Overview & Current Events

Sun Life Financial is a financial services company that offers insurances, wealth management, group benefits and retirement services. Sun Life Financial has divisions that operate in the US, in Canada, and in Asia. Sun Life Financial was founded in 1865, is headquartered in Toronto, Canada, and currently trades with a market capitalization of $29 billion. Sun Life Financial is a Canadian company that reports its results in Canadian Dollars. The numbers in this report have been converted to US$ unless noted otherwise.

Sun Life Financial reported its fourth quarter earnings results on February 12. Sun Life Financial increased its insurance sales to CAD$1.4 billion, which was 7% more than the company's insurance sales during the previous year's quarter. Wealth sales grew at an even more attractive pace, to CAD$45 billion, which was 25% more than during the previous year's quarter. This was primarily possible thanks to strong growth in Sun Life Financial's Asian and Canadian wealth businesses. Sun Life Financial's assets under management rose substantially, to CAD$1.1 trillion, up from $950 billion at the end of the previous year's quarter. Sun Life Financial completed the acquisition of BentallGreenOak during the quarter, which was a key factor for its growing assets under management.

Sun Life Financial generated underlying net profits of CAD$1.34 on a per-share basis during the fourth quarter, which equates to $1.01 once translated to USD. This beat the analyst consensus estimate slightly, and improves by 13% from the prior year's earnings-per-share of CAD$1.19. Sun Life Financial managed to generate an underlying return on equity of 15.0% during the fourth quarter, slightly more than the 13.6% ROE during the previous year's Q4.

Sun Life Financial reported compelling earnings growth between 2008 and 2019, as earnings-per-share grew by 14% annually in that time frame. The last financial crisis impacted Sun Life Financial considerably, as profits declined from 2007 to 2009. Unlike many of its peers, Sun Life Financial still managed to remain profitable during the last financial crisis. Sun Life's earnings-per-share have grown by 11% annually since 2013.

Looking ahead, Sun Life Financial will benefit from attractive market growth rates in the Asian markets it is active in. The company is pursuing additional customer growth in markets such as Hong Kong and the Philippines in the future, both for its insurance business, as well as for its wealth management business. Assets under management were down in 2018, but have started to rise again in 2019. Sun Life Financial has set targets for the medium-term, which include earnings-per-share growth of 8%-10% annually, an underlying return on equity of at least 12%-14%, and a dividend payout ratio of 40%-50%. The earnings-per-share growth rate target is slightly lower than the average since 2008, but would still be quite attractive. We are a bit more conservative, as we are forecasting an earnings-per-share growth rate of 7% going forward, which would still be a very solid growth pace for a company like Sun Life Financial.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	Now	2025
Avg. P/E	10.5	---	10.0	11.4	13.7	11.7	10.8	12.5	9.0	11.9	12.1	11.5
Avg. Yld.	4.9%	5.3%	6.3%	4.5%	3.7%	3.6%	3.7%	3.6%	4.5%	3.5%	3.3%	3.7%

Sun Life Financial has not traded at an overly high valuation throughout much of the last decade. More recently its valuation has expanded to a bit above 12 times this year's net profits, which is why we believe that shares are trading slightly above fair value today. Sun Life Financial's shareholders also get an above-average dividend yield of 3.3%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2025
Payout	51.7%	---	62.8%	51.7%	50.2%	42.5%	40.4%	44.7%	40.5%	41.2%	40.7%	42.7%

Sun Life Financial's earnings have seen some ups and downs, particularly during the last financial crisis. Indeed, the company was not able to generate net profits during 2011. This made the dividend payout ratio jump above 100% several times in the past, but the company has not cut its payout. It is not impossible that Sun Life Financial cuts its dividend during a future major financial crisis, though, as earnings would likely see a major hit once again.

Sun Life Financial is not the largest or most well-known asset manager, but it is the market leader in several categories. The company is well positioned in the US Group Benefits market, in the Canadian insurance and wealth solutions markets, and Sun Life Financial also holds a strong position in several higher-growth Asian markets. The last financial crisis hurt Sun Life Financial's bottom line tremendously, but at least the company remained profitable, unlike many of its peers. Less severe recessions will have a smaller impact on Sun Life Financial.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Through being active in two major markets - insurance and asset management - Sun Life Financial is a somewhat diversified financial corporation. Sun Life Financial generated compelling growth rates during the last decade, and management is ambitious regarding future earnings growth as well. We are slightly more conservative, but even under our estimates, Sun Life Financial would still produce compelling total returns going forward. Shares earn a hold rating at current prices, although investors should keep in mind that profits can be cyclical.
