Overview & Current Events

The Fox Corp. is a television broadcasting company with a $$ 23.8$ billion market cap. The Company, known among insiders as "New Fox," was spun off from the former 21st Century Fox when The Walt Disney Co. (DIS) acquired most of that Company's assets in 2019, including its cinema entertainment business. Since the spinoff, Fox Corp. has been a much more focused company, with its operations centered on Cable Networks & Television. For Fiscal Year (FY)2020, the Company generated $$ 12.3$ billion in revenue.
On May 5th, 2021, Fox Corp. reported first-quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2021. The Company reported total quarterly revenues of $$ 3.22$ billion, a (6.4)\% decrease from the $$ 3.44$ billion reported in the prior-year quarter. The report mentions that the decline in revenue was due to the absence of the prior year broadcast of Super Bowl LIV. Fox Corp saw a significant increase in net income for the quarter, which was primarily due to the change in fair value of the Company's investments. FOX Corp made a quarterly profit of $$ 582$ million compared to the $$ 90$ million reported in the prior-year quarter. This represents an increase of 547\% year over year. Affiliate revenues increased 10\%, with $18 \%$ growth in the Television segment and 6\% growth at the Cable Network Programming segment. Advertising revenues were down $$ 0.37$ million compared to 1Q20. On a per-share basis, Fox Corp made $$ 0.96$ per share for the quarter, an increase of $638 \%$ compared to the first quarter of FY2020, where the Company earned $$ 0.13$ per share.

In the last report, we expected that Fox Corp. would make $$ 2.46$ per share in earnings for the entire year of 2021. However, we are now increasing this outlook to $$ 2.79$ per share for the whole year because of the first-quarter results. This is an increase of $13.4 \%$. We will use $$ 2.79$ per share as our fair value and total return calculation.

Fox Corp. is a more focused company following the asset sale. Fox News, Fox Business, Fox Sports, Fox Broadcasting, and other TV assets will remain highly relevant. It helps that Fox News has no mainstream competition in the conservative news arena. The assets that Fox retained are not very cyclical or vulnerable to recessions, compared to, for example, the more cyclical filmed entertainment business. The past year saw earnings growth of (6)\%. However, we expect a positive earnings growth of $5 \%$ for the next five years. The Company pays a dividend semiannually, and since the Company has just started paying out, we do not know if they will be growing dividends constantly. Thus, we have a dividend growth rate of $0 \%$ for now.
Currently, Fox's most significant growth prospects are with FOX Bet. Analysts expect the sports betting industry to generate $$ 9$ billion in gambling revenue over the next few years. Fox Corp. is in an excellent position to grab a chunk of that. In the immediate term, Fox should see growth as more and more events and businesses start to be fully operational, bringing improved ratings to its news network.

Valuation Analysis

| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Avg. P/E | --- | --- | --- | --- | --- | --- | --- | --- | 14.4 | 16.4 | 13.3 |
| Avg. YId. | --- | -- | -- | --- | -- | -- | -- | -- | $0.6 \%$ | $1.7 \%$ | $1.2 \%$ |

The Company was valued with a PE of about 15.4 for the past few years. However, we think that a 15 x valuation is fair for this Company. Currently, The Company is trading hands for a PE multiple of 13.3. This PE provides a moderate valuation multiple expansion of $2.4 \%$, and The Company is under our fair price of $$ 42$. The Company dividend yield is also very unattractive considering that the S&P 500 current dividend yield is $1.38 \%$.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Payout | --- | --- | --- | --- | -- | --- | -- | --- | $8.7 \%$ | $18.5 \%$ | $16 \%$ |

21st Century Fox paid out $\sim 20 \%$ of its net profits in the form of dividends throughout most of the last decade. The payout ratio has been even lower during some of the previous years. Fox Corp. paid $18.5 \%$ of its profits in 2020 , with an estimated 2026 payout conservatively around $18 \%$. The low payout ratio means that the dividend looks very safe, although the low dividend yield is not especially attractive for income-focused investors.

Fox Corp.'s most influential position, relative to peers, has always been in its news channels and sports programming assets The Company continues to own after the deal with Disney. The sale of some assets could improve Fox's position in the long run, as it allows The Company to focus on the businesses it is best at, Cable & TV broadcasting. The TV business is not very cyclical, so Fox Corp. will likely be less vulnerable in future recessions. The Company currently has a debt to equity ratio of 0.8 and an Interest Coverage ratio of 8 . Thus, The Company has an excellent balance sheet.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Fox kicked off 2021 with spectacular viewership numbers for the election. The year should only get better for the network as advertising continues to grow and more sporting events start again. Also, the growth of sports betting is a massive win for the company as well. Based on our estimates, shares are currently slightly undervalued. We estimate the following five-year projected returns to be only 8.4\%. Thus, we rate FOXA a Hold at the current price.
