Overview & Current Events

UMB Financial Corporation is a financial services holding company headquartered in Kansas City, Missouri. Through several operating subsidiaries, UMB offers complete banking, asset management, health spending solutions, and related financial services to commercial, institutional, and personal customers nationwide. The company's most prominent operating subsidiary is UMB Bank, N.A. UMB has increased its dividend for an impressive 30 consecutive years. It trades with a $5.1 billion market capitalization and produces about $1.3 billion in annual revenue.

UMB reported third quarter earnings on October 26th, 2021, and results missed expectations on the top line, but adjusted profits were better than expected. Total revenue gained 7% year-over-year to $318 million. Net interest income was $210 million, an increase of $9 million from the second quarter of this year. The bank's earning assets balance grew but was partially offset by reduced income from Paycheck Protection Program loans. Average earning assets rose 4.7% to $1.5 billion, driven by an increase in liquidity and investment securities. Interest-bearing liabilities rose $799 million, or 4%.

Net interest margin was 2.52% for the third quarter, a decline of four basis points from the linked quarter, which was driven by an unfavorable earning asset mix shift. Noninterest income was down $24 million, or 18%, on a linked quarter basis. Most of the decline was due to a decline of $19 million in investment security gains, driven by a mark-to-market decline in the company's stake in Tattooed Chef (TTCF).

We've moved our estimate of earnings-per-share to $7.45 following Q3 results.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

| DPS                | $0.79 | $0.83 | $0.87 | $0.91 | $0.95 | $0.99 | $1.04 | $1.17 | $1.21 | $1.25 | $1.48 | $1.72 |

UMB's adjusted earnings-per-share have compounded at about 8% per year in the past decade. However, short-term headwinds exist in the form of low absolute interest rates, which is crimping lending margins. In addition, 2020's earnings had a huge boost from the bank's investment in TTCF, most of which has since been unwound. We now forecast -1.5% annual growth from 2021 earnings, which is primarily because of yield curve and lending spread concerns. In addition, the bank is seeing loan loss reserves reverse from the COVID crisis, which is transitory. We think continued asset base expansion is the key as UMB is working away from fee generation and more towards traditional lending, and a modest boost in fee income. If rates remain unfavorable, it should see some downward pressure on earnings expansion. However, the bank has thus far been able to overcome an unfavorable yield curve by swiftly expanding the amount of lending it is doing, as it showed in 2019 and 2020. We think this growth will be difficult to replicate as the current economic cycle matures, so we have become more cautious on the bank's projected growth.

The dividend could continue to grow at 3% annually in the coming years, rising from $1.48 this year to $1.72 or so in 2026. UMB's 2021 dividend increase was massive by its historical standards, but we'll wait and see if larger dividend increases become a new policy.

Valuation Analysis

|-----------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|-------------|-------------|
| Avg. P/E  | 14.1 | 15.0 | 17.0 | 22.3 | 21.4 | 17.7 | 20.2 | 18.5 | 13.3 | 9.2  | 14.2 | 13.0 |
| Avg. Yld. | 2.0% | 1.8% | 1.6% | 1.5% | 1.8% | 1.7% | 1.4% | 1.6% | 1.8% | 2.2% | 1.4% | 1.9% |

UMB now trades at 14.2 times earnings estimates for this year, against our estimate of fair value at 13. We see the stock as overvalued as a result. We expect the dividend yield to move near 2% in the foreseeable future, the result of a lower valuation and weak earnings growth potential.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Payout | 29%  | 27%  | 27%  | 34%  | 39%  | 31%  | 28%  | 30%  | 24%  | 20%  | 20% | 25% |

UMB's payout ratio is just one-fifth of earnings, and the bank boasts a 30-year dividend increase streak following its last payout increase. Given these factors, we see the dividend as safe with lots of room to grow in the future. We don't see a lot of upside to the payout ratio, so the dividend should grow modestly, keeping the payout ratio well under 30% for the foreseeable future. However, we note that the 2021 increase was much larger than normal.

UMB Financial Corporation's largest competitive advantage is its entrenched position in the financial services sector. Because of industry regulations, it is very difficult for a new competitor to enter the market and take market share from established lenders like UMB. The company's small size is also a potential advantage, as it allows the company to explore smaller, less-competitive growth opportunities that the big banks would not be interested in pursuing. Of course, recessions aren't kind to banks of any size, but we note UMB weathered 2020 quite well.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

With the stock already well in excess of our 2026 price target, we see projected annual returns at -1.6% moving forward. As such, we continue to rate UMB a sell due to a poor total return outlook.
