Overview & Current Events

Northrop Grumman Corporation is one of the five largest US aerospace and defense contractors based on revenue. The company reports four business segments: Aeronautics Systems (aircraft and UAVs), Mission Systems (radars, sensors and systems for surveillance and targeting), Defense Systems (sustainment and modernization, directed energy, tactical weapons), and Space Systems (missile defense, space systems, hypersonics and space launchers). Northrop Grumman completed its acquisition of Orbital ATK in 2018 and divested IT Services in 2021. Northrop Grumman makes the B-2 Spirit, E-2D, E-8C, RQ-4 Global Hawk, MQ-4C Triton, and MQ-8B/C Fire Scout. The company also provides content on the F-35 and F/A-18. It also won the contract for the B-21. The company had revenue of over $36.8B in 2020.

Northrop Grumman released results for Q3 FY 2021 on October 28th, 2021. Companywide revenue decreased (-4%) to $8,720M from $9,083M and diluted adjusted earnings per share increased 13% to $6.63 from $5.89 on a year-over-year basis. Three out of four segments reported sales declines and Defense Systems sales were lower on a divestiture.

Revenue for Aeronautics Systems was down (-6%) to $2,725M from $2,914M in the prior year due to lower volumes in Manned Aircraft and Autonomous Systems. Revenue for Defense Systems fell (-24%) to $1,409M from $1,859M in comparable quarters due to sale of IT Services offset by higher volumes in Mission Readiness Programs. Revenue for Mission Systems decreased (-5%) to $2,436M in the quarter from $2,551M in the prior year due to the sale of IT Services offset by higher volumes in Navigation, Targeting, and Survivability; and Maritime/Land Systems and Sensors offset by lower Networked Information Solutions sales. Revenue for Space Systems increased 22% to $2,681M in Q3 2021 from $2,198M in Q3 2020 from higher sales in Launch & Strategic Missiles and Space offset by sale of IT Services.

The company won $6.9B in contracts in Q3 and the total backlog is $74.8B at end of the quarter. Northrop Grumman sold its IT Services business and used the proceeds for share buybacks and retiring debt. The company increased guidance to $36B in sales and $25.20 to $25.60 earnings per share in 2021 including the divestment.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Northrop Grumman's earnings have increased substantially over time driven by top line growth from contract wins, modernization and upgrades, services, and acquisitions. A significant reduction in share count has helped drive earnings per share gains as well. Looking forward, the company will achieve both revenue and EPS growth through its involvement in the F-35, B-2, E2-D, B-21 and other platforms. We reduced our estimate of average annual EPS growth to 8% out to 2026 due to a weaker outlook and US budget uncertainties. The company retired debt early and conducted share buybacks with sale proceeds of IT Services. Northrop Grumman has paid a growing dividend for 18 years. The payout ratio is currently very low at approximately 25% so there is room for further increases.

¹ Estimated based on prior years. Northrop Grumman has not yet announced the next quarterly dividend.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	Now	2026
Avg. P/E	8.3	8.2	10.4	12.9	16.1	17.4	23.0	16.8	17.9	13.8	13.9	15.0
Avg. Yld.	3.2%	3.4%	2.7%	2.1%	1.9%	1.6%	1.5%	1.7%	1.7%	1.7%	1.8%	1.6%

Northrop Grumman's stock price is down since our last report. We have pegged our estimate at the mid-point of updated guidance. The stock trades below our fair value multiple of 15X, near the trailing 5-year average. Our current fair value is now $381. Our current 5-year price target is now $560.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	27%	28%	29%	28%	30%	29%	34%	25%	24%	24%	25%	25%

As a prime US defense contractor, Northrop Grumman has an entrenched position in many of its end markets. Of note are the B-2, B-21, E-2D, E-8C, Global Hawk and Triton platforms. Few companies have the technical expertise and classified workforce to build these platforms. In addition, these platforms have decades long life cycles and Northrop Grumman has the expertise and experience to perform sustainment and modernization. These characteristics lead to a good degree of recession resistance. However, the company does face risks in program cuts and changing administrations that could lead to revenue declines.

Debt increased due to the Orbital ATK acquisition, which the company is paying down. Long-term debt is now at $12,774M offset by $4,055M in cash and equivalents. Interest coverage is 7.6X and the leverage ratio is down to 1.6X.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

At present we are forecasting an 11.1% annualized total return through 2026. Northrop Grumman's stock price is down about 10% from its recent all-time high. However, Northrop Grumman continues to win contracts and grow on the strength of its product offerings. Hypersonics represents a growing market for Northrop Grumman. The dividend yield is low, but the dividend safety is high as illustrated by the low payout ratio and reasonable debt level. At the current price, we rate this high-quality stock a strong buy.
