Overview & Current Events

Inter Parfums (IPAR) is a company that manufactures and distributes fragrance products. The company was founded in 1982, and until 1999, the business was named "Jean Philippe Fragrances." Inter Parfums designs, manufactures, markets, and distributes fragrances and beauty products under various brand names. The company's brand portfolio includes some of the most well-known names in the fragrance industry, including Abercrombie & Fitch, Anna Sui, Coach, Dunhill, Jimmy Choo, Karl Lagerfeld, Montblanc, Oscar de la Renta, Paul Smith, Repetto, and Van Cleef & Arpels, among others. Inter Parfums has a global presence and distributes its products in over 100 countries worldwide. The company operates through a network of subsidiaries and licensees, and it has production facilities in France, the United States, and Spain. In addition to fragrances, Inter Parfums also offers other beauty products, such as body lotions, shower gels, and other skincare items under some of its brand names.

On May 8th, 2023, Inter Parfums reported first quarter 2023 results for the period ending March 31st, 2023. The business saw diluted earnings-per-share of $1.68, representing a 52% year-over-year growth. Revenue rose 24% year-over-year to $311 million, led by solid sales growth outside of North America, with 21% growth in Western Europe and 8% in Asia. IPAR's biggest market in North America grew by 36%, driven by a full year of Moncler, which launched in 2021. In addition, there was strong growth with other brands, including GUESS, which rose by 36%. Jimmy Choo was up by 63%, while Abercrombie & Fitch and Oscar de la Renta saw double-digit growth. As a result, management affirmed guidance for the fiscal year 2023, estimating that net sales would be about $1.2 billion (up 10% year-over-year) and adjusted earnings-per-share would increase 6% year-over-year to about $4.00.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
EPS	$1.27	$0.95	$0.98	$1.10	$1.33	$1.71	$1.90	$1.21	$2.75	$3.78	$4.00	$5.11
DPS	$0.48	$0.48	$0.52	$0.62	$0.72	$0.91	$1.16	$0.33	$1.00	$2.00	$2.50	$3.19
Shares	31.0	31.0	31.0	31.0	31.0	31.0	32.0	32.0	32.0	31.9	31.0	31.0

Over the past nine years, Inter Parfums has grown earnings-per-share at 16.4% annually since 2013 and by 18.5% annually over the past five years. In 2023, we expect Inter Parfums to deliver $4.00 of earnings-per-share based on management's guidance. In addition, we forecast that earnings-per-share will grow at about 5% per year over the next five years, guiding our 2028 earnings-per-share estimate of $5.11.

Over the past nine years, dividends have grown by 17.2% annually, and over the past five years, dividend payments have increased by 22.4% annually, due mainly to payments doubling from 2021 to 2022. Over the next five years, we expect dividend growth to slow to about 5% per year, growing slightly slower than earnings-per-share. With the jump in payments from 2021 to 2022, the company is expected to pay around 60% of its 2023 earnings as dividends, a considerable increase from the 36% payout ratio in 2021. Therefore, we expect dividends to grow slower because the business now pays out a large chunk of its earnings to investors.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	23.1	31.8	29.5	27.6	28.6	31.8	36.7	41.5	27.6	25.7	34.0	30.0
Avg. Yld.	2.1%	2.3%	2.0%	1.6%	1.7%	2.1%	2.9%	3.1%	2.9%	2.9%	1.8%	2.1%

Over the past nine years, the stock has averaged a P/E ratio of 30.4; over the past five years, the stock has averaged a P/E of 32.7. Over the intermediate term, we expect the stock to average a P/E of 30, which means that shares are slightly overvalued at the current PE multiple. We have set a fair value price of $120, which is below the current share price. Accordingly, we estimate a 5-year price target of $153. Today, the stock offers a 1.8% dividend yield, which could be low for investors prioritizing income. However, investors might find the stock attractive for its high dividend growth and strong brand presence as a leader in the fragrance market.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	38%	51%	53%	56%	54%	53%	61%	27%	36%	53%	63%	63%

In the future, we expect Inter Parfums to continue to have a ~60% payout ratio. Although we project that the dividend will continue to grow, it's important to note that in 2020, the business cut its dividend because earnings fell. With the stock sporting a payout ratio of nearly 60%, investors run the risk that the dividend may be cut in the future if earnings fall. Fortunately, Inter Parfums has a solid balance sheet, with current assets exceeding total liabilities. The business also has $104 million in cash & cash equivalents, which will end up being nearly two times greater than what the company will pay out in dividends for the fiscal year 2023. In addition, the business has a competitive advantage with exclusive licensing to sell products worldwide under top brands. Although the company saw a dividend cut in 2020, the company has a strong balance sheet and a lot of cash.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Inter Parfums is a business with exclusive licensing to sell perfume under top fashion brands worldwide. We rate the stock as a hold at today's price because total return prospects come in at 4.3% annually over the next five years. This is due to earnings-per-share growth estimates of 5% and a 1.8% dividend yield, offset by a valuation headwind. While this stock might not be attractive for income investors due to the yield, growth investors might be interested in it for its exclusive licensing and market-leading position in the fragrance industry.
