Overview & Current Events

The Ensign Group, Inc. is a healthcare company founded in 1999 and headquartered in San Juan Capistrano, California. The company operates 288 healthcare facilities in 13 states, providing skilled nursing, senior living, rehabilitative care services, and ancillary businesses such as mobile diagnostics and medical transportation. The Ensign Group competes with other healthcare providers in the market. Still, its focus on delivering quality care and creating solid relationships with patients and their families has helped it establish a competitive advantage. The company's revenue segments are divided into four categories: skilled nursing services, assisted living services, home health and hospice services, and other services.

On April 26th, 2023, the company announced results for its first quarter of 2023. ENSG reported Q1 Non-GAAP EPS of $1.13, beating analysts' estimates by $0.03. In addition, the company reported revenues of $886.8 million for the quarter, up 24.3% year-over-year. The company is raising the annual 2023 EPS guidance to between $4.64 and $4.77 per diluted share, up from $4.60 to $4.74 per diluted share and versus consensus of $4.69, due to the strong skilled mix, very strong sequential occupancy growth, and earlier-than-expected results from the recent acquisitions. This updated 2023 earnings midpoint indicates a 13.8% increase over the 2022 results and a 29.4% increase over the 2021 results.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Notwithstanding the macro environment, growth was robust, and occupancy rates returned to levels before the pandemic. Ensign Group, is well financed to continue supporting its growth efforts, and we saw that the tail of its asset returns continues to generate value. The sequential growth in the aggregate occupancy rate, which has increased for eight consecutive quarters, was critical for forecasting its future growth. Same-store and transitional occupancy rose sequentially by 2.9% and 4.3%, respectively, and over the third quarter by 1.0% and over the prior year quarter by 0.8%. Favorably, the same-store occupancy rate maintained its upward trajectory toward pre-pandemic levels, and this remains the key growth contributor.

Despite the minor change in the management guidance we maintain our previous EPS forecast EPS of $4.60 in 2023, suggesting double-digit growth. However, as earnings normalize and reach pre-pandemic levels, there is less room for growth, and we have assumed an annual EPS growth rate of 8.0% through 2028. In addition, DPS has consistently increased for the last 15 years, and we remain confident that the company can keep on this track. Notably, the company raised its cash dividend for the fourth quarter to $0.058 per share.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Avg. P/E	17.7	24.6	21.7	25.1	22.8	20.2	29.7	16.5	24.3	21.2	20.4	22.0
Avg. Yld.	1.4%	1.0%	0.7%	0.8%	0.9%	0.6%	0.4%	0.4%	0.3%	0.3%	0.2%	0.2%

ENSG has attracted a relatively high P/E multiple in the past couple of years, and the stock is trading at a forward P/E of 20.4, lower than its nine-year and five-year averages of 22.4. However, considering the growth prospects, we believe that a P/E of 22.0 accurately reflects the risk/reward of the stock, which leads to our estimated fair value of the company at $149 by 2028, implying an upside potential of 59%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	24%	18%	14%	19%	19%	11%	12%	7%	6%	6%	5%	11%

The Ensign Group's distinctive business model, which focuses on buying and renovating troubled healthcare facilities to restore performance and profitability, gives them a competitive advantage. In addition, the organization has performed well during recessions thanks to its solid financial position and capacity to adapt to the evolving healthcare market. Even though Ensign Group has a debt-to-equity ratio of 1.26 which is lower than the industry norm, it is still considered high. However, the company's cash reserve stands at $331.7 million compared to its long-term debt of $149.3 million, and its strong operating cash flow of $272.5 million supports a favorable leverage profile.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

We remain confident in The Ensign Group's prospects, as its outlook is still favorable, with strong growth ahead. Thus, the buy rating is premised upon the 9.9% annualized total returns for the medium term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 8.0%, the 0.2% dividend yield and a valuation tailwind.
