Overview & Current Events

Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. is an operator of financial exchanges and mortgage technology. The company owns the New York Stock Exchange, operates a derivatives exchange, operates an electronic marketplace for futures and over the counter energy contracts, and owns the leading soft commodity exchange. ICE also offers pricing and market data, risk management, and trading support. The company acquired Ellie Mae in 2020 for $11B expanding into mortgage technology services. The firm now has three reporting segments: Exchanges (60%), Fixed Income and Data Services (30%), Mortgage Technology (10%). Total revenue in 2020 was $6.04B.

ICE reported strong Q3 2021 results on October 28, 2021. Net revenue increased 27% (+11% pro forma) to $1,802M from $1,411M and adjusted diluted earnings per share rose 34% to $1.30 from $0.97 on year-over-year basis. On a GAAP basis, diluted earnings per share rose 58% to $1.12 from $0.71 in comparable periods. ICE benefitted from higher revenue driven by more trading and additional revenue from the Ellie Mae acquisition.

Exchanges segment revenue increased 17% to $959M in the quarter from $818M in the prior year driven by increases in Energy (+38%), Financials (+24%), and Ags and metals (+5%), Cash and Equity Options (+7%), OTC and Other (+14%), Data and Connectivity (+3%) and Listings (+10%). Fixed Income and Data Services segment revenue increased 6% to $477M from $450M in comparable periods driven by increases in Fixed Income Data and Analytics (+5%), Other Data and Network (+9%), and CDS Clearing (+9%) offset by Fixed Income Execution (-18%). Mortgage Technology segment revenue was $366M versus $343M (pro forma) in the prior quarter. Low interest rates, renewed home buying, and mortgage refinancing as the pandemic wanes is driving transaction volumes.

ICE agreed to sell its 9.85% stake in Euroclear for 709M Euros. The transaction should close in the first half of 2022.

ICE has grown the bottom line at a good clip since the Great Recession driven by both organic growth and many acquisitions. ICE is an acquisitive company and bought several companies including NYSE Euronext in 2013, Interactive Data in 2015, and Ellie Mae in 2020, adding to the top line. But the additional shares issued for the purchases have kept a lid on earnings per share growth. Organic growth will come from increased trading, new market and pricing data products, and mortgage origination. The company increased adjusted earnings per share at ~18% rate from 2006 to 2018. We are now forecasting on average annual 9% earnings per share growth out through 2026 accounting for slowing growth rates. ICE initiated a dividend in 2013 and grew it at a double-digit rate since then, but the current yield is below the broader market average. We are forecasting on average 12% annual growth rate in the dividend due to the low payout ratio of ~26%. The company has not conducted significant share buybacks in the past but that will change in the future as a $2.4B share repurchase was authorized at the start of 2020.

Valuation Analysis

ICE's stock price is up since our last report and is trading near its all-time high. ICE had a strong 2020 and momentum has continued into 2021. We have increased our 2021 earnings estimate to $5.10 per share to match consensus. Our fair value multiple is 21X, which is near the 5-year average. Our fair value estimate is $107. Our 5-year price target is $165.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Payout | --   | 8%   | 27%  | 24%  | 24%  | 27%  | 27%  | 28%  | 27%  | 27%  | 26% | 30% |

ICE's competitive advantage is its scale in trading, the NYSE brand, proprietary exchange products, data in commodity futures and fixed-income data, and mortgage technology. The company can provide unique datasets that competitors do not have access to. Since datasets between competitors are not similar, ICE has a significant advantage for data derived from its exchanges. ICE does face some risks in changing regulatory environments and a decline in trading volumes. A downturn in trading volume during a recession will likely reduce ICE's top and bottom lines. During the Great Recession, EPS exhibited a significant sequential quarterly decline from $0.26 in Q1 2008 to a bottom of $0.13 in Q4 2008 before recovering through 2009. By Q1 2010, quarterly EPS had returned to $0.27. The stock price declined severely during this time. Lastly, there is the omnipresent threat of cyber-attacks or disruptions to trading.

Short-term debt was $1,831M and long-term debt was $12,394M at end of Q3 2021. This was offset by only $618M in cash. The leverage ratio is now over 3.1X and interest coverage is about 7.9X

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

At present we are forecasting a 5.5% total annualized return through 2026. The firm acquired Ellie Mae and is integrating the company and pursuing efficiencies. ICE's leverage ratio is high but now coming down. ICE is focused on shareholder returns through the dividend and share repurchases. At the current stock price, we rate this equity a hold.
