Overview & Current Events

Ames National Corporation is a US-based bank holding company that owns and operates five bank subsidiaries in central lowa. The subsidiaries consist of two national banks (First National Bank, Ames, Iowa and State Bank & Trust Co.) and three state-chartered banks (Boone Bank & Trust Co., Reliance State Bank, and United Bank & Trust NA). The company provides a range of banking services to individuals, businesses, and municipal entities in Iowa. The banks' lending activities consist primarily of short-term and medium-term commercial and agricultural real estate loans, residential real estate loans, agricultural and other business-related loans. As of December 31, 2022, total assets were $2.13 billion. Ames National Corp. was founded in 1903, has a market capitalization of $190 million, and about 250 employees.

On January 20th, 2023, Ames National Corporation released fourth quarter 2022 results for the period ending December 31st, 2022. For the quarter, the company reported a net income of $4.4 million, or $0.49 per share, compared to $5.3 million, or $0.58 per share, earned in the fourth quarter of 2021. For the full year ended December 31, 2022, net income for Ames National Corp. totaled $19.3 million or $2.14 per share, compared to $23.9 million or $2.62 per share earned in 2021. The decrease in earnings for the last three months and year ended is primarily the result of higher interest expense on deposits and a reduction in income recognition from Paycheck Protection Program ("PPP") fees. However, this was partially offset by a rise in interest income from loans and taxable securities primarily driven by growth in the loan and investment portfolios. The management is forecasting earnings for the fiscal year 2023 in the range of $1.75 to $1.85 per share compared to $2.14 per share earned last year. The reduction in predicted earnings compared to the 2022 results is mainly based on a projected increase in salaries and interest expense due to continuing inflationary pressures and higher expected market interest rates.

The bank has grown earnings by 4.0% per year over the past nine years and didn't grow over the past five years. We expect earnings to increase by 4% per year for the next five years after a decrease from $2.14 to $1.80 in 2023.

The company has been able to increase its yearly dividend payout for 13 consecutive years. Over the last five years, the average annual dividend growth rate is 4.0%. In May 2022, the quarterly dividend increased by 3.8% from $0.26 to $0.27 per share. The company paid a special dividend of $0.25 per share in 2018.

Valuation Analysis

| Year | 2013 | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | 2022 | 2023 | 2028 |

During the past decade shares of Ames National Corporation have traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of about 14.2 times earnings and today, it stands at 11.7. We are using 12 times earnings as a fair value baseline, implying the potential for a valuation tailwind. The company's dividend yield is currently 5.1% which is above the average yield over the past decade of 3.5%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Year | 2013 | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | 2022 | 2023 | 2028 |
| Payout | 42% | 44% | 48% | 49% | 59% | 50% | 51% | 48% | 39% | 50% | 60% | 60% |

During the past five years, the company's dividend payout ratio has averaged around 48%. The bank's dividend is comfortably covered by earnings. Given the expected earnings growth, there is room for the dividend to continue to grow at the same pace and keep the payout ratio around the same levels which is safe.

Ames National Corporation is a well-established regional bank that conducts its operations primarily in central, north-central, and south-central lowa. The bank's income and revenue model is primarily based on the interest income from loans and investment securities, as well as fees and commissions from various financial services. The 2023 earnings results are projected to be lower based on the forecast that interest expense will increase faster than interest income, as deposit rates move higher more quickly than rates on loans and investments. The experienced management is closely monitoring its strategic plans. The current plan is centered around customer engagement, employee engagement, and continuous improvement initiatives. This plan proved to be very successful as since the start of 2019, total assets have surged by 46%, loans increased by 38%, and deposits rose by 55%.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Ames National Corporation is a US-based bank holding company with an above-average dividend yield, combined with a sound dividend payout ratio. The bank's diversified business model, experienced management and strategic focus on efficiency, and customer service should support its future earnings growth. The year 2023 will be a challenging one due to continuing inflationary pressures, higher expected market interest rates and the current pressure on the banking sector due to recent developments around Silicon Valley Bank, First Republic Bank (FRC), and Credit Suisse. We estimate total return potential of 9.0% per year for the next five years based on an 4% earnings-per-share growth, a 5.1% yield, and a valuation tailwind. Shares earn a hold rating.
