Overview & Current Events

Pinnacle West Capital is a holding company based in Phoenix, Arizona. The company was initially known as Arizona Public Service Company, then later reorganized as a holding company, AZP Group Inc., in February 1985. In 1987, it changed its name to what is now known as Pinnacle West Capital, which trades under the ticker symbol PNW. Its principal subsidiary, Arizona Public Service (APS), provides electricity service to more than 1.3 million Arizona homes and businesses. The company has the generating capacity to produce 6,300 megawatts, and it employs more than 6,000 in Arizona and New Mexico. PNW has been paying a dividend for 27 years and growing the dividend consecutively for the past eleven years. Pinnacle West Capital has a market capitalization of $9.12 billion.

On May 4th, 2023, Pinnacle West Capital reported first-quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2023. Because of the recent general rate case outcome results, this year's results will be lower. Thus, the unfavorable rate case decision was the primary driver for the lower quarter-over-quarter and year-over-year results. Revenue for the quarter was up 20.6% compared to the first quarter of 2022. However, operating expenses were up 22.7% year-over-year. This was driven by higher fuel and purchased power. Thus, operating income was lower by (6.9)% year-over-year. The company reported a consolidated net loss attributable to common shareholders of $3.3 million, translating to a loss of $0.03 per diluted share of common stock. This represents a decline from the same period in 2022, where the company reported consolidated net income of $17.0 million or $0.15 per diluted share.

We expect PNW to generate earnings-per-share of $4.05 per share for 2023. This would represent a (4.9)% decrease compared to 2022. This decrease is caused by recent rate changes by Arizona Public Service Co. (APS).

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
EPS	$3.66	$3.58	$3.92	$3.95	$4.35	$4.54	$4.77	$4.87	$5.47	$4.26	$4.05	$5.17
DPS	$2.20	$2.30	$2.41	$2.53	$2.66	$2.82	$3.18	$3.18	$3.24	$3.42	$3.48	$3.84
Shares¹	111.0	111.0	112.0	112.0	112.0	113.0	113.0	113.0	113.0	113.0	113.0	113.0

We expect continued growth for PNW to be primarily driven by more people coming to Arizona. We predict that Pinnacle West Capital will continue to grow earnings at a 5% rate for the next five years. This would give us $5.17 per share in earnings for 2028. Our expected 5% growth rate is slightly higher than the 10-year average growth rate of 1.7%. PNW's net margin has been improving over the past decade, growing from a low of 10.5% in 2011 to 15.4% last year. This could continue to be a growth driver as well.

The company has increased its dividend each year for the past eleven years. The dividend growth rate has been 5.0% for the past ten years and 4.3% for the past five years. We expect PNW to grow its dividend at a 2% yearly rate, which would be lower than its expected earnings growth. Still, the company has a reasonable payout ratio to cover its dividend.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	14.5	19.1	16.5	19.8	19.6	18.8	18.9	16.4	12.9	17.8	20.0	17.1
Avg. Yld.	4.2%	3.4%	3.7%	3.2%	3.1%	3.3%	3.3%	4.0%	4.7%	4.5%	4.3%	4.3%

Over the past decade, PNW has traded with an average P/E ratio of 17.4. We think this is a fair P/E for a high-quality utility company like PNW. Currently, PNW trades hands with a P/E of 20x. This is not a reasonable valuation for long-term investors who like high-yield utility companies. Looking at the dividend yield, we see that the current yield is also higher than the company's ten-year average yield. For the past 10-years, PNW has had an average dividend yield of 3.7% over the past ten years.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	60%	64.2%	61.5%	64.1%	61.1%	62.1%	66.7%	65.3%	59.2%	80.3%	86%	74%

Pinnacle West Capital's advantage is its utility, which tends to be monopoly-like. Investors often hold utility stocks for their defensive nature. People will always need to power their homes and businesses. However, PNW shows that earnings can decrease during a recession. For example, during the Great Recession from 2008 to 2009, PNW's earning per share fell from $2.96 in 2007 to $2.12 in 2008. Earnings did bounce back in 2009 and further in 2010 to $3.08. During the COVID-19 pandemic, PNW has so far fared even better.

Even though earnings fell significantly during the Great Recession, the dividend was not cut. This shows that PNW is committed to paying its dividends. The Debt-to-Equity ratio (D/E) is 1.6 for the year, which is fair. The company currently has an S&P credit rating of A-, which is investment-grade quality. Also, PNW has an interest coverage ratio of 3.1. Thus, the company has a very healthy balance sheet.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Pinnacle West Capital Corp is a high-quality utility company at a reasonable price. The company continues to produce a very reliable and growing dividend. At the current price, PNW is over our fair value estimate. We forecast total shareholder returns of 5.7% per year for the next five years. Thus, this stock earns a hold rating because of the low expected total return.
