Overview & Current Events

Applied Industrial Technologies (AIT) is a company that specializes in distributing industrial products to companies across all different industries. The business distributes power transmission products, engineered fluid power components and systems, specialty flow control solutions, advanced automation products, and more through its network of ~400 local service centers across North America, Australia, and New Zealand. The business operates through its two segments, Service Center Based Distribution (67% of 2022 sales) and Fluid Power & Flow Control (33% of 2022 sales). The Service Center Based Distribution segment includes revenue from the local service centers, and it includes business from scheduled maintenance and repair of their customers' machinery, equipment, and facilities. The Fluid Power & Flow Control segment specializes in selling hydraulic (water pressure) and pneumatic (air/gas pressure) technologies, specialty flow control products, and automation products.

On January 26th, 2023, AIT reported second quarter 2023 results for the period ending December 31st, 2022. The company reported $1.71 in earnings-per-share for the quarter, which beat analysts' estimates by 34 cents and amounted to 40.4% year-over-year growth. Revenue for the quarter increased 20.9% year-over-year to $1.1 billion and beat analysts' estimates by $81 million. For the quarter, acquisitions contributed to a 0.5% increase in revenue, however, foreign currency challenges had a negative effect of 0.7%. Organic sales growth was 21.1%.

Management raised the fiscal year 2023 earnings-per-share guidance range from $6.90 to $7.55 to $8.10 to $8.50, leading to our estimate for earnings-per-share estimate to $8.20. Over the intermediate term, the company has goals to grow net sales to over $5 billion (2022's sales were $3.8 billion) and expand EBITDA margins to over 12% (2022's EBITDA margin was 10.7%).

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028

Over the past 9 years, AIT has seen earnings-per-share grow at an average annualized rate of 10.0%. In 2023, we expect a jump in earnings-per-share based on management's revised earnings-per-share forecast of $8.10 to $8.50 for the full year 2023. We forecast that the business will continue to grow earnings-per-share at 7% annually after 2023, which guides our 2028 earnings-per-share estimate of ~$11.50.

Over the past 9 years, the business has grown its dividend at 5.0% annually, and over the past 5 years, the business has grown its dividend at 3.3% annually. Over the next 5 years, we estimate that the business will grow its dividend at 3% annually, in line with historic dividend growth rates, and somewhat below our estimated earnings-per-share growth rates. As a reminder, AIT has made consecutive dividend payments for 27 years in a row and has increased dividend payments for 15 consecutive years, so it has a stable history of dividend growth. In January 2023, the company increased its quarterly dividend by 2.9% from $0.34 to $0.35 per share.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Avg. P/E	15.2	18.4	16.1	17.2	19.7	18.3	17.5	---	21.2	14.4	17.7	18.5
Avg. Yld.	1.9%	2.0%	2.3%	2.7%	2.0%	1.8%	1.9%	2.2%	1.7%	1.4%	1.0%	0.8%

Over the past 9 years, AIT has averaged a P/E ratio of 17.6, and over the past 5 years, the business has averaged a P/E of 17.9. We estimate that a P/E ratio of about 18.5 represents a normalized P/E ratio for this business, so this guided our 2028 P/E estimate. Today, the stock offers a low but dependable 1.0% dividend yield. While this is certainly a low dividend yield for investors that prioritize dividend income, growth investors might be interested in this stock, based on steady growth that we expect over the intermediate term.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	32%	36%	37%	46%	40%	33%	33%	205%	36%	21%	17%	14%

AIT has averaged a payout ratio of about 52% over the past 9 years, but this was skewed by 2020's irregular payout ratio of 205%. Excluding 2020, the company has averaged a payout ratio of 35%. We think the business has historically paid a safe dividend based on their earnings, and we expect them to continue to maintain a low payout ratio based on our 2028 estimates. Additionally, the business has a strong balance sheet with ~$1.4 billion in current assets (including nearly $150 million in cash & equivalents) compared to total liabilities of under $1.2 billion. The business has strong liquidity and solvency ratios and ~$1.2 billion in shareholders' equity. We think the business's strong balance sheet gives the company recession resiliency, and the business may have a competitive advantage because of its specialized products.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

AIT is a stable business with a strong balance sheet that has recently seen strong growth in sales and earnings-per-share. At today's price, we rate the stock as a Hold because total return prospects come in at 8.7% annually over the next five years driven by an estimated 7% annual earnings-per-share growth, a 0.9% valuation multiple rerating, and a 1.0% dividend yield. Still, investors might be interested in this company if they are looking at the Industrial sector, or if they like the company's recent increase in earnings-per-share.
