Overview & Current Events

Until recently, Pentair was a diversified industrial conglomerate. The company recently spun off its Technical Solutions segment and now operates as a pure-play water solutions company that operates in 3 segments: Aquatic Systems, Filtration Solutions, and Flow Technologies. Pentair was founded in 1966. Pentair has increased its dividend for more than four decades in a row, when adjusted for spin-offs, which makes Pentair a member of the Dividend Aristocrats.

Pentair reported its second quarter earnings results on July 23. The company was able to generate revenues of $710 million during the quarter, which was 11% less than the company's revenues during the previous year's quarter, which still beat estimates easily. Core sales, which excludes the impact of currency rate movements, acquisitions, and disposessions, were down 10% year over year, which was not a big surprise, as the pandemic caused some manufacturing disruption during the quarter.

Pentair recorded earnings-per-share of $0.59 for the second quarter, which was down year over year due to the headwinds from the pandemic. Pentair's earnings-per-share still beat the analyst consensus by $0.10. Pentair has issued its new guidance for 2020, as management sees coronavirus headwinds waning over the second half of the year. The company forecasts adjusted earnings-per-share in a range of $2.00 to $2.20. We calculate fair value using an earnings power estimate of $2.40 per share for 2020.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2025
EPS	$2.00	$2.41	$2.39	$3.21	$3.14	$3.94	$2.47	$3.53	$2.35	$2.38	$2.10	$3.29
DPS	$0.76	$0.80	$0.88	$0.96	$1.10	$1.28	$1.34	$1.38	$0.70	$0.72	$0.76	$1.02
Shares³	98	99	206	197	183	181	182	180	177	169	160	145

At first look the results in the above table do not look overly promising, as 2020's earnings-per-share will be below the company's earnings-per-share from 2011. Earnings-per-share results during 2018 and the following years are impacted by the spin-off of nVent though, as the results of Pentair's former technical solutions segment are not included in the company's reported results any longer. Between 2008 and 2017 (before the nVent spin-off) Pentair grew its earnings-per-share by 5.5% annually. Adjusted for the impact of the last financial crisis - an unusually harsh recession which made Pentair's earnings-per-share decline by slightly more than 30% between 2008 and 2009 - Pentair's long-term earnings-per-share growth rate would have been even higher.

Pentair's management believes that a long-term earnings-per-share growth rate of 10% is possible, but we are a bit more conservative. It is, we believe, realistic to expect a 6%-7% earnings-per-share growth rate from Pentair over the coming years. The company should be able to achieve this growth through a combination of rising revenues, which will be possible thanks to organic growth and acquisitions, and through tailwinds from margin expansion and share repurchases, which will lead to further declines in Pentair's share count.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	Now	2025
Avg. P/E	16.8	15.2	17.6	18.7	22.9	15.2	22.9	18.3	16.2	19.3	17.5	18.0
Avg. Yld.	2.3%	2.2%	2.1%	1.6%	1.5%	2.1%	2.4%	2.1%	1.8%	1.6%	1.8%	1.7%

Pentair's valuation has moved in a relatively tight range throughout most of the last decade, and shares did not become significantly more expensive during the recovery from the last financial crisis, relative to the profits that Pentair generated. Shares are trading marginally below the long-term median right now, using our earnings power estimate that is higher than this year's expected reported profits. We see shares as relatively fairly valued right here.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2025
Payout	38.0%	33.2%	36.8%	29.9%	35.0%	32.5%	54.3%	39.1%	29.8%	30.3%	31.7%	30.9%

Pentair's dividend has grown consistently for decades, including during the last ten years, but the company cut its dividend in half when it spun off nVent. When we adjust for the spin-off of nVent, Pentair's dividend growth track record remains intact. The payout ratio is not very high, which makes us believe that the dividend looks quite safe. Even an earnings decline such as the one during the last financial crisis would most likely not result in a dividend cut.

Above-average operating efficiency is one of Pentair's advantages over peers. The company employs a strategy called the Pentair Integrated Management System which has allowed its organizational structure to remain lean, and which has allowed the company to grow its already strong margins in the past. Pentair is a leader in the niche markets it targets, and through tuck-in acquisitions, Pentair can grow its size and scale further.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following the spin-off of other businesses, Pentair has become a pure-play water company that is a leader in its industry. Pentair plans to consolidate the space further by making tuck-in acquisitions whenever it sees a compelling target. We believe that Pentair should be able to grow its earnings-per-share at a solid pace in the long run, but management's forecasts of 10%+ growth seem a bit aggressive. In 2020, profits will decline due to the coronavirus impact, but over the next five years we still forecast attractive returns, which is why we rate Pentair a buy.
