Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	49%	57%	78%	72%	66%	41%	43%	48%	34%	32%	32%	28%

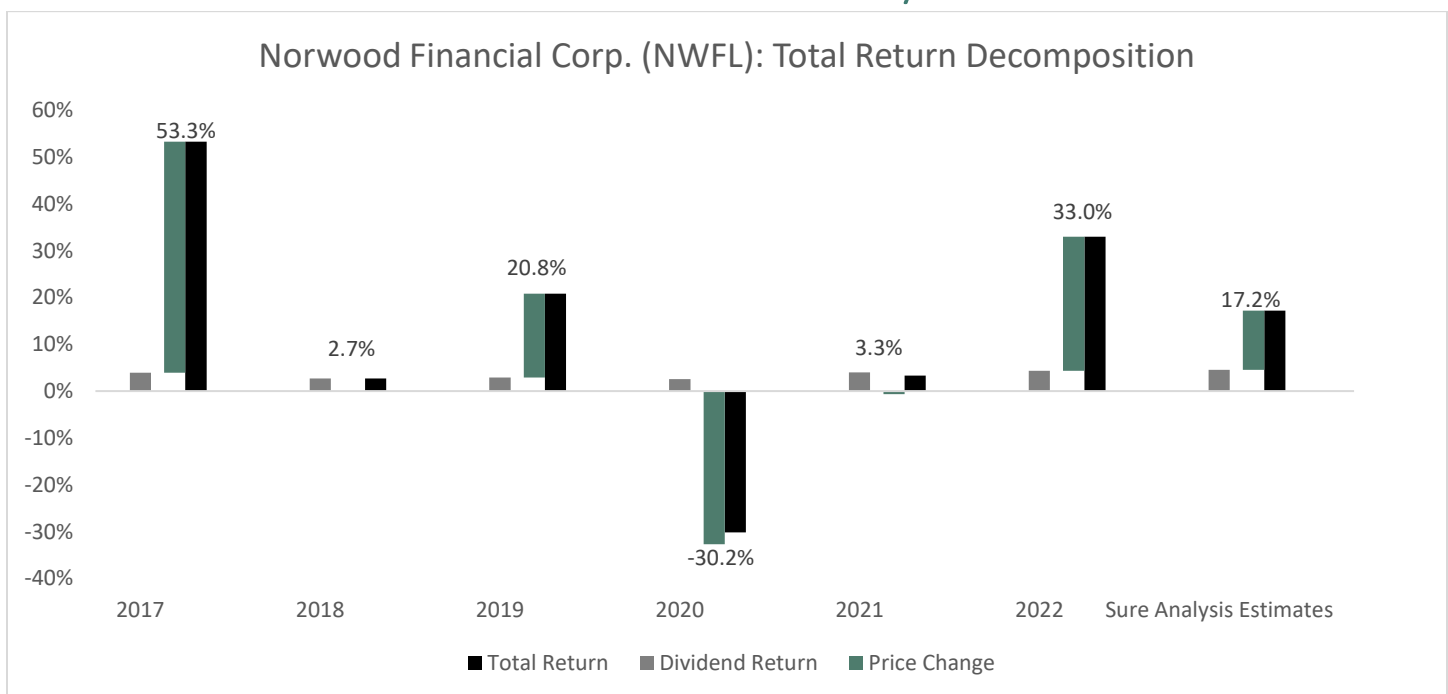

During the past five years, the company's dividend payout ratio has averaged around 40%. Norwood Financial's dividend is at the moment comfortably covered by earnings. Given the expected earnings growth, there is room for the dividend to continue to grow at least at the same pace and keep the payout ratio around the same levels which is safe.

Norwood Financial has demonstrated a strong financial performance for the last seven years (operating net income and EPS growth) combined with a sound asset quality track record and has a business model focused on community banking. As a result, the company has an impressive track record of 31 consecutive years of dividend increases. Wayne Bank's business model is primarily built upon lending money to local businesses and residents within the local communities the bank serves. The funding of those loans is done by gathering local deposits through their community offices. In some counties, the company has a strong position and large market share with respect to deposits. The bank had the third largest share of FDIC-insured deposits in Wayne County with approximately 22.3% and the second largest share in Pike County with 18.1%. In addition, the bank operates a Wealth Management/Trust Department which provides estate planning, investment management, and financial planning to customers for which it is generally compensated based on a percentage of assets under management. This provides some diversification for the bank's revenue streams.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Norwood Financial is an old and well-established community bank active in several northeastern counties in the U.S. with a solid earnings track record and a 4.3% dividend yield. We estimate total return potential of 17.2% per year for the next five years based on an 8% earnings-per-share growth, and a valuation tailwind. The shares earn a buy rating.
