Overview & Current Events

Cisco Systems is the global leader in high performance computer networking systems. The company's routers and switches allow networks around the world to connect to each other through the internet. Cisco also offers data center, cloud, and security products. The company went public on 2/16/1990 at the split adjusted price of $0.06. Today, Cisco employs more than 77,000 people and generates about $49 billion in annual revenues.

Cisco reported earnings results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2021 on 5/19/2021. Revenue grew 6.8% to $12.8 billion, beating estimates by $230 million. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $0.83 was $0.01 better than expected and a 5% improvement compared to the prior year. Infrastructure Platforms, which is the largest segment within Cisco, returned to growth as revenue grew 6%. Demand for the Catalyst 9K remains robust. Services sales grew 8% due to strength in software revenue. Software subscriptions accounted for 81% of total software revenue, an increase of 5% from the previous year. Applications also returned to growth, with revenue improving 5%. Security added another quarter of double-digit growth, growing 13% year-over-year. By region, the Americas improved 2%, EMEA was higher by 11% and Asia-Pacific/Japan/China was up 19%. All regions posted their best quarter of the fiscal year. Total gross margins contracted 100 basis points to 63.9%. Deferred revenue grew 12% to $20.9 billion. Cisco repurchased 10 million shares at an average price of $48.71. Cisco has $8.7 billion, or 4.1% of its current market cap, remaining on its share repurchase authorization. The company also distributed $1.6 billion of dividends during the quarter.

Cisco expects fourth quarter of fiscal year 2021 adjusted earnings-per-share of $0.81 to $0.83. Revenue is expected to grow 6% to 8% from the prior year. Analysts expect adjusted EPS of $3.22 for fiscal year 2021, up from $3.21 previously.

Between 2011 and 2020, Cisco's earnings increased at a rate of 7.9% per year. We reaffirm our expected growth rate of 6% due to a combination of improving margins and share repurchases offset by revenue weakness.

Following a 2.8% increase for the 4/28/2021 payment, Cisco has increased its dividend for 11 consecutive years. For much of this time, shareholders have seen impressive dividend growth since the company instituted its dividend, though growth has slowed considerably over the past few years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	11.9	9.7	10.3	11.3	12.3	11.5	13.3	15.1	16.1	15.5	15.8	15.0
Avg. Yld.	0.6%	1.6%	3.0%	3.1%	2.9%	3.5%	3.5%	3.2%	2.7%	2.8%	2.9%	3.1%

Shares of Cisco have increased $4, or 8%, since our 2/12/2021 update. The 2009-2010 time frame saw shares of Cisco trade with a well above average price-to-earnings multiple. Over the last decade, shares have traded with an average P/E of 12.7. Given the company's growth in subscription services in recent quarters and large cash balance, we maintain our target P/E of 15 for fiscal 2026. If Cisco's stock was to revert to our target multiple by 2026, then valuation would reduce annual returns by 1.1% over this time period.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	7%	15%	30%	35%	36%	40%	46%	51%	45%	45%	46%	46%

Cisco ended the third quarter of fiscal 2021 with $23.6 billion in cash and equivalents. Given the cash on the balance sheet, it is likely that Cisco would be able to continue to pay a dividend even in the event of an extended recession.

With everything from computers to cell phones to buildings connected today, Cisco is in a prime position to capitalize on the Internet of Things. In fact, Cisco is responsible for 80% of all the data moved over the internet in the past 30 years. While Cisco continues to enjoy hardware dominance, the company is attempting to become more of a subscription services company. This should help create more predictable revenue streams. One such example of this effort is the Catalyst 9K switch. This switch is twice as fast as competing products and protects data and cloud networks.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Cisco Systems is projected to return 7.6% annually over the next five years, down from our prior estimate of 9.3%. Our estimated return stems from a 6% earnings growth rate and 2.9% dividend yield offset by a slight headwind from multiple reversion. Cisco continues to see a return to growth in its business, with all segments and regions demonstrating growth year-over-year. The declining gross margin is an issue to watch going forward, but we feel Cisco is well positioned in its industry and has an enviable cash position on its balance sheet. Investors looking for a combination of income and growth might find Cisco attractive, but we would wait for pullback before buying shares of the company.
