We added 4 update reports and 9 new security reports in the Sure Analysis Research Database since last week's email update.

We also added two new columns to the Sure Analysis Research Database spreadsheet.

New Spreadsheet Columns

We added a "Recommendation" column in column C of the spreadsheet. This column shows if our newest report for a given security is a buy, hold, or sell based on the time the report was created.

We already have a recommendation for most of the 800+ securities in Sure Analysis. We will add new recommendations every time we do a new report for a security.

We also added a "Price at Time of Report" column in column D of the spreadsheet. This column shows the price of the security in question based on the date the report was made. You can use this column along with column E (the share price as of when the current Sure Analysis spreadsheet went live) to quickly see the change in a security's price since our last recommendation.
