Overview & Current Events

Brady Corporation was founded in 1914, generates annual revenue in excess of $1.1 billion, and has a $2.9 billion market capitalization. It manufactures and markets specialty materials. The company operates two segments: Identification Solutions and Workplace Safety. Its product lines include absorbents, labels, pipes and valves, signs, tags, tapes, and printers.

On 5/20/2021, Brady Corporation announced earnings results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2021. The company's earnings-per-share of $0.71 was a 51% improvement from the prior year and $0.04 better than expected. Revenue of $295.5 million represented growth of 11.1% and was $18 million ahead of estimates. Organic sales returned to growth, improving 6.5% from the prior year. Foreign currency exchange added 4.6% to results.

By segment, Identification Solutions had almost 10% organic growth, with a small tailwind from currency exchange. Workplace Safety remains challenged due to the pandemic as organic sales were lower by 2.2%. This segment did benefit from a weaker U.S. dollar as currency exchanged contributed 8.6% to results. Segment profit margin improved 270 basis points to 18%.

Brady Corporation offered revised guidance as well, increasing its expected earnings-per-share to a range of $2.58 to $2.68 for the fiscal year, up from $2.48 to $2.58 previously.

Shares¹	53.1	51.6	52.1	51.3	51.3	50.5	51.4	52	50	52	52	49

Brady Corporation grew earnings per share at a rate of just 0.7% annually over the last decade, but reached 11% for the past five years. Due to a lower tax rate and cost efficiencies, we expect earnings growth of at least 5% through 2026.

Brady increased its dividend by 1.1% for the 10/30/2020 payment. This makes 35 consecutive years of annual dividend growth. The most recent increase is below the five-year average increase of 2%. We expect that dividends will continue to be raised by a very modest amounts going forward.

result, the stock appears slightly overvalued. If the stock returns to our estimate of fair value by fiscal 2026, valuation would be a 1.9% headwind to annual returns over this period of time.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	33%	69%	39%	50%	63%	52%	45%	39%	35%	38%	33%	29%

Brady Corporation has a secure dividend with a payout ratio below 40%. This leaves room for the company to continue to invest in growth initiatives, while also raising its dividend payout each year. Brady Corporation also has a consistently profitable business model in most cycles. This is due to the company's durable competitive advantages. It maintains a leadership position in both of its main product categories through sufficient research and development investment. Investors should note that while the company did remain profitable during the Great Recession, it nevertheless experienced a significant reduction in earnings-per-share. The company would likely see earnings decline if another recession were to occur, but we would expect Brady to continue paying its dividend.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following third quarter results, Brady Corporation is now projected to return 4.5% annually through fiscal 2026, down slightly from our prior estimate of 4.7%. This estimated return stems from a 5% earnings growth rate and 1.6% dividend yield offset by a slight headwind from multiple expansion. The company's segments demonstrated mixed results in terms of organic growth, but currency exchange was a benefit to both ID Solutions and Workplace Safety. A likely successful economic reopen would aid the latter's business. We have raised our five-year price target $4 to $64 to reflect updated guidance and our higher earnings multiple target. However, we maintain our hold rating on Brady Corporation due to projected results.
