Overview & Current Events

ONE Gas, Inc. is one of the largest publicly traded natural gas utilities in the United States. The company provides natural gas distribution services to approximately 2.2 million customers. ONE Gas is the largest natural gas distributor in Oklahoma (88% market share) and Kansas (72% market share), and the third-largest in Texas (13% market share). Its customers are residential, commercial, and transportation-related in all three states. ONE Gas is the successor to the company founded in 1906 as Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, which became ONEOK, Inc. (NYSE: OKE) in 1980. On January 31st, 2014, ONE Gas officially separated from ONEOK, Inc. The company generates around $1.8 billion in annual revenues and is based in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

On August 1st, 2022, ONE Gas reported its Q2-2022 results for the period ending June 30th, 2022. Revenues came in at $429 million, 35.9% higher year-over-year. Once again, demand for natural gas remained elevated while the company achieved customer growth, which, along with higher rates, resulted in improved performance.

The company's operating income came in at $58.6 million versus $51.1 million in the comparable period last year due to a $14.4 million increase in rates and an increase of $1.5 million in residential sales due to net customer growth in Oklahoma and Texas. These increases were offset partially by an increase of $5.8 million in outside service costs. Accordingly, EPS came in slightly stronger, growing from $0.56 to $0.59 year-over-year.

Management sees its ongoing positive momentum lasting through this year. They thus reiterated their previous outlook, which projects FY2022 EPS between $3.96 and $4.20. We have utilized the midpoint of this range in our calculations.

Since its separation from ONEOK, ONE Gas has grown its profitability annually at a very consistent rate and without any notable disruptions. Due to the company's dominant market share in 2/3 states it operates in, ONE Gas should continue to gradually grow its net income, powered by incremental population/customer growth and base rate increases as approved by regulators.

The company expects base rate increases to land between 7% and 8% through 2025. Growth CAPEX and acquisitions of smaller competitors should also contribute to EPS growth over time. Specifically, management expects EPS growth between 6% and 8% through 2025.

Regarding its dividend, the company has rapidly grown it since initiating quarterly payments in 2014. Management also targets DPS growth between 6% and 8% through 2025. Consequently, we have applied a 7% CAGR in both our EPS and DPS growth estimates. This year's DPS hike of 6.9% appears to follow this pace.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	Now	2027
Avg. P/E	---	---	16.7	19.9	21.0	21.9	22.6	24.6	20.3	18.7	20.5	20.5
Avg. Yld.	---	---	2.4%	2.7%	2.5%	2.5%	2.5%	2.3%	2.9%	3.2%	3.0%	2.9%

Since ONE Gas's separation from ONEOK, its shares have traded with a P/E ranging from 15 to 25 over the years. The valuation is currently close to the midpoint of this range, standing at 20.5x ONE Gas' FY2022 EPS. We expect the stock's valuation to be sustained at its current levels, powered by the company's resilient operational history, great moat, and robust dividend. We also expect the company's 3.0% yield to remain at similar levels going forward, as shares tend to appreciate relatively in line with dividend advancements.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	---	---	---	53%	52%	54%	56%	57%	58%	60%	61%	59%

ONE Gas' dividend should be considered quite safe. The company has maintained the payout ratio within its 55%-65% target range, while its operating cash flows are resilient due to natural gas enjoying relatively predictable consumption, especially during the winter months. Being the dominant natural gas provider in Oklahoma and Kansas, the company possesses a significant competitive advantage. Due to the CAPEX-demanding nature of its operations, smaller competitors should pose no threat in these two states. In Texas, competition is harsher, though the company could have greater growth prospects due to the state's much more dynamic population growth. Overall, ONE Gas is a quality operator, proven by its consistently improving profitability and smooth detachment from ONEOK. We expect a relatively robust performance even under a potential recession due to natural being a necessity fuel both for residential consumption and in certain fields of transpiration.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

ONE Gas has produced consistent shareholder value creation since its separation from ONEOK. This year, the company should once again achieve record EPS levels as per management's guidance. Based on our growth estimates and the current dividend yield, we forecast annualized returns of around 9.6% through 2027. While the stock would earn a hold rating based on its total return potential, we rate it a buy amid exceptional earnings and dividend growth visibility.
