Overview & Current Events

Becton, Dickinson & Co., or BD, is a global leader in the medical supply industry. The company was founded in 1897 and has 72,000 employees across 190 countries. The company generates about $20 billion in annual revenue, with approximately 43% of revenues coming from outside of the U.S. BD is composed of three segments. Products sold by the Medical Division include needles for drug delivery systems, and surgical blades. The Life Sciences division provides products for the collection and transportation of diagnostic specimens. The Intervention segment includes several of the products produced by what used to be Bard.

On 8/5/2021, BD released earnings results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2021 (the company's fiscal year ends September 30th). Revenue grew nearly 27% to $4.9 billion, beating estimates by $380 million. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $2.74 compared favorably to adjusted earnings-per-share of $2.20 in the prior year and was $0.30 better than expected.

All results are listed on a currency neutral basis. COVID-19 diagnostic revenues totaled $300 million and contributed 8% of the year-over-year growth. The Medical segment improved 7.7% to $2.4 billion, which continues to be driven by the Medication Delivery Solutions business. COVID-19 acuity care remains a tailwind to results. Life Science was up 43.4% to $1.4 billion. Excluding COVID-19 testing revenues, this segment was higher by 26.8%. Integrated Diagnostic Solutions was higher by 49% related to demand for specimen collection and transport and testing equipment. Interventional increased 34.6% to $1.1 billion. Growth was primarily attributed to strength in Surgery, though Peripheral Intervention remains strong as well. Each region once again showed growth. The U.S. grew 57%, international markets were up 43%, emerging markets were higher by 14%, Europe increased 20% and China improved 6%. BD gave further clarity regarding its planned spinoff of its Diabetes business ($1.1 billion in revenue in FY 2020), which is most likely to take place in the first half of calendar year 2022.

BD offered revised guidance for fiscal year 2021. The company expects revenue to grow 16.5% to 17%, up from 12% to 14% previously, and adjusted earnings-per-share is projected to be in a range of $12.85 to $12.95, up from $12.75 to $12.85 earlier. We have updated our estimates accordingly.

BD has increased earnings-per-share 6.8% per year over the past 10 years, and has grown earnings in 7 out of the last 10 years. We feel that BD can grow earnings at a rate of 10% per year through fiscal 2026 due to a combination of mid-single-digit organic sales growth, revenue gains due to Bard, and a lower projected tax rate.

BD has increased dividends for 49 years, putting it one year shy of achieving Dividend King status. The company raised its dividend by 5.1% for the 12/31/2020 payment, which was considerably higher than the last three annual increases.

While this is well below the long-term average, investors should know that the Bard acquisition is the largest in BD's history and that 70% of the purchase price was paid for in cash. We believe that the company's dividend growth rate will eventually be more in line with its historical average once BD's cash position improves. BD has a low payout ratio allowing for plenty of room for additional increases in the future.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	14.5	14.1	15.6	18.1	19.5	18.4	19.4	20.8	20.8	24.7	18.5	18.6
Avg. Yld.	2.0%	2.4%	2.2%	1.9%	1.7%	1.7%	1.7%	1.3%	1.3%	1.3%	1.4%	1.4%

BD's stock is little changed since our 5/10/2021 report. Based on estimates for fiscal 2021, BD's stock currently has a price-to-earnings ratio of 18.5. Our target price-to-earnings ratio for fiscal year 2026 is 18.6, which matches the stock's 10-year average earnings multiple. We estimate that valuation changes will have a negligible impact on annual returns going forward. BD's current yield of 1.4% is low by historical standards.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	29%	34%	34%	35%	34%	31%	31%	27%	26%	31%	26%	26%

BD showed that it can perform well in less than ideal economic conditions during the last recession. The company's key competitive advantage is that its products are in high demand as medical devices and other healthcare products are still sought out during a recession. People will seek medical care regardless of how the economy is performing. This ability to grow or maintain earnings in any economic climate makes BD a quality company and a safe stock. The acquisition of Bard has added to both the top and bottom lines going and increases the company's exposure to China.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Becton, Dickinson & Co. is expected to offer a total return of 11.3% annually over the next five years, up slightly from 11.2% previously. This is due to a 10% expected earnings growth rate, a 1.4% dividend yield and a small contribution from valuation expansion. COVID-19 continues to positively impact results, though less so than in prior quarters. Even without this benefit, BD's other businesses performed very well. The stock's yield is low, but the dividend growth history is one of the longest in the market. We have increased our five-year price target $3 to $386 due to EPS estimates for the fiscal year. We continue to rate shares of BD as a buy.
