Overview & Current Events

National Health Investors is an REIT focused on healthcare facilities. Some of the healthcare facilities NHI invests in are independent living facilities, senior-living campuses, and medical office buildings. NHI specializes in sale-leaseback, joint-venture, mortgage, and mezzanine financing. The company was incorporated in 1991 and is headquartered in Tennessee. National Health Investors had raised its dividend for 19 years, but then slashed it in 2021. This healthcare facility REIT has a market capitalization of $2.9 billion.

On June 30th, 2022, NHI had investments in 112 senior housing properties, 68 skilled nursing facilities, and one hospital across 32 states. During 2021, rental income was $271 million and made up 91% of income.

On August 8th, National Health Investors released second quarter 2022 results. Normalized FFO per diluted common share for the quarter was $1.26, an 8.6% increase from the prior year quarter.

The company collected about 94.0% of contractual cash due in the quarter, with $3.9 million in rent deferrals, $2.9 million of which are pandemic related deferrals.

The company has sold ten underperforming properties for $76.3 million to optimize the portfolio. National Health also has thirteen properties worth $56.7 million classified as assets held for sale. Rent for the thirteen properties in the second quarter 2022 was $1.0 million. During the second quarter, the company repurchased nearly 1.2 million shares of its common stock for an average price of $58.52 per share.

National Health Investors raised normalized FFO guidance to $4.48 to $4.53 for FY 2022, up from $4.38 to $4.48 previously. The company also reduced its expectations of weighted average diluted common shares to 45.2 million compared to 45.9 million previously.

National Healthcare Investors has been able to generate a stream of fairly predictable and consistent adjusted funds from operations (AFFO). In the last 9 years AFFO has grown by 4.6% on average, but this has slowed recently and resulted in a 5-year AFFO growth rate of 0.9%. Shares outstanding have grown by nearly 6% annually over the last decade, which is somewhat normal for an REIT. The number of shares being added is not outrageous but does not help grow AFFO per share. Increased investment activity through financing or purchasing more healthcare real estate, as well as improved collections, and improved occupancies should see NHI continue to grow. We are forecasting 2.5% average annual AFFO growth over the intermediate term.

The corporation will pursue acquisitions and diversify opportunistically, with the main focus on triple-net senior housing and skilled nursing. The company will further diversify across asset, tenant, and geography. The company has paid special dividends a few times in the past, most recently in 2011 and 2013. With the 2021 dividend cut, we estimate that NHI will potentially resume growing the dividend at no more than 1% to maintain flexibility in the following years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	Now	2027
Avg. P/AFFO	16.5	18.0	16.6	15.8	16.2	16.0	14.4	15.7	12.1	14.0	14.3	13.0
Avg. Yld.	5.0%	4.5%	4.8%	5.0%	4.9%	4.8%	5.4%	5.1%	6.9%	6.7%	5.6%	5.7%

National Health Investors has traded at a P/E ratio of 15.5 on average in the past nine years, and 14.4 on average in the past five years. While shares trade at 14.3 times estimated 2022 AFFO, we believe fair value is closer to 13.0 times AFFO, which could lead to a -1.8% annual loss due to valuation compression. The dividend yield should remain around here as we don't anticipate much dividend growth.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	85%	91%	82%	83%	82%	80%	79%	82%	83%	87%	80%	74%

While NHI does not have a strong competitive advantage over other healthcare REITs, the corporation believes that they have an advantage in accessing debt markets due to a strong balance sheet. The company is highly diversified across tenant, geography and asset type which is also advantageous. During the great recession, share price did not fall as much as the overall market, and in fact, FFO per share grew from 2008 to 2010.

Target leverage is set at 4x – 5x Net Debt to Adjusted Annualized EBITDA, and the company targets a 60/40 equity/debt funding mix. At the end of Q2 2022, NHI's leverage ratio was much improved to 4.0x. While the payout ratio appeared to be stable in the last twelve months, NHI has opted to slash the dividend, thus we would not count on it to consistently grow the dividend from here on out.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While National Health Investors' have a history of performing well, drops in occupancy, deferrals, and problems with specific, large partners weighs on the company today. The corporation trades above our estimated fair value, and has expected annualized total returns of 5.7%, the majority of which come from the 5.6% yield. NHI earns a hold rating.
