Overview & Current Events

Restaurant Brands International is one of the world's largest owner-operators of quick service restaurants (hence its stock ticker, QSR). The company was founded in 2014 by the $12.5 billion merger between American fast food restaurant chain Burger King and Canadian coffee shop and restaurant Tim Horton's. Later, Restaurant Brands International expanded its franchise portfolio with the 2017 acquisition of American fast food chain Popeye's Louisiana Kitchen. At the end of the most recent reporting period, Restaurant Brands International had the following restaurant counts at each of its three franchises: Tim Horton's, 5,065; Burger King, 18,776; Popeye's Louisiana Kitchen, 3,562. Restaurant Brands International is headquartered in Oakville, Ontario, Canada and trades on the New York Stock Exchange with a market capitalization of $30.3 billion.

In late July, Restaurant Brands International reported (7/30/21) financial results for the second quarter of fiscal 2021. The company continued to recover from the pandemic, growing its sales by 4% compared to 2019 (before the pandemic). Opening of new stores returned to pre-pandemic levels, with 378 net new restaurants in the first half of the year. Digital sales grew nearly 60% over last year's quarter while adjusted earnings-per-share more than doubled, from $0.33 to $0.77, and exceeded analysts' consensus by $0.16.

Restaurant Brands International is trying to maximize the potential of its stores via drive-thru, take-out and delivery options. It will install digital menu boards in more than 10,000 drive-thru points in the U.S. and Canada by mid-2022. The company more than doubled its digital sales in North America in 2020. We expect the strong business momentum to remain in place for the foreseeable future.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

While same-store sales growth had markedly improved before the pandemic, this metric becoming increasingly volatile could be a concern as it reflects the potential growth rate when the company approaches a saturation point in the number of restaurants. However, the company has ample room to keep opening new stores for several years. Management plans to increase the total store count from the current level of 27,403 to more than 40,000 over the next 8-10 years, with more than 1,000 new restaurants in the UK, India, Mexico and Saudi Arabia. Moreover, the sustained strength of Popeye's, thanks to its successful launches, bodes well for the growth potential of Restaurant Brands International. Thanks to its digital shift amid the pandemic, we expect the company to emerge stronger from this crisis. Thanks to the strong growth potential and the operational expertise of 3G Capital (the majority owners of QSR), we expect Restaurant Brands International to grow its earnings-per-share by 10% per year over the next five years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	---	46.2	30.0	85.8	49.8	28.9	32.9	22.1	24.8	27.2	23.2	19.0
Avg. Yld.	---	0.3%	1.2%	1.1%	1.1%	1.5%	1.3%	3.1%	3.0%	3.8%	3.3%	2.9%

Restaurant Brands International's valuation has been irrationally high (average price-to-earnings ratio of 38.6) for most of its time since the iconic Burger King-Tim Horton's merger. We believe a fair value for Restaurant Brands is a price-to-earnings ratio of around 19. The stock is now trading above our assumed fair value, at an earnings multiple of 23.2. If its earnings multiple contracts to 19 over the next five years, the stock will incur a -3.9% annualized drag in its returns. Nevertheless, investors should be aware that the stock almost always trades with a premium valuation thanks to its exciting growth prospects and the popularity of its restaurants.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	---	---	---	---	24.0%	25.9%	16.0%	68.4%	73.5%	102%	75.7%	55.8%

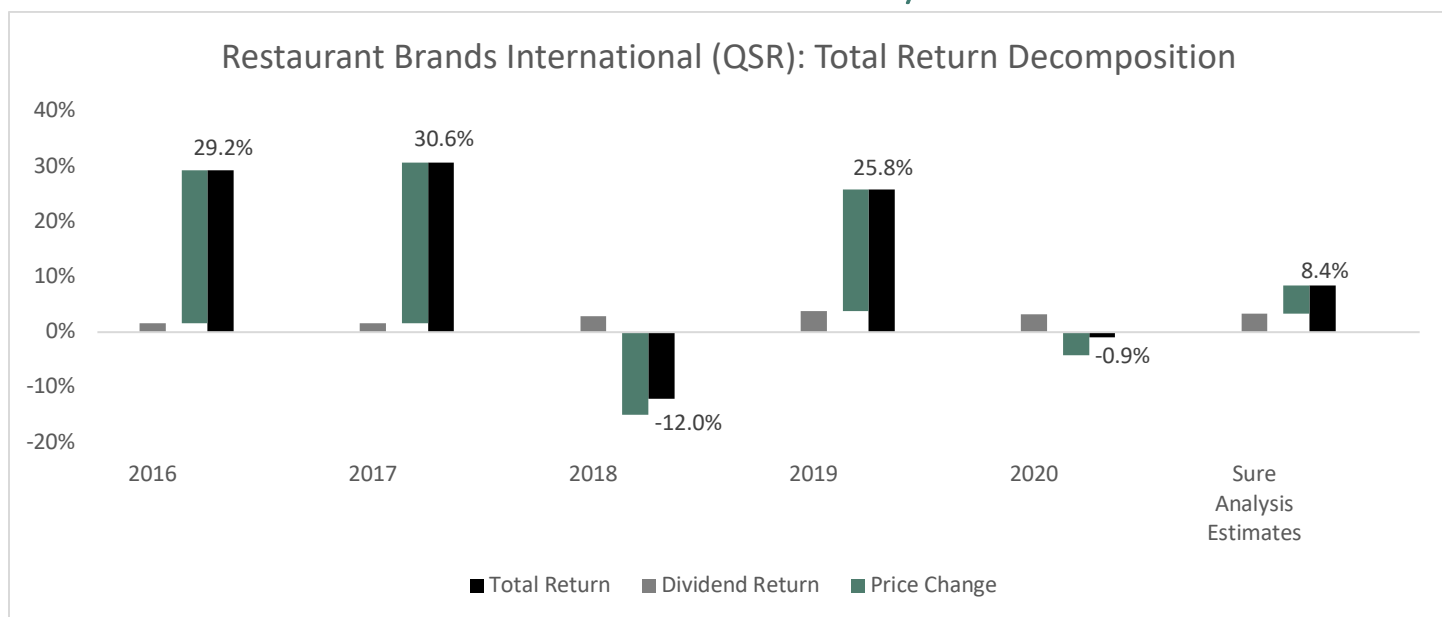

Restaurant Brands International operates in the business of quick service restaurants, where competition has been remarkably heated in recent years. However, it has a meaningful competitive advantage: the strength of its brands.

Restaurant Brands International operates with an appreciable amount of debt, as its net debt of $16.7 billion is about 13 times its normal annual earnings and its interest expense consumes 28% of its operating income. However, thanks to its reliable growth trajectory, the company is not likely to have any problem servicing its debt.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Restaurant Brands International has adjusted to the pandemic by focusing on its digital channels and we believe it will emerge stronger from this crisis. We expect the stock to offer an 8.4% average annual return over the next five years and thus we are on the verge of rating the stock as a "buy". This stock almost always trades with a material premium. If it maintains its historical valuation, its actual returns will be greater than our forecasted returns.
