Overview & Current Events

J.B. Hunt Transport Services (JBHT) is a freight carrier company that primarily operates large semi-trailer trucks (semis). The business operates over 12,000 trucks and has more than 100,000 trailers and containers in its fleet. The business is split into 5 segments – Intermodal (JBI), which operates the largest drayage fleet (vans 53 feet long) in North America, Dedicated Contract Services (DCS), which offers design and implementation of supply chain solutions and on-site management, Integrated Capacity Solutions (ICS), which ships domestic and international containers across North America, Truckload (JBT), which is one of the largest capacity networks in North America, allowing users to GPS track trailers, and Final Mile Services (FMS), which provides final destination delivery and installation. The 3 largest segments, JBI, DCS, and ICS, comprised 45%, 21%, and 21% respectively of sales for 2021.

On October 18th, 2022, J.B. Hunt reported Q3 2022 results for the period ending September 30th, 2022. The business saw diluted earnings-per-share of $2.57, up 36.7% from the year-ago period, and beating analyst estimates by 11 cents. The business saw revenue increase 22% year-over-year to $3.84 billion, beating analyst estimates by $43 million. Operating income increased 32% year-over-year to $362 million from increased customer rates, cost-recovery efforts, and higher volume in the DCS, JBI, and JBT business units.

The business saw growth in the third quarter primarily driven by a 17% increase in Intermodal revenue per load, an 18% increase in average revenue producing trucks in Dedicated Contract Services, a 13% increase in Truckload volume, and an increase in Final Mile Services (FMS) revenue, which were only partially offset by an 8% decrease in volume in Integrated Capacity Solutions.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
EPS	$2.59	$2.87	$3.16	$3.66	$3.81	$3.75	$5.64	$5.21	$4.74	$7.14	$9.60	$11.40
DPS	$0.71	$0.45	$0.80	$0.84	$0.88	$0.92	$0.96	$1.04	$1.08	$1.18	$1.60	$1.90
Shares	118	117	117	114	111	110	109	106	106	105	104	99

Over the past 9 years, J.B. Hunt has seen earnings-per-share grow at an average annualized rate of 11.9%. In 2022, we expect J.B. Hunt to deliver about $9.60 in earnings-per-share due to our fourth-quarter forecast, and the first three quarters of published results. We conservatively forecast that earnings-per-share will grow at a modest rate of 3.5% annually over the next 5 years.

Over the past 5 years, dividend payments have grown at 11.7% annually. In our model, we forecast that dividends will grow at 3.5% annually over the next 5 years, fueled by the growth in earnings-per-share. J.B. Hunt technically has a track record of 20 years of consecutive growth in dividend payments – because they paid an extra dividend in 2012 and missed one in 2013, which accounts for the apparent decrease. We think that J.B. Hunt will continue buying back shares, with the recent news that the company has authorized a $500 million share repurchase program.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	Now	2027
Avg. P/E	21.2	25.2	24.2	22.2	21.6	26.0	20.7	20.0	25.1	23.9	17.2	22.0
Avg. Yld.	1.3%	0.6%	1.0%	1.0%	1.1%	0.9%	0.8%	1.0%	0.9%	0.7%	1.0%	0.8%

Over the past 9 years, J.B. Hunt has averaged a P/E ratio of 23, and over the past 5 years, the stock has averaged a P/E ratio of 23.1. Based on the steady history of valuation multiples, we estimate that a P/E ratio of 22 is fair for the business, which makes up the basis of our 2027 P/E estimate. Today, the stock offers a 1.0% dividend yield, which is low for investors who prioritize dividend income, but investors might consider the company if they're interested in the trucking space and the business's growth.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	27%	16%	25%	23%	23%	25%	17%	20%	23%	17%	17%	17%

J.B. Hunt has averaged a payout ratio of 21.5% over the past 9 years. We project that the dividend will be safe since the low payout ratio signifies that the dividend is adequately backed by strong earnings-per-share. Although trucking businesses are naturally cyclical, J.B. Hunt has a safe balance sheet, which gives us faith that the business has recession resiliency. J.B. Hunt has a certain level of economies of scale as one of the largest trucking companies in the US that gives them an advantage.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

J.B. Hunt offers investors an opportunity to invest in a growing business that will benefit from the increasing demand for shipping. At today's price, we rate the stock as a Hold because total return prospects come in at 9.5% annually over the next five years due to an expected 3.5% annual earnings-per-share growth, 1.0% annual dividend return, and a 5.1% annual return as the stock rerates to our estimated fair value multiple. Investors might be interested in this stock because of the business's exposure to the shipping industry, along with increasing earnings and dividends.
