Overview & Current Events

Archer-Daniels-Midland is the largest publicly traded farmland product company in the United States. The company, which was founded in 1902, trades with a market capitalization of $29.5 billion. Archer-Daniels-Midland's businesses include the processing of cereal grains and oilseeds and agricultural storage and transportation.

Archer-Daniels-Midland reported its fourth-quarter and Full Year (FY)2020 earnings results on January 26, 2021. The company reported Adjusted earnings per share of $1.21 vs. $1.42 in 4Q19, which decrease (14.8)% Year over Year (YoY). EPS has grown 10.8% from $3.24 for FY2019 to now $3.59 per share for the full year. Revenues were up by 10.1%, from $16,329 million in the fourth quarter in 2019 to $17,978 million this quarter. For the year over year, total revenue slightly down (0.5)%. Net income saw an increased growth from $1,379 million to $1,772 million, or a 28% growth for the full year compared to the 2019 year. This increase results from other income, which includes gains from the sale of certain assets in the quarter. ADM has not been severely affected by the COVID-19 Shutdown as the company is considered an essential business.

The management team is excited about its future outlook as it expects that the first quarter will be another strong quarter, and the positive momentum will continue through 2021. They also expect strong growth in segment operating profit and another record year of EPS in 2021.

The Nutrition segment delivered its sixth consecutive quarter of 20+ percent YoY profit growth. The segment saw an increase of 37% of operating profit growth YoY. The Nutrition businesses include flavors, specialty ingredients, and health & wellness. The Ag Services and Oilseeds saw growth of 4.6% from $1,935 million to $2,105 million YOY.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Compared to many other dividend stocks that have successfully grown their earnings-per-share for many years in a row, Archer-Daniels-Midland has had a hard time increasing its profits over the last decade. EPS in 2012 and 2013 was much lower than in 2011. We expect better growth with the new acquisition of Ziegler Group and the nutrition flavor research and customer center opening. Thus, we believe that the rate of growth of around 4.0% is feasible for moving forward.

The business is very resistant to recessions, as people have to eat even during an economic downturn. On the other hand, Archer-Daniels-Midland does not profit from economic expansion, as the amount of food sold does not rise quickly during good times. Thus, a strong economy is not a significant tailwind for Archer-Daniels-Midland, unlike for many other companies, which profit substantially from higher consumer spending.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	10.3	13.1	17.6	13.5	15.4	18.8	20.1	14.30	17.10	14.80	13.9	15.0
Avg. Yld.	1.9%	2.3%	2.8%	2.1%	2.4%	3.0%	3.0%	2.9%	3.1%	3.3%	2.8%	2.5%

Archer-Daniels-Midland has been valued at a price to earnings multiple of 15.5 over the last decade. Even though its price to earnings multiple has been as low as 9.5 and as high as 20.1. Now, shares look slightly undervalued with a current PE of 13.9 based on 2021 expected earnings of $3.83, which has increased from the last report. Also, investors get an above-average dividend yield of 2.8% at current prices compared to the S&P current dividend yield of 1.55%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	20.3%	30.7%	32.6%	30.0%	43.9%	55.6%	60.1%	38.3%	53.2%	40.1%	39%	37%

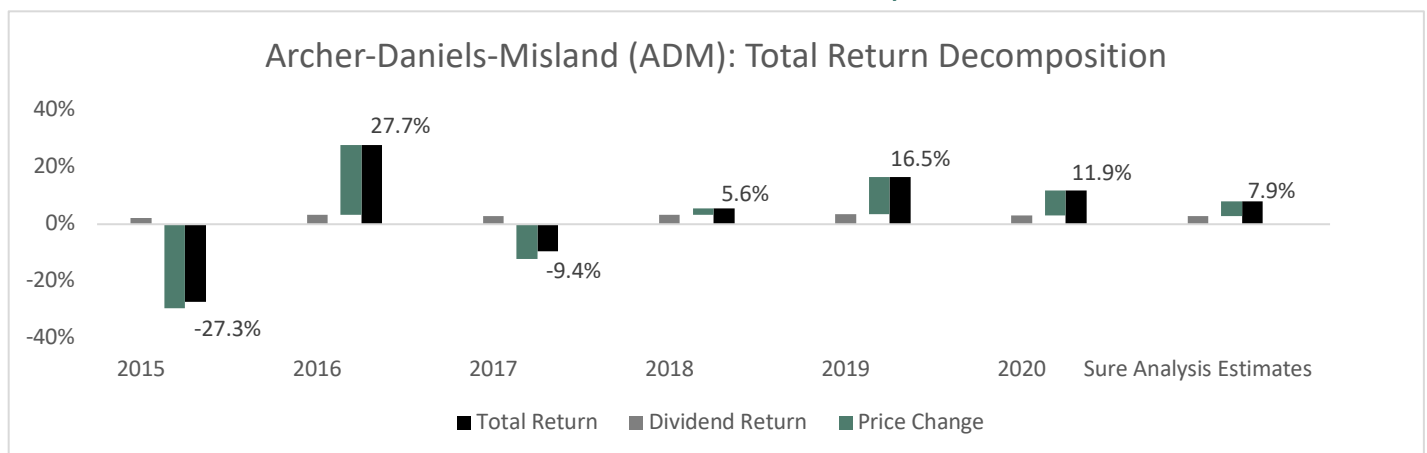

Archer-Daniels-Midland's dividend payout ratio rose substantially between 2009 and 2017, but that was when the payout ratio peaked at the 60% level in 2017. Thanks to 2018's strong earnings-per-share growth, the dividend payout ratio declined considerably, to 38% in 2018. The dividend payout ratio is not high, at only 39% based on 2021 earnings. Also, because the company's profits performed well during the last recession, which saw earnings grow from $2.84 in 2008 to $3.06 in 2009, we believe that the dividend is relatively safe.

Archer-Daniels-Midland's business is recession resilient since the demand for food products is not cyclical. Archer-Daniels-Midland is one of the most significant players in its industry and has competitive advantages due to its scale and geographical reach. The company has been increasing its dividend for 46 consecutive years, and it has a 5-year dividend growth rate of 4.3%. Archer-Daniels-Midland looks like a low-risk investment due to its recession resilience, solid balance sheet, geographic diversification, and dividend history. However, note that the company balance sheet Debt/Equity ratio increased from 0.40 in FY2019 to 0.43 in this quarterly report. This is higher than the past five-year average but not at a dangerous level for the company.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

We expect Archer-Daniels-Midland to grow earnings at ~4.0% annually. Investors get an above-average dividend yield and a price fairly valued at its fair price of $57. The total return outlook is modest 7.9% annually for the next five years. We recommend that this company is a Hold at the current price because of the low expected returns.
