Overview & Current Events

Lam Research Corporation (LRCX) was founded in 1980 and headquartered in Fremont, California. The company designs, manufactures, markets, refurbishes, and services semiconductor processing equipment used to fabricate integrated circuits worldwide. Lam is a major supplier of wafer fabrication equipment and services to the semiconductor industry. Its products address various applications, including thin film deposition, single-wafer cleaning, and plasma tech. The company has a market capitalization of approximately $68.56 billion, over 10,700 employees, and produced roughly $17.23 billion in revenue in 2022.

On July 27, 2022, Lam Research reported the fourth quarter and full-year results for Fiscal Year (FY)2022, ending on June 26, 2022. Lam Research Corporation ends its fiscal year at the end of June. The company had another excellent quarter. The company revenue grew by over 11.8% compared to 4Q21 from $4.145 billion to $4.64 billion. However, compared to the third quarter of FY2022, revenue is up 14.2%. Revenue by region shows that China and Korea represent 31% and 24% of total revenue for the quarter. The next closest region is Taiwan, with 19%. Net income was also up by 5.6%, from $1.14 billion to $1.21 billion year-over-year. On a per-share basis, the company earned $8.74 for the quarter, 9.5% higher than in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year 2021, and it was 19.7% higher than the last reported quarter.

For the fiscal year, revenue is up 17.8%, and net income is up 17.8% compared to FY2021. Also, earnings are up 21.7% for the fiscal year compared to FY2021. Overall, the company has done well, even considering near-term impacts on its results like supply chain conditions which worsened.

For FY2023, we expect the company to make $37.92 per share in earnings. This is an increase of 15.8% compared to FY2022.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	16.5	16.9	14.0	12.9	13.2	8.4	19.2	20.3	23.9	11.9	13.2	16.0
Avg. Yld.	0.0%	0.3%	1.1%	1.6%	1.4%	1.4%	2.6%	1.4%	0.8%	1.4%	1.2%	1.0%

Over the past decade, Lam Research has averaged a 15.7x P/E. During trough periods in the semiconductor industry, the company occasionally reported low or negative earnings. We estimate a forward P/E of 16.0 for the company should be a fair value, although it naturally varies through the highly cyclical semiconductor business cycle. However, the company has a lower PE at the current price than our reasonable price estimate. The company has a current PE of 13.2x. The current PE would provide a 3.9% annual tailwind if the company reverted back to its fair PE ratio of 16.0x.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	0.0%	4.1%	16.8%	18.9%	16.5%	14.3%	30.3%	28.8%	19.1%	18.1%	19%	16%

Lam Research is one of the top 3 semiconductor manufacturing equipment vendors globally, along with Applied Materials and Tokyo Electron. The company supplies equipment to chipmakers and provides service and maintenance support. Due to propriety technologies and a highly concentrated industry, Lam Research maintains high returns on invested capital in most years and has a small economic moat. However, the semiconductor industry is highly volatile due to commodity-like supply and demand characteristics. The sector halts new supply capacity every several years and negatively impacts equipment suppliers' revenues like Lam Research. The company has encountered periods of very low or negative earnings during these occasions. However, it appears to be more profitable during each down cycle as its service revenue continues to smooth out its overall results and the company matures. Lam Research's customer base is narrow, with Intel, Micron, Samsung, SK Hynix, Toshiba, and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company making up at least 10% of Lam Research's revenue in recent years. The company has a strong balance sheet with more assets than debt and a total debt/equal ratio of 0.8, decreasing from a previous report of 0.9.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Lam Research is a leader in a growing industry with a strong balance sheet. The company has the potential for an estimated forward return of 13.2%, and we consider it to be a Buy at the current price. The semiconductor industry is cyclical but expected to grow strongly over the next decade. Cloud computing, machine learning, autonomous driving, and the internet of things continue to grow in scale and relevance. With a low dividend payout ratio, the company pays a modest but fast-growing dividend and appears to be maturing into a solid dividend stock.
