Recent results are powered by long-term trends that we expect to continue on in the near term, of increased digitization, mutualization and the democratization of investing, as more and more people enter into the world of financial markets. Investments in the company's products (such as VSM offering) and technology platforms (such as Wealth and Global Post-Trade Management) should further fuel growth and increase customer retention. Additionally, acquisitions such as the recent acquisition of Itiviti, will allow the corporation to increase the value they can offer to clients and expand their geographic reach.

The company has their own three-year growth objectives for FY20 – FY23, which would see recurring revenue growth of 7 – 9%, an adjusted operating income margin expansion of 50+ basis points per year, and adjusted earnings per share growth of 8 – 12%. Broadridge has grown earnings per share on average by 16% in the last nine years, and 15% in the past five. Based on the impressive earnings growth that Broadridge has accomplished, combined with their solid growth strategies, we estimate that they could grow earnings at 8% over the next five years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	14	16.8	20.4	22.4	25.3	22.4	24.4	23.9	27.8	23.1	21.9	22.0
Avg. Yld.	3.0%	2.4%	2.3%	2.1%	1.9%	1.6%	1.7%	1.8%	1.4%	1.7%	1.9%	2.0%

We see fair value for this stock at 22.0 times earnings and today, shares trade for 21.9 times estimated earnings, roughly in line with the 10-year average PE of 22.0. The 5-year average PE ratio has grown from the 10-year average PE of 22.0 as earnings have accelerated. Since shares are trading at about our fair value estimate, we forecast no change to the valuation from here over the medium term. We forecast the dividend will grow only slightly stronger than earnings and thus there would not be much change to the yield.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	43%	40%	47%	47%	49%	35%	42%	43%	39%	41%	41%	45%

Broadridge doesn't possess a stand-out competitive advantage, but its unique combination of people, industry knowledge and solution expertise make them a valuable partner in financial technology services. In fact, BR believes that partnering with them would be a competitive advantage for their clients as they can drive business transformation and achieve business value. The company's payout ratio of 41% is quite safe, especially considering that the majority of revenues are recurring. Broadridge was spun off into its own entity just as the great financial crisis began to hit, so we can't compare it to prior results, but earnings remained positive throughout the recession, and the dividend was increased the entire time, since inception.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

We see strong growth ahead for Broadridge and estimate annualized total returns of 9.9% in the intermediate term. We like the defensive nature of the business, but the company is trading at 99% of our estimated fair value. Annualized total returns of 9.9% are good, and the bulk of this should come from growth. We rate Broadridge as a hold for the growth and dividend growth investor, but the yield may be lacking for income investors.
