Overview & Current Events

Eaton Corporation is a diversified industrial equipment and parts manufacturer. The company's engineered electrical systems and components are used by customers in the industrial, vehicle, commercial, and aerospace markets. The Ireland-based Eaton was founded in 1916 and today has annual sales of about $21 billion. The company employs about 85,000 people. Eaton has 5 divisions: Electrical Americas, Electrical Global, Aerospace, Vehicle, and eMobility.

On February 23rd, 2022, Eaton raised its quarterly dividend 6.6% to $0.81 for the March 31st, 2022 payment date.

On February 8th, 2023, Eaton reported fourth quarter and full year results for the period ending December 31st, 2022. For the quarter, revenue grew 12.3% to $5.38 billion, which was $40 million better than expected. Record adjusted earnings-per-share of $2.06 compared to $1.72 in the prior year and was $0.01 above estimates. For the year, revenue was higher by 6% to $20.8 billion while adjusted earnings-per-share of $7.57 compared to $6.62 in 2021.

For the quarter, organic growth was 15% with divestitures adding 1% and currency exchange acting as a 4% headwind to results. Electrical Americas segment improved 20%, with the segment hitting all-time records for sales, operating profit, and profit margin. The backlog was up 87% year-over-year. Electrical Global was flat as 8% organic growth was offset by currency exchange and divestitures. Data center and commercial markets remained strong. Aerospace was up 7% with organic growth of 11% due to strength in commercial and military markets. The backlog was up 21%. The Vehicle segment increased 16% as North America saw higher demand in auto and truck while the South America vehicle market was strong. eMobility surged 58%, including a 44% benefit from acquisitions.

Eaton provided an outlook for 2023 as well, with the company expected adjusted earnings-per-share of $8.04 to $8.44 for the year. At the midpoint, this would be a 8.8% improvement from 2022. We have initiated our forecast accordingly.

Prior to 2020, Eaton had delivered mid-single-digit organic growth in recent years, though the company's earnings-per-share decreased dramatically during the last recession. The short-term following the pandemic was challenging for the company, but our expect earnings-per-share growth has already returned. We are raising our expected earnings growth to 6% from 4% to better reflect the quality of earnings recently. This is also closer to the average growth rate of 6.8% since 2013.

Eaton paused dividend growth in 2009, as this was prudent given the earnings decline. We now expect dividends to grow in-line with earnings as the payout ratio is very reasonable.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	15.6	15.2	14.6	14.6	16.3	14.7	14.3	22.7	26.1	20.7	20.3	17.0
Avg. Yld.	2.6%	2.8%	3.5%	3.7%	3.2%	3.4%	3.5%	3.0%	1.8%	2.1%	1.9%	2.3%

Shares of Eaton have increased $15, or 9.9%, since our November 1st, 2022 update. Based off of estimates for 2023, the stock now trades with a price-to-earnings multiple of 20.3. Eaton's stock has an average price-to-earnings ratio of 17.5 over the past decade. Given the steep drop in earnings that the company had in 2009, it appears that investors aren't usually willing to pay a high multiple for shares, given that the company is far from recession-proof. We now have a target valuation of 17 times earnings for the stock. If shares were to trade at our target P/E by 2028, then valuation would be a 3.5% headwind to total returns over this time frame. Eaton has a current yield of 1.9%, which is well below the stock's 10-year average of more than 3.0%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	40%	42%	51%	54%	52%	49%	49%	69%	46%	43%	39%	39%

Eaton suffered an extreme decline in earnings during the last recession that forced the company to pause its dividend growth. The company would likely experience a decline in earnings in another recession due to the nature of its business and could pause its dividend increases again. Eaton's key competitive advantages are its expertise and understanding of the businesses that it operates. The company specializes in providing highly engineered products to customers in niche end markets. Switching to a different provider could prove costly and comes with a risk of failure. While Eaton is not recession-proof, the company is likely to do well in an improving economy due to these factors.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

After fourth quarter results, Eaton Corporation is expected to return 4.4% annually through 2028, up from our prior estimate of 1.6%. Our projection stems from a 6% earnings growth rate and a 1.9% starting dividend yield that are partially offset by a low single-digit headwind from multiple compression. Eaton's businesses continue to perform very well, with most segments once again seeing record or near-record sales and profits. Backlog activity over the past several quarters has been robust as the company's products are in high demand. That said, Eaton's valuation continues to leave a lot to be desired, though the stock now earns a hold recommendation due to projected returns.
