Overview & Current Events

Fox Corp. is a television broadcasting company with an $$ 15.25$ billion market cap. The company, known among insiders as "New Fox," was spun off from the former 21st Century Fox when The Walt Disney Co. (DIS) acquired most of its assets in 2019, including its cinema entertainment business. Since the spinoff, Fox Corp. has been a much more focused company, with its operations centered on Cable Networks & Television. For Fiscal Year (FY)2022, the company generated $$ 13.97$ billion in revenue.
On May 9th, 2023, Fox Corp. reported third quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2023. The company fiscal year ends at the end of July. The Company achieved strong financial results in the quarter, with total revenues reaching $$ 4.08$ billion, representing an $18 \%$ increase compared to the prior year quarter. This growth was primarily driven by a significant rise in advertising revenues, which increased by $43 \%$. The boost in advertising revenues was primarily attributed to the impact of Super Bowl LVII, a higher volume of NFL games, and continued growth at Tubi. Affiliate fee revenues also saw growth, increasing by $3 \%$, with a notable $9 \%$ growth in the Television segment. Other revenues remained relatively stable compared to the prior year quarter. However, the Company reported a net loss of $$ 50$ million for the quarter, in contrast to a net income of $$ 290$ million reported in the prior year quarter. This variance was primarily due to charges associated with legal settlement costs at FOX News Media. Net loss attributable to Fox Corporation stockholders amounted to $$ 54$ million or $$(0.10)$ per share, compared to a net income of $$ 283$ million or $$ 0.50$ per share in the prior year quarter. Adjusted net income attributable to Fox Corporation stockholders showed an increase, reaching $494 million or $$ 0.94$ per share, up by $$ 35$ million or $$ 0.13$ per share from the $$ 459$ million or $$ 0.81$ per share reported in the prior year quarter. Overall, despite reporting a net loss for the quarter, the Company demonstrated strong revenue growth, particularly in advertising revenues, and achieved a notable increase in Adjusted EBITDA.
We expect that FOX Corp will earn $$ 3.34$ per share for FY2023. This will represent an increase of $19.7 \%$ compared to FY2022.

Fox Corp. is a more focused company following the asset sale. Fox News, Fox Business, Fox Sports, Fox Broadcasting, and other TV assets will remain highly relevant. It helps that Fox News has no mainstream competition in the conservative news arena. The assets that Fox retained are not very cyclical or vulnerable to recessions, compared to, for example, the more cyclical filmed entertainment business. The past year saw an earnings decline by (3.1)\%. However, we expect a positive slower earnings growth of $5 \%$ for the next five years. Because of the recent dividend increase, we are now anticipating a $3 \%$ annual dividend increase for the next five years.

Currently, Fox's most significant growth prospects are with FOX Bet. Analysts expect the sports betting industry to generate $$ 9$ billion in gambling revenue over the next few years. Fox Corp. is in an excellent position to grab a chunk of that. In the immediate term, Fox should see growth as more and more events and businesses start to be fully operational, bringing improved ratings to its news network.

Valuation Analysis

| Avg. YId. | --- | --- | --- | -- | --- | -- | $0.6 \%$ | $1.7 \%$ | $1.3 \%$ | $1.5 \%$ | $\mathbf{1 . 6 \%}$ | $\mathbf{1 . 1 \%}$ |

The company was valued with a PE of about 13.9 for the past few years. However, we think that a 13 x valuation is fair for this company. Currently, the company is trading hands for a PE multiple of 9.4x. This PE provides a moderate valuation multiple expansion of $6.7 \%$. Also, the company's current stock price is under our fair price of $$ 43$. The company dividend yield is unattractive, considering that the S&P 500 current dividend yield is $1.7 \%$.

21st Century Fox paid out $\sim 20 \%$ of its net profits in the form of dividends throughout most of the last decade. The payout ratio has been even lower during some of the previous years. Fox Corp. paid $16 \%$ of its profits in 2021, with an estimated 2027 payout conservatively around $13 \%$. The low payout ratio means that the dividend looks very safe, although the low dividend yield is not especially attractive for income-focused investors.
According to peers, Fox Corp's most influential position has always been in its news channels and sports programming assets The Company continues to own after the deal with Disney. The sale of some assets could improve Fox's position in the long run, as it allows The Company to focus on the businesses it is best at, Cable & TV broadcasting. The TV business is not very cyclical, so Fox Corp. will likely be less vulnerable in future recessions. The company currently has a debt-to-equity ratio of 0.8 and an Interest Coverage ratio of 7.1. Thus, the company has an excellent balance sheet.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

As more sporting events came back, Fox kicked off 2023 with spectacular viewership numbers. Next year should only improve the network as advertising grows and more sporting events start again. Also, the growth of sports betting is a massive win for the company. Based on our estimates, shares are currently undervalued. We estimate the following fiveyear projected returns to be only $13.2 \%$. Thus, we rate FOXA a buy at the current price.
