Overview & Current Events

Farmers & Merchants Bancorp, Inc. (FMAO) or F&M is a bank holding company headquartered in Archbold, Ohio, USA. It was founded in 1897 and currently operates in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. FMAO caters to a diverse set of customers, including individuals, businesses, and farmers, and offers a range of financial services, including deposit accounts, loans, credit cards, and online banking. FMAO faces significant competition from other regional and national banks, but its strong customer relationships and commitment to personalized service help it maintain a competitive position in the market. The company has a competitive position in the community banking market and holds a market share of 10%. FMAO's revenue segments are retail banking, commercial banking, and agricultural lending.

On July 27th, 2023, the company announced results for the second quarter of 2023. F&M reported Q2 Non-GAAP EPS of $0.44, missing estimates by $0.01. Additionally, the company reported revenues of $24.39 million for the quarter, down 3.1% year-over-year.

Total deposits on June 30, 2023, were $2.47 billion, up 11.0% from June 30, 2022. Compared to 0.44% for the quarter ended June 30th, 2022, and 1.32% for the quarter ended December 31st, 2022, the company's cost of interest-bearing obligations for the quarter ended June 30, 2023, was 2.35%. Additionally, total net loans climbed by 23.6%, or by $481.0 million, to a record $2.52 billion on June 30, 2023, up from $2.36 billion on December 31, 2022, and from $2.03 billion on June 30, 2022. The improvement from the previous year was principally brought on by the completion of the Peoples purchase as well as the impact of ongoing organic loan growth. Without considering the Peoples purchase, total net loans rose organically by 18.5%, or by $376.3 million, compared to the same period in the prior year.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
EPS	$0.96	$1.04	$1.12	$1.26	$1.38	$1.61	$1.66	$1.80	$2.01	$2.46	$2.10	$3.38
DPS	$0.41	$0.42	$0.44	$0.46	$0.50	$0.56	$0.61	$0.66	$0.71	$0.80	$0.84	$1.18
Shares	9.3	9.2	9.2	9.1	9.2	9.2	11.0	11.1	11.6	13.1	13.6	16.7

Compared to the same period last year, when the second quarter of 2023 concluded on June 30th, net income was $8.3 million, it was $6.0 million this time around. For the second quarter of 2023, net income per basic and diluted share was $0.44, down from $0.63 for the comparable period in the previous year. However, the first half of 2023 ended with a net income of $12.5 million as opposed to $16.4 million during the same period in 2022.

There was no material development in the latest quarter to affect our forecast. Therefore, we maintain our EPS forecast of $2.10 in 2023, in line with the higher end of analysts' estimates. Amidst the rising interest rate environment, the bank can grow faster in the following years. With a projected annual EPS growth of 10.0%, FMAO's EPS can reach $3.38 by 2028. F&M's DPS had a nine-year and five-year CAGR of 7.7% and 26.5%, respectively. Considering the company's 5-year payout ratio of 35.2%, we believe there is room for further DPS growth considering EPS' expansion due to margin expansion.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Avg. P/E	11.2	12.1	11.8	11.9	21.6	25.8	17.3	12.9	12.1	13.0	11.7	11.0
Avg. Yld.	1.6%	1.4%	1.3%	1.3%	1.2%	1.3%	1.5%	1.7%	1.8%	2.1%	3.4%	3.2%

F&M is trading at a forward P/E of 11.7, lower than its nine-year and five-year average P/E of 15.0 and 16.2, respectively. Following the banking turmoil and fears of the contagion effect in the sector, the stock has plunged but has strongly recovered lately. Considering the bank's resiliency, we have assumed a stable P/E of 11.0 to value the company in 2028, slightly lower than its historical averages, which accounts for the uncertainty attached to the sector, suggesting a target price of $37, and a 50% upside from current levels.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

