Overview & Current Events

Founded in 1941 by Sid Jacobson, MSC Industrial Direct (MSM) is one the largest direct marketers and distributors of metalworking and maintenance, repair and operations (MRO) products in North America. The company has 12 fulfillment centers (8 in the U.S., 3 in Canada and 1 in the U.K.) and 99 branch offices. MSM is a $4.0 billion market cap company that employees over 6,500 people.

On January 8th, MSM reported first quarter results for fiscal 2020. Net sales for the quarter came in at $823.6 million, a 1% YoY decrease. Operating income of $90.3 million was down 11.0% from last year's $103 million. Diluted earnings per share was $1.18, an 11.3% drop from the $1.33 posted earlier. Excluding severance and separation, adjusted diluted EPS is $1.21. Net sales and earnings per share both came in-line and at the higher end of guidance provided at the end of last quarter. The board of directors approved a special dividend of $5.00 per share in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of $0.75 per share. This is the fourth special dividend since 2005.

Management has provided guidance for the second quarter of 2020 and is expecting between $781 million and $798 million in total net sales, 2.5% below last year's second quarter. Diluted earnings per share are expected to be between $0.97 and $1.03.

Progress on initiatives announced in 2019 are humming along as the company has been eliminating the bottlenecks in new business conversion, deepening their supplier partnerships to drive future profitability and market share gains, and begin to reshape and resize the organization.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2025
EPS	$2.37	$3.43	$4.11	$3.91	$3.94	$3.78	$3.76	$4.00	$5.10	$5.20	4.86	$6.50
DPS	$0.82	$0.88	$1.00	$1.20	$1.32	$1.60	$1.72	$1.80	$2.22	$2.76	3.00	$3.83
Shares³	63	63	63	63	62	62	57	56	56	56	55	50

Dating back to fiscal year 2008 (where EPS was $3.04 per share), MSM had grown earnings-per-share by a compound annual rate in the 5% to 6% range, and we rate this a fair expectation going forward. Unfortunately, softness in industrial demand continues to persist against the solid execution of the company. However, the company expects to increase prices at the end of the second quarter as they see continued supplier list price movement. The company still struggles to increase margins even after completing a stream of acquisitions and investments, and efforts to reduce headcount and other expenses. The company has implemented a three-part action plan to improve sales execution and new account implementations, increase profitability in supplier programs and further increase expense control and productivity, and they report it is going as planned. The emergence of Amazon is a threat; however, MSM's business is difficult to replicate and the company has thrived over the last several years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	Now	2025
Avg. P/E	20.2	18.2	17.2	19.9	21.7	20.1	18.0	21.5	17.0	14.6	14.6	15.0
Avg. Yld.	1.7%	1.4%	1.4%	1.5%	1.5%	2.1%	2.5%	2.1%	2.6%	3.3%	4.2%	3.9%

Over the past five years, shares of MSM have traded hands with an average P/E ratio of about 18.2 times earnings. We credit this premium multiple to three basic items: a solid and growing business, a conservative balance sheet and a large family stake. MSM is effectively a third-generation company (the founder's grandson is now CEO) with the family owning about a fourth of the economic interest of MSM and having majority of the voting power. Regardless, we have tempered this expectation due to the uncertainties hanging over the company and the trade environment of today.

It's also worthwhile to note that MSM paid a special dividend in 2005, 2011 and 2015 and now in 2020.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2025
Payout	35%	26%	24%	31%	34%	42%	46%	45%	44%	53%	62%	59%

MSM's competitive advantage stems from its superior scale and execution. The company has roughly 1.7 million SKUs and boasts of a 99% same day order fulfillment rate. It is true that Amazon is a formidable threat, but thus far MSM has been able to ward off attacks through its niche market relationships. A greater overall threat to the business is the possibility of American manufacturing, especially metalworking, moving overseas.

During the last recession MSM's performance was average, posting earnings-per-share of $3.04, $2.00, $2.37 and $3.43 for the fiscal years ending 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011 respectively. Earnings are likely to be cyclical in the future, but the overall trend has been largely positive. As of the last quarterly report, long-term debt stood at $267 million against underlying earnings power around $300 million. This company appears safe and conservatively financed.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

MSM is one of those companies that can easily slide under the radar unless you're directly involved in the supply chain. The general public doesn't see a strong brand fronting the business, so it can be difficult to conceptualize the company's competitive position. Yet due to MSM's scale, dependability and niche relationships the company has developed a consistent profit machine. Moreover, the business has growth opportunities as a highly fragmented industry consolidates to the larger players. Total returns going forward are estimated at 10.1%, which includes a 4.2% dividend and an expected 5.9% change in share price. While expected total returns exceed 10%, the stock lacks a margin of safety, so we rate MSC Industrial Direct a hold.
