Overview & Current Events

Paychex, Inc, which was incorporated in 1979, provides payroll accounting, benefits and human resource services to businesses that employ between 10 and 200 employees. Paychex provides services to more than 700,000 small and medium-sized businesses, primarily in the U.S. The company operates two segments: Management Solutions, which provides employers with payroll and retirement resources, and PEO & Insurance, which offers outsourced human resource services and insurance.

On April 29th, 2022, Paychex increased its quarterly dividend 19.7% to $0.79 per share, extending the company's dividend growth streak to 11 years.

On August 24th, 2022, Martin Mucci, CEO and chairman of Paychex, announced that he planned to retire as CEO effective October 14th, 2022.

On September 28th, 2022, Paychex announced earnings results for the first quarter and fiscal year 2023 (the company's fiscal year ends May 31st). For the quarter, revenue grew 11.2% to $1.21 billion, beating estimates by $40 million. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.03 compared to $0.89 in the prior year and was $0.06 above expectations.

For the quarter, Management Solutions grew 12% to $905.5 million due to a higher payroll client base as well as continued strength in HR Solutions. Revenue per client increased due to better realized prices and product demand. PEO & Insurance Solutions increased 8% to $282.8 million due to an increase in average worksite employees and PEO health insurance revenue. Interest on funds held for clients was up 24% to $17.9 million.

Paychex updated guidance for fiscal year 2023 as well. Revenue is still expected to increase 7% to 8%. Adjusted earnings-per-share is now projected to grow 11% to 12%, up from 9% to 10% previously. We have updated our earnings-per-share target for the fiscal year accordingly.

Paychex saw a slight decline in earnings during the last recession. Considering that the company's revenue largely depends on the number of people on payrolls, Paychex did an admirable job suffering just a slight decline in earnings-per-share as unemployment reached high levels. As long as unemployment is low, Paychex should see earnings continue to grow. If unemployment remains elevated, it is possible that the company could experience a slight reduction in earnings based on how well the company navigated the last recession. Paychex grew earnings at a rate of 10.3% per year over the past decade. We reaffirm our expected EPS growth rate of 8% to better reflect the company's historical performance and recent business results.

Valuation Analysis

| Year      | 2013 | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | 2022 | Now  | 2028 |
|-----------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|
| Avg. P/E  | 21.4 | 24.1 | 24.8 | 24.0 | 26.2 | 25.1 | 29.6 | 24.1 | 33.3 | 32.8 | 27.9 | 25.0 |
| Avg. Yld. | 3.9% | 3.4% | 3.3% | 3.4% | 3.1% | 3.3% | 2.7% | 3.4% | 2.5% | 2.2% | 2.7% | 2.6% |

Shares of Paychex have increased $1, or 0.9%, since our July 2nd, 2022 report. Based off of estimates for earnings-per-share for the current fiscal year, the stock has a P/E ratio of 27.9. For context, shares of Paychex have an average P/E of 26.5 over the last ten years. We reaffirm our target P/E of 25 as this is more in-line with the stock's long-term average valuation. If shares were to revert to this target by fiscal 2028, then valuation would be an 2.1% headwind to total annual returns over this period of time.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Year   | 2013 | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | 2022 | 2023 | 2028 |

Shares of Paychex weren't immune to lower earnings numbers during the last recession. With that said, the company held up pretty well given the circumstances. Paychex's primary competitive advantage is that it is a leading provider of payroll, account, benefits and human resource services for small and medium sized companies. Another advantage is that Paychex has very little long-term debt on its balance sheet. This allows the company to access debt markets to fund acquisitions.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following first quarter results, Paychex is now projected to offer a total annual return of 8.1% through fiscal 2028, up slightly from our previous estimate of 7.9%. We expect that an 8% earnings growth rate and 2.7% dividend yield will be partially offset by a low single-digit valuation reversion over the next five years. Paychex continues to see high growth rates in both of its businesses. The company also raised earnings guidance for the fiscal year. We have raised our five-year price target $12 to $154 to reflect this increase in guidance, but maintain our hold rating on Paychex due to projected returns. We would consider buying the stock on a further pullback.
