The diversified REIT trades on the NYSE under the ticker symbol EPRT. The Trust has a market capitalization of $3.1 billion and is headquartered in Princeton, New Jersey.

Adjusted FFO rose 15% to $0.38 per share. At the end of the quarter, weighted average occupancy stood at 99.8%. Growth on a Per-Share Basis

EPRT was formed in mid-2018, so our results only go back so far. Considering that 2018 data only spans June 25th to December 31st, year-over-year comparisons can only truly begin with year 2019, therefore there is little data from which to base future expectations off.

Based on the data we do possess; Essential Properties grew their adjusted funds from operations by 20% and 8% on average over the last three and two years. Keep in mind that the 3-year average growth rate is from 2018-2020, where 2018 was a half year, so results are likely skewed. We estimate the trust can grow AFFO per share by roughly 7% annualized going forward. The trust believes they can achieve growth through further sale-leaseback transactions with middle-market companies. So far, 87% of sale-leasebacks are internally originated, and the trust has on average over the last two years invested roughly $223 million per quarter into growing the business. The trust also believes their balance sheet is well positioned to fund external growth opportunities, all the while maintaining their conservative leverage profile. The trust has nearly $900 million in available liquidity and, in April 2022, amended the maturity date on its credit facility to 2026 from 2023. We see further share issuance in the future as this real estate trust appears to just be getting started, however this capital should go into growing the portfolio. According to leadership, EPRT has the second highest 2022 forecasted AFFO per share growth of around 13% to 14% in its particular industry (#1 highest was Netstretit).

Valuation Analysis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	Now	2027
Avg. P/AFFO	---	---	---	---	---	---	17.8	18.3	16.5	19.9	14.1	15.0
Avg. Yld.	---	---	---	---	---	---	3.1%	3.4%	5.3%	3.6%	5.0%	4.3%

Essential Properties has traded at a price-to-adjusted funds from operations ratio of 18.2 on average since inception in 2018. Today shares are trading at 14.1 times estimated 2022 AFFO, while we believe fair value is closer to 15.0 times AFFO. This increase in valuation could result in gains of 1.3% per year on average over the next five years.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	---	---	---	---	---	---	55%	77%	84%	73%	71%	64%

The payout ratio for EPRT is calculated as dividends per share divided by AFFO per share. The payout ratio has been healthy since the inception of the trust, and we see this as continuing. The yield is not as astronomical as many REITs with higher payout ratios flaunt, as the trust is still in its growth phase. However, the year-to-date decline in the share price has elevated the yield to 5.0%.

The Essential Properties trust only began operating a few years ago, and thus we have no information dating back to the great financial crisis, but we would anticipate a large number of bankruptcies from so many diverse service-oriented businesses. However, the trust made it through the COVID-19 pandemic practically unscathed on an AFFO basis (down 3% from 2019 to 2020), despite share count rising massively from the onset of the pandemic.

A competitive advantage of EPRT is their focus on leasing to service-oriented businesses, and in doing so, they have tenants that are well-positioned to withstand competition from e-commerce business, which in turn increases the stability and predictability of the Trust's rental revenue.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Essential Properties Realty is a relatively new REIT and has strong expected AFFO growth compared to peers over the next two years. The Trust appears to be a budding dividend growth REIT as they have raised it a couple times since inception. We believe shares are trading below fair value, at 94% of our estimated fair value. The trust's annualized expected returns come in at 12.3% in the intermediate term, and we rate shares as a buy.
