Overview & Current Events

BancFirst Corp. (BANF) serves as the financial holding company for BancFirst, a state-chartered bank headquartered in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The company was founded in 1984, and the subsequent year merged with seven other bank holding companies based in Oklahoma. The company acquired other banks and bank holding companies for the next several years. BancFirst has 106 banking locations serving 59 communities throughout Oklahoma and has over 1,900 employees. BancFirst offers retail customers and small and mid-sized businesses various commercial banking services. This includes checking, savings, CDs, personal loans, and other services for retail customers. The bank offers business lending services for commercial customers, including agricultural and multi-family loans and various business banking services. The company has a $2.38 billion market capitalization.

On April 25th, 2023, BancFirst Corporation reported first-quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2023. The company reported a net income of $57.5 million, or $1.72 diluted earnings per share, for the quarter, compared to a net income of $35.9 million, or $1.08 diluted earnings per share, for the first quarter of 2022. This is an increase of 59.3% year over year. Rising short-term interest rates and loan growth drove the increase. The net interest margin for the quarter was 3.89% compared to 2.78% a year ago. For the quarter, the company recorded a provision for credit losses of $2.3 million, compared to $2.9 million for the first quarter of 2022.

Noninterest income for the quarter totaled $47.8 million, compared to $43.7 million last year. The increase was mostly due to an increase in sweep fees due to rising interest rates and higher volume, and a $1.3 million increase in insurance commissions. Noninterest income for the quarter included $327,000 of income from an equity interest received from a prior loan settlement compared to $4.9 millions of income from the same source in the first quarter of 2022. Overall, the company reported earnings of $1.72 per share for the quarter compared to a $1.08 per share in 1Q2022, which is an increase YOY of 59.3%

We will use earnings of $6.32 per share in 2023 for our fair value calculation and total return projections.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028

Shares²	31.0	31.0	32.0	32.0	33.0	33.0	33.0	33.0	33.0	33.0	33.0	33.0

BancFirst has grown EPS, averaging 14.2% per year over the past ten years and 10.9% over the past five years. However, going back to a more extended 15-year period to account for the prior recession, the bank has only grown earnings by an average of 6.1% per year. With the current interest environment, we expect EPS to grow at around a rate of 4% for the next five years, which is in line with its long-term earnings growth. The bank's net margin has increased in recent years, from 25.38% in FY2017 to 33.05% in FY2018, but it reduced slightly to 32.6% in FY2019. For 2020, the net margin was 23%. Also, we see it increasing this year as the Fed is expected to continue to increase the interest rate this year.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	NOW	2028
Avg. P/E	16.5	16.1	14.1	21.8	19.4	14.8	15.4	19.6	14.0	15.3	11.7	15.0
Avg. Yld.	2.1%	2.1%	2.4%	1.6%	1.6%	2.0%	2.0%	2.3%	2.0%	1.7%	2.2%	1.7%

BancFirst's P/E ratio has averaged 16.7 over the past ten years, with relatively little change from year to year. We feel that a multiple of 15.0 is fair for a company of this size with a low estimated growth rate and yield. Thus, the company looks undervalued based on the average PE with a current PE of 11.7x. The stock currently has a price-to-book (PB) ratio of 1.8, lower than its five-year average of 2.0.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	34.3%	32.2%	33.5%	33.3%	28.7%	27.1%	30.6%	44.0%	27.8%	26.3%	26%	26%

BancFirst is a well-managed bank that has raised its dividend for 27 consecutive years and emerged from the global financial crisis relatively unscathed. Although earnings fell approximately 35% from their peak in 2007 to their bottom in 2009 and then took five years to surpass the 2007 peak, this was very healthy compared to many other banks in the country. At no point did earnings fall enough to put the dividend payout ratio above 50%. Today, the bank has a highly diversified asset base with commercial loans, real estate loans, and debt securities, maintaining compliance with banking regulations and capital reserve ratios.

Oklahoma's banking industry is diversified, and the company does not have a significant competitive advantage over regional or national banks. However, well-run banks generally enjoy high switching costs, as depositors are unlikely to go through the hassle of switching banks in most scenarios. BancFirst has considerably outperformed the S&P 500 and all of the "Big Four" national banks over the past 25 years in total shareholder returns, indicating an above-average company culture and management team. David Rainbolt was the CEO for virtually all of this extended outperformance, but two years ago moved on to become the executive chairman. At the same time, David Harlow, former BancFirst president, is now the CEO.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

BancFirst is a small bank with a long stretch of consistent dividend growth, significant resilience through recessions, and history of considerably outperforming the broader banking industry and the stock market more generally. Interest rates and other factors outside their control may be a negative headwind as we advance. Due to the decrease in price since our last report, we expect a five-year annual rate of return of 11.1%. Thus, we rate BancFirst a buy at the current price because of the expected total return.
