Overview & Current Events

Cigna is a leading provider of insurance products and services. The company's products include dental, medical, disability and life insurance that it provides through employer-sponsored, government-sponsored and individual coverage plans. Cigna operates four business segments, including Evernorth, which provides pharmacy services and benefit management, U.S. Medical, which provides commercial and government health insurance, International Markets and Group Disability. Evernorth contributes 70% of annual revenues while Cigna Healthcare accounts for 24%. Cigna has annual revenues of ~$180 billion.

On May 6th, 2022, Cigna reported first quarter results for the period ending March 31st, 2022. For the quarter, revenue grew 7.4% to $44 billion, beating estimates by $530 million. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $6.01 compared to adjusted earnings-per-share of $4.73 in the prior year and was $0.83 above expectations.

Total pharmacy customers grew 6.4% to 107.4 million. Total medical customers grew 6.6% year-over-year to 17.8 million and was 4.2% higher quarter-over-quarter. Adjusted revenue for the Evernorth segment, which is the largest within the company, grew 9.7% to $33.6 billion due to strength in specialty pharmacy services. Adjusted revenue for Cigna Healthcare was up 2.9% to $11.4 billion due to premium increases.

Cigna provided an updated outlook for 2022 as well. Revenue is still expected to be least $177 billion for the year. The company now projects adjusted earnings-per-share of at least $22.60, compared to $22.40 previously. We have updated our forecast accordingly.

Earnings-per-share have a compound annual growth rate of 13.1% for the 2012 through 2021 period of time. An increase in the share count during this time hides the fact that net profit has actually increased at a rate of almost 17% per year. Cigna's growth rate has actually accelerated in recent years, as earnings-per-share have a compound annual growth rate of 14.4% since 2017. One reason that earnings have a CAGR in the double-digit range is that the need for pharmacy services and health care plans will increase as more people age. Cigna's merger with Express Scripts, one of the top pharmacy benefit managers in the market, in 2018 should also provide business tailwinds. In addition, Cigna has an ambitious goal to reduce its health care costs, which, overall, have risen much higher than inflation. We have lowered our targeted earnings-per-share growth rate to 10% from 15% through 2027 as some of the medium-term gains have been related to tax reform. Still, we find Cigna's business model very attractive.

Cigna's dividend had never been a priority for the company. After cutting its dividend by 20% in 2009, the company has paid the same amount every year up until 2020. It should be noted that Cigna had typically paid an annual dividend in April of each year. That all changed when the company declared a $1.00 quarterly dividend for the March 25, 2021 payment date. The company followed that up with a 12% increase for the March 24th, 2022 payment date. We now anticipate dividend growth of 5% annually through 2027.

Valuation Analysis

Shares of Cigna have increased $46, or 20.8%, since our February 7th, 2022 report. The stock has an average price-to-earnings ratio of 12.1 over the last decade. Currently, the stock is valued at just under 12 times earnings estimates for the year. Price-to-earnings ratios were likely lower during the early portions of the past decade due to market concerns over how health care plans would do. Those fears appear to have abated somewhat. Reaching our 2027 target multiple of 13 times earnings would add 1.9% to annual returns over the next five years.

Cigna's dividend has largely not played a role in the company's total returns. That changed recently as Cigna's stock now offers a yield that is superior to the average yield of the S&P 500 index.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	1%	1%	1%	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	20%	20%	16%

Cigna happens to operate in an industry that tends to hold up well during recessionary times as health insurance and pharmacy businesses are still in demand. Earnings-per-share fell from $3.96 in 2007 to $3.42 in 2008 (a 13.6% decrease), but rebounded to make a new high in 2009. Cigna has seen earnings-per-share grow each year thereafter outside of 2016.

We feel that Cigna has some immense competitive advantages. The company is one of the largest names in its industry, giving it a size and scale that is hard to match. Cigna's acquisition of Express Scripts appears to have been a solid move, strengthening the company's presence in its pharmacy business. Perhaps most important, an aging demographic will need increased pharmacy and medical services, giving Cigna an incredibly large pool of potential customers.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Cigna is now expected to produce total returns of 13.3% through 2027, down from our prior estimate of 17.5%. Our projected return stems from a 10% earnings growth rate, a starting yield of 1.7%, and a low single-digit contribution from multiple expansion. Cigna continues to produce strong growth rates, something we expect to continue in 2022. We reiterate our buy rating on shares of Cigna due to projected returns.
