Overview & Current Events

The Hanover Insurance Group, Inc. (THG) is a holding company whose primary business is offering property and casualty insurance products and services. The company markets itself through independent agents and brokers in the United States. In 2022, Personal Lines accounted for approximately 41% of segmented revenues; Commercial Lines, 36%; Other Property & Casualty, 23%. The company operates an investment portfolio that is primarily exposed to fixed-income securities. The Hanover Insurance Group, Inc. was founded in 1852 and is headquartered in Worcester, Massachusetts.

On May 2nd, 2023, Hanover Insurance released its first quarter 2023 results for the period ending March 31st, 2023. For this quarter, the company reported a net loss of $12 million ($0.34 per diluted share) compared to net income of $104.9 million ($2.90 per diluted share), in the prior-year quarter. The reported net loss in the last quarter was primarily due to the catastrophe losses of $175 million, or 12.7 points of the combined ratio, driven by severe freeze events in the Northeast and Midwest, as well as widespread wind and tornadic activity across the U.S. Operating income was $4.6 million, or $0.13 per diluted share, in the first quarter of 2023, compared to $117.7 million, or $3.26 per diluted share, in the prior-year quarter. The difference between operating income and net loss was mainly attributed to losses incurred on fixed income securities that were intended to be sold and a reduction in the fair value of equity securities during the period. Overall net premiums written for the reported quarter increased by 8.3%, with strong growth from each segment. In particular, the specialty segment showed a strong performance as net premiums written increased by 12.7%. Commercial Lines net premiums written rose 7.3%, driven by rate and exposure increases. Personal Lines net premiums written were $514 million in the first quarter of 2023, up 10.1% from the prior-year quarter primarily driven by price renewal increases. Furthermore, net investment income in the last quarter of $78.7 million, which was above the prior-year quarter of $76.9 million, was helped by higher bond reinvestment rates.

The Hanover Insurance Group has a strong outlook for 2023 and presented ambitious financial targets for the next five years outlined during an investor day². The Board of Directors presented a long-term ROE target of ~14% and an EPS growth target of 12% to 13%. Expense leverage from growth is an important driver and the combination of a new software platform and operating model should improve claims cost efficiency. Even given the continued elevated inflation and supply chain disruption, the management is confident to achieve those long-term targets. Net premiums written are expected to show mid-single digit growth in 2023.

The Hanover Insurance Group, Inc. (THG)

Updated May 6th, 2023, by Patrick Neuwirth

The Hanover Insurance Group long-term earnings growth track record shows some instability, with the company's earnings-per-share having dropped in the fiscal years 2016 and 2022. However, in the last five years, the company has been able to grow its earnings-per-share at an 7.4% average annual rate. We expect Hanover Insurance recover from the 2022 EPS dip and grow its earnings-per-share by 8% per year on average over the next five years, mainly driven by premium growth, assisted by optimizing costs, recording greater gains on its fixed-income investment positions and rising yields and interest rates. This growth rate is a bit more conservative compared to the company's expectations for double-digit growth for the next five years. Hanover Insurance has a long history of paying dividends and has 18 consecutive years of annual dividend increases. In December 2022, the board increased the quarterly dividend by 8% from $0.75 to $0.81. Over the last five years, the average annual growth rate is 7.9%.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Avg. P/E	10.1	12.0	12.2	19.4	19.7	17.2	15.4	11.5	13.2	15.0	16.4	15.0

The last few years Hanover Insurance's valuation has declined from the peak level (19.7) that it reached during 2017. During COVID, its share price declined to around $83 before climbing back to $150 levels in April 2022. During the past decade shares of Hanover Insurance have traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of about 15 times earnings and today, it stands at 16.4. We are using 15 times earnings as a fair value baseline, implying the potential for a valuation headwind.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	27%	29%	27%	44%	43%	33%	30%	28%	33%	55%	45%	45%

During the past five years the company's dividend payout ratio has averaged around 33%. With the current payout ratio of 33%, THG's dividend payments are well covered by earnings. Given the expected earnings growth, there is still room for the dividend to continue to grow moving forward while maintaining a payout ratio below 30%. The Hanover Insurance Group is a diversified and solid insurer with a differentiated P&C franchise in a fragmented market. With their differentiating strategy, such as specialized products and distinctive agency partnerships, the company can strengthen its competitive advantages. Furthermore, Hanover Insurance has a S&P and AM Best "A"-rating and a stable outlook.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

The Hanover Insurance Group has a healthy balance sheet and ambitious financial targets for the next five years. The expected total returns for the shares are 8.7% per year, driven by 8% projected earnings growth, a 2.7% dividend yield, and the potential for a valuation headwind. The company earns a Hold rating.
