Overview & Current Events

Community Bank System was formed in 1983 and since that time, it has expanded to become a diversified financial services company with more than 200 locations in the northeastern U.S. Its principal business is community banking, but it also owns a large benefits administration business, in addition to offering a variety of insurance products. Its market capitalization is $4.2 billion, and it produces about $600 million in annual revenue.

Community Bank System reported first quarter earnings on April 26th, 2021, with results coming in ahead of expectations for earnings, but light for revenue. Total revenue was $153 million, up 2.6% year-over-year. The increase was due to higher net interest income, as well as higher employee benefit services revenue and wealth management revenue. These were offset partially by deposit service and other banking fees, as well as lower mortgage banking income. Net interest income was $94 million, up from $90 million in the year-ago period. The bank saw a large increase in average earning assets, but net interest margin declined sharply, losing 62 basis points.

The company saw a provision for credit losses of -$5.7 million in Q1, down sharply from $5.6 million in the year-ago period. Management released provisions that were taken in 2020 as credit conditions were nowhere near as poor as originally feared.

Earnings came to $53 million, or 97 cents per share in Q1. That compares to $40 million, or 76 cents per share in the same period last year. The provision release was the primary source of earnings growth in Q1. We've boosted our estimate for this year to $3.40 per share as a result of this, but we note that 2021 could be the peak in earnings for the foreseeable future.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Earnings-per-share have been fairly volatile in the past decade but in recent years, growth has been steadier. We see that continuing as the bank is focused on profitable growth, but we forecast -2% earnings-per-share growth annually. We are still cautious given interest rate headwinds present for the entire banking industry, which Community Bank System is suffering from as well. With few levers to pull to boost earnings growth, we think the bank will have a difficult time in the coming years from a very high base of earnings. We see 2021's earnings as the top for the years to come, as the boost in earnings from loan loss provision releases won't reoccur.

Community Bank System continues to see earnings tailwinds from very low deposit funding costs and organic revenue growth, as well as a constant flow of acquisitions. Growth-by-acquisition is generally tough in the financial services industry, but Community Bank System has proven adept at executing this strategy over time, and this should be the primary growth driver going forward. Community Bank System is performing well, but its lending margins are already strong, so we think the very flat yield curve will see it struggle to continue to boost those margins. However, credit quality remains favorable. Even so, headwinds are strong and out of the bank's control to a large extent.

Dividend growth has been moderate, but management appears to be willing to pay out half of earnings or more on the dividend. We see modest dividend growth ahead given the lack of earnings growth.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	12.4	14.3	9.6	16.5	17.0	18.9	17.8	18.3	19.5	18.5	22.9	16.0
Avg. Yld.	4.0%	3.8%	3.4%	3.2%	3.3%	2.9%	2.5%	2.4%	2.5%	2.8%	2.2%	3.6%

Community Bank System's price-to-earnings multiple has moved around significantly in the past decade as its fortunes have improved and deteriorated. However, recent years have seen investors pay much more for the stock, a situation that has left it trading in excess of our estimate of fair value. We are forecasting a massive annual headwind to total returns in the coming years from a valuation reset. Given the outlook for near-term growth, we see the valuation as a key risk to shareholders as shares are as expensive today as they have been at any point in the past decade, now sitting at 143% of our estimate of fair value.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	47%	53%	32%	51%	54%	53%	53%	45%	48%	51%	49%	58%

We see the payout ratio rising but remaining below 60%. The bank's impressive dividend streak appears to be safe at this point and we see many more years of increases coming, even if a recession strikes. Growth rates should be low.

Community Bank System's competitive advantage is in its dominant market position in many of its service areas. It competes in areas that have sparse levels of competition and thus the company is able to hold strong market share in those locations, with many at or above a third of total market deposits. That does not make it immune to recessions, but its strong performance means it can be an acquirer during downturns, softening the blow of economic weakness.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Overall, Community Bank faces a tough road ahead, and the stock is trading well in excess of our estimate of fair value. We see total annual returns of -5.8%, and we are reiterating Community Bank System at a sell rating principally due to the excessively high valuation.
