RPM International manufactures, markets and distributes chemical products to industrial, retail and specialty customers. The majority of sales are made to industrial customers. RPM was founded in 1947 and employs more than 15,000 people today.

On July 25th, 2022, RPM announced earnings results for the fourth quarter and fiscal year 2022 for the period ending May 31st, 2022. For the quarter, revenue grew 13.7% to a fourth quarter record $1.98 billion and was $20 million above estimates. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.42 compared favorably to $1.28 in the prior year, but was $0.04 less than expected. For fiscal 2022, revenue increased 9.8% to a record $6.7 billion while adjusted earnings-per-share of $3.66 was down from $4.16 in the prior year.

For the quarter, the Consumer Group improved 8.6% to a record $682.8 million. Organic sales were up 10% due to gains in products used by professional remodelers. The Construction Products Group grew 18.5% to $745.9 million. Organic sales grew 19.9% due to strength in roofing systems and products for concrete. Higher selling prices offset inflationary pressures. Performance Coatings Group increased 16.3% to $329.4 million. Organic sales were higher by 17.4% due to an increase in demand for flooring systems, protective coatings, and fiberglass reinforced plastic grating. Revenue for Specialty Products Group of $225.8 million was an 11.4% increase from the prior period. Organic sales increased 12.2% with most businesses showing another double-digit improvement.

We initiate fiscal year 2023 earnings-per-share estimates at $4.26, which would be a 16.4% increase from the prior year.

The last recession had a severe impact on RPM's earnings, which saw a decline of 42% from 2008 to 2009. It was not until 2013 that RPM's earnings numbers recovered above 2008's total. In recent years, growth has been much steadier. From 2013-2022, earnings per share grew at a rate of 7.2% per year. In order to account for the likely declines in earnings during the next recession, we feel comfortable forecasting a 5% earnings-per-share growth rate going forward. Organic growth is expected to be the primary contributor.

Growth slowed during the last recession, but RPM was able to maintain and increase its payments to shareholders even in an adverse economic climate. RPM raised its dividend 5.3% for the October 29th, 2021 payment, giving the company 48 consecutive years of dividend growth.

Updated July 25th, 2022 by Nathan Parsh

Shares of RPM have decreased $2, or 2.3%, since our April 6th, 2022 update. Using expected earnings-per-share for fiscal year 2023, the price-to-earnings ratio is 20. We reaffirm our five-year target P/E of 18 to reflect the higher multiple that shares have traded with over the past few years. If the stock were traded with this multiple by fiscal 2028, then valuation would be a 2.0% headwind to annual returns over this period of time.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	49%	44%	43%	41%	48%	47%	53%	47%	37%	43%	38%	38%

RPM is not recession proof, as shown by the company's decline in earnings, and in the time that it took for earnings growth to return to the company following the last recession. The company also has a high level of debt that could make acquisitions or high dividend growth difficult if earnings were to weaken.

RPM is a leading manufacturer and distributor of paints, coatings, construction chemicals, colorants and adhesives to consumers, contractors, and construction businesses. These businesses perform well when the economy is growing due to the increases in construction and home improvement spending. However, RPM is very susceptible to recessions.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following fourth quarter results, RPM International is now expected to return 4.7% per year through fiscal year 2028, up from our previous estimate of 1.2%. Our forecast stems from a 5% earnings growth rate and a starting yield of 1.9% that are offset by low single-digit headwind from multiple compression. All four segments performed very well during the quarter as higher prices haven't hurt demand very much. We have raised our five-year price target $15 to $98 due to earnings estimates for the new fiscal year and now rate shares of RPM International as a hold due to projected returns.
