Overview & Current Events

Aon is a professional services firm headquartered in London, United Kingdom. The company provides a variety of services including consulting, risk management, and health plan management. Aon has approximately 500 offices worldwide that serve 120 countries through a workforce that numbers nearly 70,000. Domestic investors can initiate an ownership stake in Aon through American Depositary Receipts that trade with a market capitalization of $45 billion on the New York Stock Exchange, under the ticker AON. Aon should generate more than $11 billion in revenue this year.

Aon reported Q3 earnings on 10/25/19 and results were once again strong. Earnings-per-share came in at $1.45 on an adjusted basis, slightly beating expectations of $1.43, and up from $1.31 from the year-ago period.

Total revenue was up 1% year-over-year, but organic revenue was up a much more impressive 5%. Aon faced a -2% headwind from unfavorable currency translation and another -2% from divestitures, net of acquisitions.

Commercial risk solutions revenue was up 3% as organic revenue growth was 7%. Retirement solutions revenue declined -3% year-over-year as organic revenue growth was up 3%. Reinsurance revenue fell -1% but organic revenue growth was much stronger at 5%.

Adjusted operating margin was 22% of revenue against 18.5% a year ago. The company continues to expect mid-single-digit organic revenue growth, which should help drive more operating margin improvement. Aon bought back 1.8 million shares for $350 million. After the largely in-line quarter, we're reiterating $9.15 in earnings-per-share this year.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2024
EPS	$2.19	$2.46	$2.86	$2.99	$3.53	$4.66	$4.88	$5.16	$6.52	$8.16	$9.15	$14.74
DPS	$0.60	$0.60	$0.60	$0.62	$0.68	$0.92	$1.15	$1.29	$1.41	$1.56	$1.76	$3.10
Shares¹	266	332	325	311	301	280	270	262	254	245	239	230

Between 2009 and 2018, Aon compounded its adjusted earnings-per-share at a rate of 14% per year. Looking ahead, we believe that company's growth is likely to continue to be quite strong, albeit a bit slower than its historical pace. More specifically, we are forecasting 10% annualized earnings growth over a full economic cycle.

Management continues to be bullish, and rightfully so, as Aon's businesses are posting very strong rates of growth across the board. We see expense savings as a driver of earnings growth along with the buyback, and organic revenue growth should continue to move the top line higher as well. Given the broad assortment of professional services the company offers as well as its global footprint, we are bullish on Aon's future. We note forex translation was a sizable headwind yet again in Q3, but Aon has thus far been able to overcome that, and then some.

The dividend should continue to rise at roughly the rate of earnings, and we have the payout at $3.10 in 2024, up from the current $1.76. Aon is not a high-yield stock by any means, but its dividend growth potential is prodigious.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	Now	2024
Avg. P/E	17.9	16.3	16.9	16.8	19.2	18.6	19.8	20.4	20.1	17.9	21.1	17.0
Avg. Yld.	1.5%	1.5%	1.2%	1.2%	1.0%	1.1%	1.2%	1.2%	1.1%	1.1%	0.9%	1.2%

Aon has traded at an average price-to-earnings ratio of 18.4 over the last decade. We believe that this number is a bit higher than warranted given the expensive earnings multiple exhibited by the company between 2013 and 2017. Instead, we believe that fair value for Aon lies somewhere around 17 times earnings. The company is trading for a price-to-earnings ratio of 21.1 using our 2019 earnings-per-share estimate. Should the stock come back to 17 times earnings, this would cause a ~4% headwind annually for total returns. In addition, we see the yield growing slightly quicker than the share price, rising to 1.2% from the current 0.9%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	27%	24%	21%	21%	19%	20%	24%	25%	22%	19%	19%	21%

Aon's payout ratio is still very low, consistent with the company's historical practices, and we do not believe that will change. We see the dividend remaining around one-fifth of total earnings, so the payout is extremely safe. However, this means Aon is highly unlikely to have a meaningful yield anytime soon.

Aon was very resilient during the Great Recession and we expect that will be the case once more; the product of its very diversified revenue streams. This is also a competitive advantage for the firm, along with its world-class client list and reputation.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Aon's historical growth has been very impressive, and points to a well-managed business that operates at the edge of the financial services industry. We are forecasting 6.4% total annual returns, consisting of the 0.9% yield, 10% earnings-per-share growth, and a moderate headwind from the valuation. We are thus reiterating Aon as a hold. Aon offers dividend growth potential, but also a long runway for earnings-per-share growth. However, the current valuation has us more cautious on the stock than we have been in the past.
