Overview & Current Events

LTC Properties is a REIT that invests in senior housing and skilled nursing properties. Its portfolio consists of approximately 50% senior housing and 50% skilled nursing properties. The REIT owns 215 investments in 29 states with 31 operating partners and has a market capitalization of $1.6 billion.

Just like other healthcare REITs, LTC benefits from a strong secular trend, namely the high growth of the population that is above 80 years old. This growth results from the aging of the baby boomers' generation and the steady rise of life expectancy thanks to sustained progress in medical sciences.

LTC is currently facing a headwind, the bankruptcy of Senior Care Centers, which is the largest skilled nursing operator in Texas. Senior Care filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy in December-2018. Until 2018, it was generating 9.7% of the annual revenues of LTC and was the fifth largest customer of LTC.

In mid-February, LTC reported (2/16/23) financial results for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2022. Funds from operations (FFO) per share grew 29% over the prior year's quarter, from $0.56 to $0.72, and exceeded the analysts' consensus by $0.02. The increase in FFO per share resulted primarily from higher rental income from transitioned properties, rent raises and the acquisition of some properties. LTC is facing a headwind due to the pandemic, which has resulted in deferred payments from some tenants. As a result, LTC has not provided any guidance for 2023. Nevertheless, as the pandemic has subsided, LTC has begun to recover in the last two quarters. We expect the recovery to remain in place this year and expect FFO per share of $2.70.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
FFO	$2.29	$2.55	$2.77	$3.06	$3.10	$3.06	$3.08	$2.99	$2.35	$2.56	$2.70	$3.28
DPS	$1.91	$2.04	$2.07	$2.19	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28	$2.28

Due to the aforementioned headwinds LTC has been facing in recent years, the REIT has grown its funds from operations at an average annual rate of only 1.2% in the last decade. Growth has stalled in the last five years, partly due to the bankruptcy of Senior Care. On the bright side, the REIT has most of its assets in states with the highest projected increases in the 80+ population cohort over the next decade. Moreover, LTC has been hurt by the pandemic, but this crisis has begun to subside. Due to the low comparison base formed this year, we expect 4.0% growth in FFO per share over the next five years.

LTC has traded at an average price-to-FFO ratio of 15.1 over the last decade and has consistently traded around this valuation level in the last nine years. LTC is now trading at a FFO multiple of 14.1, which is lower than the historical average. If the stock trades at its average valuation level in five years, it will enjoy a 1.4% annualized gain in its returns.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	83.4%	80.0%	74.7%	71.6%	73.5%	74.5%	74.0%	76.3%	97.0%	89.1%	84.4%	69.4%

LTC implements a strict screening process before purchasing its assets while it tries to minimize its risk via geographical diversification and security deposits. While it benefits from sustained growth in the health care industry, it does not have a meaningful competitive advantage, as evidenced by its stagnation in the last five years. In addition, the default of a major customer of LTC proved that the REIT has tenant bankruptcy risk.

LTC is offering an attractive 6.0% dividend yield. Since 2012, it has raised its dividend at a 2.3% average annual rate. However, it has frozen its dividend in the last six years due to the absence of underlying growth. Consequently, it is prudent to expect lackluster dividend growth for the foreseeable future. The payout ratio is 84% and the balance sheet is leveraged, with a debt to adjusted EBITDA ratio of 5.0x and an interest coverage ratio of 3.5. As a result, the dividend may come under pressure if the trust faces a strong headwind, such as a recession. Fortunately, the REIT does not have material debt maturities for the next five years.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

LTC has failed to grow its FFO meaningfully for five consecutive years. With that said, we expect the REIT to overcome the headwinds from the bankruptcy of its major customer and the pandemic and return to growth mode this year. The stock could offer a 9.9% average annual return over the next five years thanks to 4.0% growth, its 6.0% dividend and a 1.4% valuation tailwind. The stock maintains its hold rating.
