Overview & Current Events

RLI Corp. is an insurance company that operates the following business units: Casualty (healthcare & transportation insurance), Property (fire, earthquake, difference in conditions, marine, etc.) and Surety (contract surety coverage, licenses, and bonds). RLI was founded in 1965 and is headquartered in Peoria, Illinois.

RLI Corporation reported its third quarter earnings results on October 19. The company reported revenues of $860 million during the quarter, which was up compared to the revenues that RLI Corporation generated during the previous year's quarter. Gross written premiums rose by 13% year-over-year. Revenue growth was up on a sequential basis as well, and the company easily beat estimates, as the analyst community had forecasted revenues to come in lower than what the company actually delivered. The revenue performance can be attributed to a partial reversal of unrealized losses in RLI Corp.'s equity portfolio, relative to the previous quarter.

RLI Corporation earned $0.50 per share on an adjusted basis, which seeks to back out one-time items, such as realized and unrealized gains and losses. RLI's bottom line was down by 10% compared to the previous year's quarter. RLI Corp's book value totaled $30.70 at the end of the third quarter, up by 16% versus the end of the previous quarter, which was mostly the result of the aforementioned reversal of losses in its equity portfolio.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

RLI Corp. has not been able to grow its profits consistently over the last decade. Profitability remained high through the last financial crisis, which is a positive, but since then, earnings have gone up and down without any clear direction. This is, in large part, because low interest rates have reduced the income RLI can generate with its insurance float.

Rising interest rates were a positive for the company's profitability during the Fed's tightening cycle, but as the Fed has gone back to a more dovish policy, this tailwind will likely disappear. Tax legislation changes are a tailwind for RLI Corporation, as this has increased the company's net earnings substantially, thanks to a drastic reduction in the company's tax rate. We believe that RLI Corporation should be able to grow its profits slightly going forward, as written premiums continue to grow, which provides some revenue growth tailwinds over the coming years. RLI has, in the recent past, also been able to improve its combined ratio on average, although there were some ups and downs over the quarters. This should help in growing profits over the coming years. Due to the company's choppy earnings history, we do not forecast a high long-term earnings-per-share growth rate, however, despite the solid momentum when it comes to the company's margins and its gross written premium growth rate. Instead, we believe that 3% annual earnings-per-share growth is a realistic long-term estimate.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	Now	2027
Avg. P/E	16.9	15.6	17.2	21.1	31.1	34.3	33.7	35.0	39.8	28.9	28.3	19.0

RLI Corporation's price to earnings multiple has been moving in a very wide range in the past. Shares were valued at a low double-digit price to earnings multiple shortly after the financial crisis, but the company's valuation exploded upwards since then. Shares have risen since our last update, and RLI's valuation remains pretty high. We do believe that shares are trading well above fair value and that multiple compression is likely going forward.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2027
Payout	31.2%	26.1%	27.1%	29.6%	38.0%	49.7%	42.4%	35.4%	37.1%	25.5%	22.6%	24.9%

RLI Corporation has raised its regular dividend very steadily over the years, which was possible due to ongoing increases in the company's payout ratio. RLI Corporation still pays out just about one-quarter of its profits in the form of regular dividends, which makes the payout look sufficiently safe for the foreseeable future. Due to RLI Corporation's low dividend yield, we do not believe that shares are attractive for income investors.

Many financial corporations, including some insurers, experienced significant difficulty during the last recession. RLI remained profitable, and its earnings-per-share actually grew during the 2008-to-2010-time frame. We believe that RLI Corporation will be relatively stable during future recessions as well. Compared to other corporations from the financial industry, RLI Corporation thus looks like a more stable, lower-risk pick.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

RLI Corporation is a small insurance company which generated solid operating results in recent years, with written premiums and investment income rising at a solid pace. Earnings will likely continue to grow during the next couple of years, but not at an overly fast pace. RLI Corporation does not have a strong long-term track record, even though results during 2021 were strong, while the outlook for 2022 is good as well. We believe that shares are way overvalued today. Because of this, RLI Corporation earns a sell recommendation from Sure Dividend at current prices.