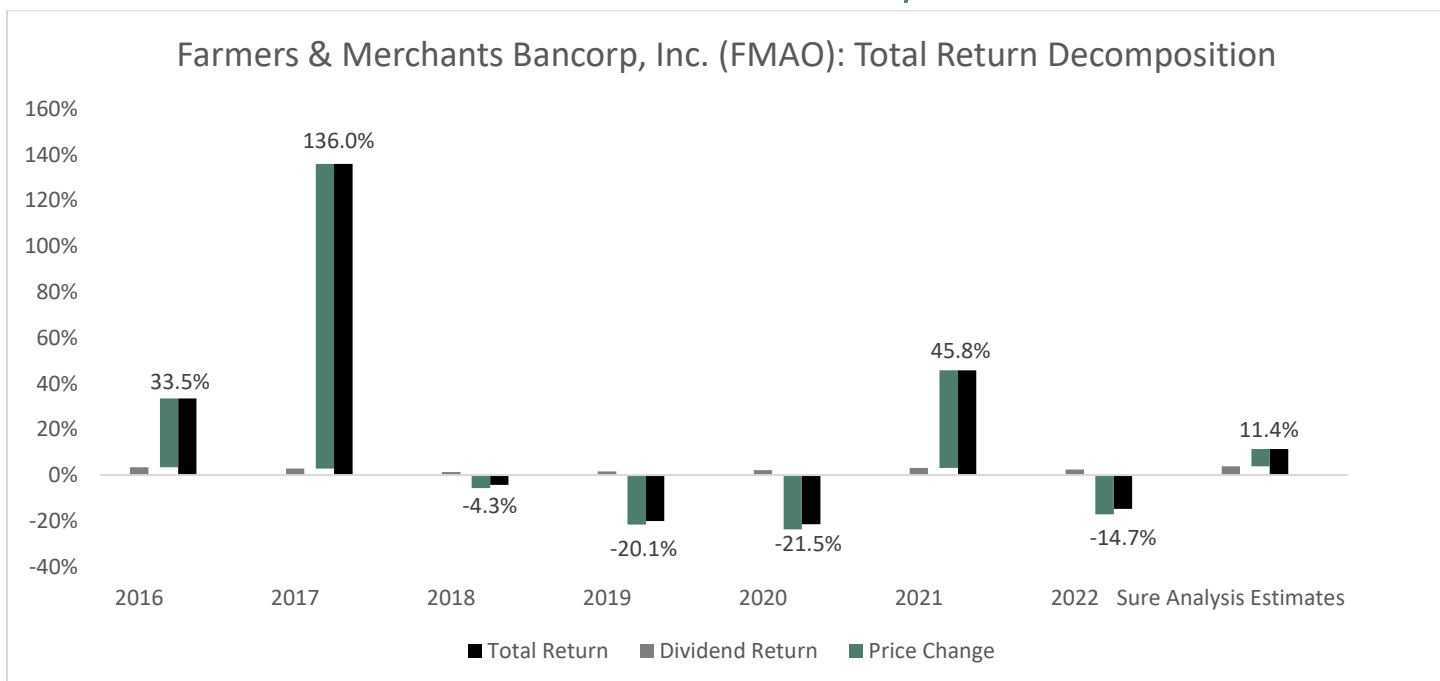

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	43%	40%	39%	37%	36%	35%	37%	37%	35%	33%	40%	36%

The company's competitive advantage lies in its longstanding reputation for providing quality financial services to its customers, along with its strong presence in the communities it serves. During the recession of 2008, F&M, performed well due to its conservative lending practices and strong capital position. In general, F&M has a stable dividend payout ratio, and we expect it to hover around its historical averages of 35%.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

The loan pipeline and the margins are performing better; thus, we anticipate increasing dividend distributions in 2023, especially given that interest rates are currently expected to support profit growth. Following the banking crisis, the sector outlook remains uncertain. However, F&M's strong financial position is robust which leads to our buy rating, premised upon the 11.4% annualized total returns for the medium-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 10.0%, 3.4% dividend yield, and a valuation headwind.
