capitalized" criteria. Specifically, First Mid Bancshares achieved a "total capital to risk-weighted assets" of 15.20% for 2022, therefore the bank remains strong and well positioned if an economic downturn occurs. Lastly, the competition from community banks and brokerage houses has intensified for the company, but by offering wealth management options, the bank effectively kept the customer's cash inside the business but off the balance sheet.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Despite the rising concerns of a contagion effect in the banking sector, the recent plunge in the stock has adequately reflected the relevant risks, offering a wider margin of safety for investors and, therefore, less downside risk from current share price levels. Thus, the buy rating is premised upon the 15.2% annualized total returns for the medium term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 5.0% and 3.5% dividend yield.
