Overview & Current Events

AmerisourceBergen was formed in 2001, by the merger of AmeriSource and Bergen Brunswig. Today, AmerisourceBergen is one of the largest healthcare distributors in the U.S., along with Cardinal Health and McKesson. ABC provides pharmaceutical products and business solutions to a variety of customers, which include healthcare providers, veterinary practices, and livestock producers. ABC also services global manufacturers to improve supply chain efficiency. ABC generates annual revenue of $167 billion, with a presence in more than 50 countries around the world. More than 90% of ABC's revenue comes from its pharmaceutical segment.

On 11/6/18 the company announced financial results for the fourth fiscal quarter and fiscal 2018. For the quarter, revenue of $43.3 billion increased 11% and matched analyst expectations. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.45 beat estimates by $0.01 per share, and increased 9% from the same quarter a year ago. Revenue growth was attributable to an 11% increase in Pharmaceutical Distribution Services revenue. For the year, revenue and adjusted earnings-per-share each increased 10%. The company also announced a 5% dividend increase and a new $1 billion share repurchase.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

The pharmaceutical distribution industry is pressured today, with increasing demand for generics fueling drug price deflation in the U.S. In addition, there are fears of heightened competition from e-commerce giant Amazon, which is rumored to be considering entering the healthcare industry. Despite these headwinds, ABC continues to grow, partially thanks to the company's $815 million acquisition of H. D. Smith, the largest independent pharmaceutical wholesaler in the U.S. The acquisition is a positive growth catalyst for ABC, as it will strengthen the company's position in U.S. pharmaceutical distribution. In fiscal 2019, ABC expects to grow earnings-per-share by 5% at the midpoint of guidance. This is a modest growth rate, but still impressive given the challenges in pharmaceutical distribution right now. ABC is expected to grow earnings-per-share and dividends by 8% per year from fiscal 2019-2024.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2008	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	Now	2023
Avg. P/E	14.7	12.4	10.7	14.7	14.0	16.0	17.6	20.4	15.7	14.4	11.9	15.0

Even though ABC continues to generate strong results and expects steady earnings growth, the stock valuation continues to decline. The stock currently trades for a price-to-earnings ratio of 11.9, compared with over 20 as recently as 2015. As a result, the stock now trades well below our fair value estimate, which is a price-to-earnings ratio of 15. This is the average valuation multiple over the past 10 years. If the stock valuation returns to our estimate of fair value, it would provide a 4.7% boost to annual shareholder returns.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

In terms of safety, ABC scores very well. The company's level of debt has increased in relation to assets, and its interest coverage ratio has fallen in the past 10 years. However, its debt coverage is still more than sufficient, with plenty of financial flexibility to invest in growth and reward shareholders with dividends. With a dividend payout ratio below 25%, the company should have little trouble continuing to increase the dividend each year. ABC's main competitive advantage is its industry position. As one of the 'Big 3', ABC has a sizable economic moat that protects its market share. It is very difficult for a new competitor to enter the market. ABC sources over 1.5 million products delivered from over 30 distribution centers, which is a major competitive advantage over smaller companies.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

ABC's stock valuation has declined significantly in recent years, as the market has turned much more negative toward the major pharmaceutical distributors. However, we believe this is simply a matter of sentiment. The fundamentals are still strong. We expect 8% annual earnings growth for the company, as well as 4.7% annual returns from valuation changes. Adding the 2.0% dividend yield results in total expected returns of 14.7% per year over the next five years. This makes ABC a buy for both value investors and dividend growth investors.
