Overview & Current Events

Fox Corp. is a television broadcasting company with an $14.1 billion market cap. The company, known among insiders as "New Fox," was spun off from the former 21st Century Fox when The Walt Disney Co. (DIS) acquired most of its assets in 2019, including its cinema entertainment business. Since the spinoff, Fox Corp. has been a much more focused company, with its operations centered on Cable Networks & Television. For Fiscal Year (FY)2023, the company generated $14.9 billion in revenue.

On November 2nd, 2023, Fox Corp. reported First quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2024. The company fiscal year ends at the end of July. The company reported quarterly revenues of $3.21 billion, a slight increase from the previous year. While affiliate fee revenues rose by 2%, driven by a Television segment growth of 8%, advertising revenues declined by 2%. Factors included the broadcast of the FIFA Women's World Cup at FOX Sports and Tubi's growth, offset by lower political advertising revenues and elevated supply in the direct response marketplace at FOX News Media.

The Company's quarterly net income was $415 million, down from $613 million in the prior year. Net Income attributable to Fox Corporation stockholders was $407 million ($0.82 per share), compared to $605 million ($1.10 per share) in the previous year. Adjusted net income attributable to Fox Corporation stockholders decreased to $537 million ($1.09 per share) from $670 million ($1.21 per share) in the prior year. Quarterly Adjusted EBITDA decreased to $869 million, impacted by higher sports programming rights amortization, production costs, and expenses related to digital investments.

Executive Chair and Chief Executive Officer Lachlan Murdoch noted the solid start to Fiscal 2024, emphasizing the importance of live content for FOX. Increased engagement at FOX Sports and Tubi contributed to the positive performance, despite challenges in the advertising segment. Murdoch remains optimistic about FOX's continued strength in the dynamic media landscape.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
EPS	---	---	---	---	---	$2.63	$2.48	$2.88	$2.79	$3.51	$3.11	$3.97

Fox Corp. is a more focused company following the asset sale. Fox News, Fox Business, Fox Sports, Fox Broadcasting, and other TV assets will remain highly relevant. It helps that Fox News has no mainstream competition in the conservative news arena. The assets that Fox retained are not very cyclical or vulnerable to recessions, compared to, for example, the more cyclical filmed entertainment business. The past year saw earnings increase by 26%. However, we expect a positive, but slower earnings growth of 5% for the next five years. Because of the recent dividend increase, we are now anticipating a 3% annual dividend increase for the next five years.

Currently, Fox's most significant growth prospects are with FOX Bet. Analysts expect the sports betting industry to generate $9 billion in gambling revenue over the next few years. Fox Corp. is in an excellent position to grab a chunk of that. In the immediate term, Fox should see growth as more and more events and businesses start to be fully operational, bringing improved ratings to its news network.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	---	---	---	---	---	14.4	16.4	12.9	11.8	9.7	9.8	13.0
Avg. Yld.	---	---	---	---	---	0.6%	1.7%	1.3%	1.5%	1.5%	1.7%	1.2%

The company was valued with a PE of about 13.0x for the past few years. However, we think that a 13x valuation is fair for this company. Currently, the company is trading hands for a PE multiple of 9.8x. This PE provides a moderate valuation multiple expansion of 5.9%. Also, the company's current stock price is under our fair price of $40. The company dividend yield is unattractive, considering that the S&P 500 current dividend yield is 1.6%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	---	---	---	---	---	8.7%	18.5%	16.0%	17.2%	14.2%	17%	15%

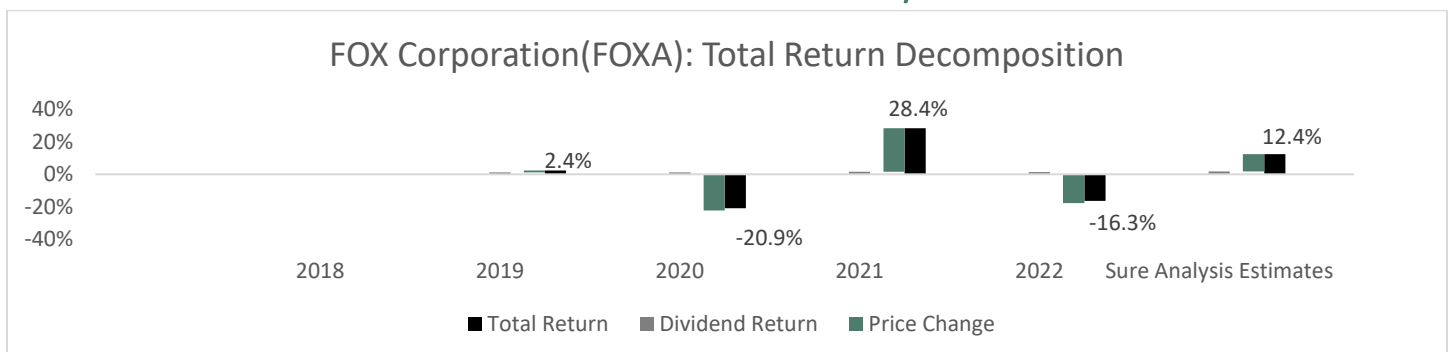

21st Century Fox paid out ~20% of its net profits in the form of dividends throughout most of the last decade. The payout ratio has been even lower during some of the previous years. Fox Corp. paid 16% of its profits in 2021, with an estimated 2029 payout conservatively around 15%. The low payout ratio means that the dividend looks very safe, although the low dividend yield is not especially attractive for income-focused investors.

According to peers, Fox Corp's most influential position has always been in its news channels and sports programming – assets The Company continues to own after the deal with Disney. The sale of some assets could improve Fox's position in the long run, as it allows The Company to focus on the businesses it is best at, Cable & TV broadcasting. The TV business is not very cyclical, so Fox Corp. will likely be less vulnerable in future recessions. The company currently has a debt-to-equity ratio of 0.8 and an Interest Coverage ratio of 5.1. Thus, the company has an excellent balance sheet.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

As more sporting events came back, Fox kicked off 2023 with spectacular viewership numbers. Next year should only improve the network as advertising grows and more sporting events start again. Also, the growth of sports betting is a massive win for the company. Based on our estimates, shares are currently undervalued. We estimate the following five-year projected returns to be only 12.4%. Thus, we rate FOXA a buy at the current price because of the expected return over the next five years.
