Overview & Current Events

PPG Industries is the world's largest paints and coatings company. Its only competitors of similar size are Sherwin-Williams and Dutch paint company Akzo Nobel. PPG Industries was founded in 1883 as a manufacturer and distributor of glass (its name stands for Pittsburgh Plate Glass) and today has approximately 3,500 technical employees located in more than 70 countries at 100 locations. With 49 years of consecutive dividend increases, PPG Industries is a member of the Dividend Aristocrats Index and trades on the New York Stock Exchange. The company generates annual revenues of more than $16 billion.

PPG Industries reported first quarter results on 4/15/2021. Revenue grew 14.9% to $3.9 billion, topping estimates by $202 million. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.88 was an 58% improvement from the prior year and $0.33 ahead of estimates. Net sales and adjusted earnings-per-share were both quarterly records.

Following a year where COVID-19 greatly weighed on results, PPG Industries had 7% volume growth in the first quarter. Performance Coatings revenue grew 16% to $2.3 billion. This improvement was due to a 5% growth in volumes, a 2% increase in pricing, a 5% contribution from acquisitions and a 4% tailwind from currency exchange. Architectural coatings in the EMEA region were a source of strength once again, growing 20% year-over-year to continued higher demand in residential renovations. U.S. professional and do-it-yourself channels remain strong. Aerospace remains weak, with volumes declining 30%, but leadership stated that this business should improve in the back half of 2021. The Industrial Coatings segment grew 14% to $1.6 billion due to gains in automotive and general industrial coatings. Packaging coatings improved 10%. Analysts now expect that the company will earn $7.47 in 2021, up from $6.98 previously.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

PPG Industries' earnings-per-share have a growth rate of 5.8% over the last decade. We expect earnings-per-share to grow at a rate of 8% through 2026, up from our prior estimate of 7%. PPG Industries' demand dropped significantly due to the impact of COVID-19 in 2020. However, we expect the recovery from the pandemic to offer a higher rate of growth for the company.

PPG Industries increased its dividend by 5.9% for the 9/11/2020 payment. This gives the company 49 consecutive years of dividend growth. We expect dividends to grow at a rate similar to earnings-per-share going forward.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	12.3	17.5	19.0	24.7	20.9	31.1	17.1	19.8	22.2	25.3	22.4	19.0
Avg. Yld.	2.7%	2.2%	1.5%	1.3%	1.3%	1.5%	1.6%	1.9%	1.5%	1.5%	1.3%	1.5%

Shares of PPG Industries have increased $28, or 20%, since our 1/22/2021 update. The stock has traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of 21 over the last decade. We have increased our target price-to-earnings ratio to 19 from 17 to better reflect the average valuation over the last decade. Shares are currently priced at 22.4 times expected 2021 earnings-per-share. If the company's valuation were to revert to our target over the next five years, this would be a 3.2% headwind to annual returns during this time period.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2026
Payout	33%	39%	29%	32%	28%	48%	27%	32%	33%	37%	29%	29%

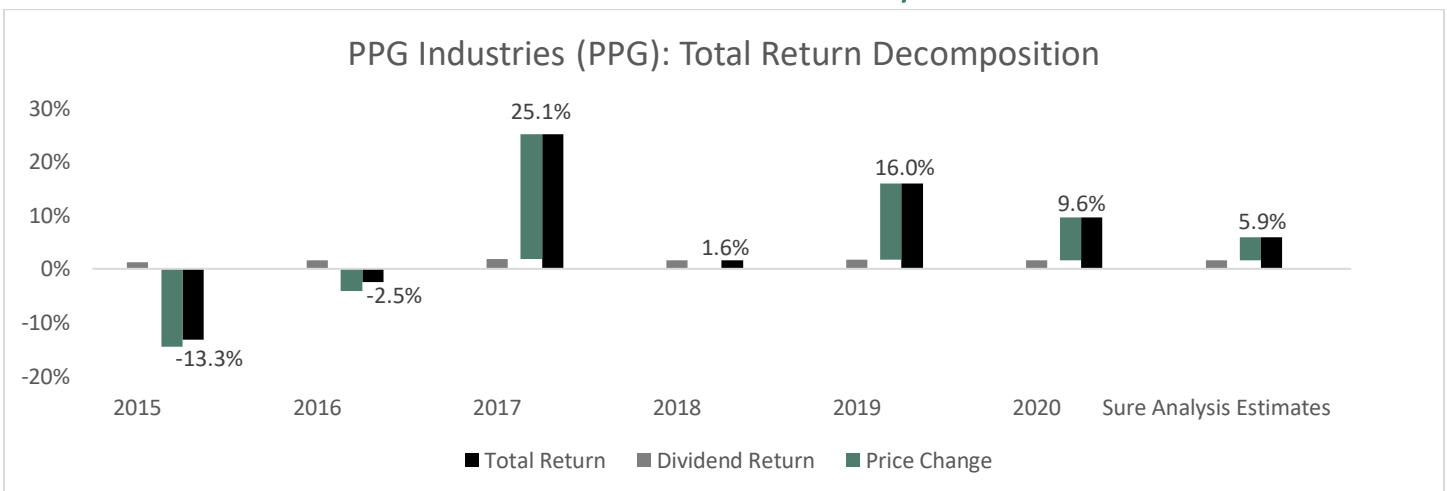

Even after nearly 50 years of dividend growth, PPG Industries has a very low payout ratio. The only time the company's dividend payout ratio was above 50% for the year in the last decade was 2009. The average payout ratio since then is just 35%, which is below our projected levels for the current year.

PPG Industries' key advantage is that it is one of the most well-known and respected companies in the paints and coatings space. The company is also one of just three similarly-sized companies in this industry, which limits PPG Industries' competitors. This gives PPG Industries size and scale and the ability to increase prices. This has been reflected in the company's ability to increase product prices in order to offset volume declines.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following first quarter results, PPG Industries is expected to offer a total annual return of 5.9% through 2026, down slightly from our previous estimate of 6.2%. Earnings growth of 8% and a 1.3% yield are expected to be offset by a slight headwind from valuation reversion over the next half-decade. PPG Industries demonstrated a rebound in multiple business areas during the first quarter, a trend we expect to continue for the remainder of the year. Aerospace is still weak, but should improve by year's end. We have raised our 2026 price target $35 to $209 due to expected EPS for the year and a higher valuation target. We continue to view PPG Industries as a hold due to projected returns.
