Overview & Current Events

Consolidated Edison is a holding company that delivers electricity, natural gas, and steam to its customers in New York City and Westchester County. The company has annual revenues of more than $14 billion.

On October 1st, 2022, Consolidated Edison announced that it had agreed to sell its Clean Energy Businesses and its subsidiaries to RWE Renewables Americas, LLC for $6.8 billion. The deal closed near the end of the first quarter of 2023.

On November 3rd, 2023, Consolidated Edison reported third quarter results for the period ending June 30th, 2023. For the quarter, revenue grew 7% to $3.87 billion, which was $36 million more than expected. Adjusted earnings of $561 million, or $1.62 per share, compared to adjusted earnings of $579 million, or $1.63 per share, in the previous year. Adjusted earnings-per-share were $0.03 above estimates.

As with prior quarters, higher rate bases for gas and electric customers were the primary contributors to results in the CECONY business, which accounts for the vast majority of the company's assets. Average rate base balances are expected to grow by 6% annually through 2025. Consolidated Edison expects capital investments of nearly $15 billion for the 2023 to 2025 period.

Consolidated Edison provided updated guidance for 2023 as well. The company now expects adjusted earnings-per-share in a range of $5.00 to $5.10 for 2023, up from $4.85 to $5.00 and $4.75 to $4.95, previously. At the new midpoint, this would be a 10.5% increase from the prior year. We have updated our forecast accordingly.

In 2018, Consolidated Edison received approval to raise its rates by 6% per year in both the electric and gas delivery segments for the next three years. Thanks to rate hikes and population growth, the company has been able to raise its dividend for nearly five decades. Consolidated Edison initiated its biggest investment program in its history last year. It has installed more than 5 million smart meters in its network through the end of 2022. This will help customers optimize energy use while the company will be able to realize lower peak demand and thus reduce its operating cost. The company also expects capital expense of ~$4.7 billion for 2023 and ~$9.8 billion for 2024 and 2025.

Consolidated Edison has grown its earnings-per-share at a 1.7% average annual rate during the last decade. The company has grown its dividend at a 2.8% annual rate over this period, but it has also diluted its shareholders at a 2.2% per year. That said, management stated on the fourth quarter 2022 conference call that share issuance will likely not occur over the next two years following the sale of its Clean Energy Business.

Despite company guidance for higher growth, we reaffirm our estimate of 3.5% annualized earnings-per-share growth for 2023 to 2028 given recent-term results.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2028
Avg. P/E	14.7	15.9	15.6	18.8	20.0	17.4	20.7	17.3	19.4	20.9	18.0	16.0
Avg. Yld.	4.3%	4.4%	4.1%	3.6%	3.4%	3.8%	3.3%	4.2%	3.6%	3.3%	3.6%	4.0%

Just like most other utilities, Consolidated Edison reached somewhat overvalued levels in recent years thanks to the almost record-low interest rates that prevailed for years and led yield-starved investors to utility stocks. Shares of Consolidated Edison have increased $2, or 2.2%, since our August 19th, 2023 report. Shares trade with a price-to-earnings ratio of 18.0 based off revised guidance for 2023. Consolidated Edison has traded at an average multiple of 18 over the last decade, but we believe that a multiple of 16 times earnings is appropriate given the company's lack of growth over the past few years. We expect valuation multiple compression to reduce annual total returns by 2.4% through 2028.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
Payout	63%	70%	64%	68%	68%	66%	68%	73%	71%	69%	64%	64%

Just like most other utilities, thanks to its heavy investments in infrastructure, Consolidated Edison is typically allowed by the regulatory authorities to raise its rates. As a result, it enjoys reliable cash flows and can thus service its debt. One key competitive advantage for Consolidated Edison is that consumers do not curtail their electricity consumption even during the roughest economic periods, so the stock is resilient during recessions. This resiliency should be attractive to investors. In the Great Recession, when most companies saw their earnings collapse, earnings for Consolidated Edison fell just 3% in 2008 and 7% in 2009, and it took only one year to return to the pre-crisis level.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following third quarter results, Consolidated Edison is expected to return 4.6% annually through 2028, which matches our prior estimate. Projected returns stem from a 3.5% earnings growth rate and a starting yield of 3.6% that are offset by low single-digit multiple reversion. For income investors, there is much to like about Consolidated Edison, including the company's dividend growth track record and the stock's solid yield. We have raised our five-year price target $2 to $96 due to revised EPS guidance for the year, but maintain our hold rating on the stock due to projected returns.
