Overview & Current Events

Ingredion Inc (INGR) is a multinational ingredient solutions company headquartered in Westchester, Illinois. Founded in 1906, INGR was incorporated as a Delaware corporation in 1997, operates in over 44 countries, and employs more than 11,000 people. The company is principally engaged in producing and selling starches and sweeteners for various industries. Essentially Ingredion turns grains, fruits, vegetables, and other plant-based materials into value-added ingredient solutions for the food, beverage, animal nutrition, brewing, and industrial markets. Ingredion operates in four business segments: North America, South America; Asia-Pacific; and Europe, Middle East, and Africa ("EMEA").

Ingredion released its third-quarter 2023 results on November 7th, 2023. In Q3, the company achieved net sales growth of 1%, amounting to $2.02 billion. This gain was driven by price and product mix adjustments, offset by volume reductions and foreign exchange influences. Segment-wise, North America's Q3 2023 operating income surged 36%, driven by an advantageous price mix, counteracting increased input costs, and decreased volume. Conversely, South America encountered a substantial 40% decrease in Q3 2023 operating income due to diminished volumes, increasing input costs, and adverse foreign exchange impacts. Meanwhile, despite lower volume, Asia-Pacific and EMEA regions exhibited robust 22% growth, predominantly attributed to a favorable price mix. The quarter also saw diluted EPS increase from $1.56 to $2.36, while adjusted EPS remained stable at $2.33.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028
EPS	$5.05	$4.74	$5.51	$6.55	$7.06	$6.17	$6.13	$5.15	$6.67	$7.34	$9.25	$10.72
DPS	$1.56	$1.68	$1.74	$1.90	$2.20	$2.45	$2.51	$2.54	$2.57	$2.72	$3.12	$3.98
Shares	77.0	73.6	71.6	72.3	72.0	70.9	66.9	67.2	67.1	66.7	65.7	65.7

Ingredion's earnings-per-share have grown at a CAGR of 5% over the last nine years. While the company saw a small decline in 2019/2020 due to lower sweetener demand, commodity margin pressures, and higher production and supply chain costs, its cost-smart initiative enabled it to save ~$170 million. In addition, the company's ability to combat rising costs in corn and strong volume growth helped the company beat our $6.87 2022 EPS estimate.

The company has increased its forward-looking guidance to mid-double-digit growth in net sales for 2023 with an adjusted EPS between $9.05 to $9.45. Given management's strong performance over the last couple of years, volumes increasing with solid demand with breakthrough product innovation in the specialties segment, we have no reason to doubt expectations. We increased our estimated EPS at the midpoint of the guidance, which at $9.25, represents ~25% growth year-over-year. In September 2023, the company announced a 10% dividend increase. This was the company's 13th consecutive annual dividend increase. This is the second consecutive increase above 9% which breaks the declining trend for dividend raises over the previous four years. Therefore, based on strong growth, we have increased our dividend growth rate estimate to 5% from 2% and predict a $3.98 div/share by 2028.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	Now	2027
Avg. P/E	13.4	14.3	15.2	16.9	16.1	16.4	13.0	15.3	14.6	13.2	10.9	15.0

Ingredion expects double-digit growth in 2023 as the global market share in clean and simple ingredients, global alternative protein ingredients, and reduced sugar ingredients will increase to over $70 billion within the next five years. The company has positioned itself to capitalize on this growth by expanding its specialty ingredient portfolio in 2019. This will enable rapid, efficient customer co-creation to develop new food and beverages. The company is starting to see the benefits of this expansion as Sioux City has doubled its production of pea protein isolate, helping to increase sales by three figures worldwide. Ingredion is trading at a price-to-earnings ratio of 10.9, below its average P/E ratio since 2013. The stock is also trading at 73% of our fair value estimate of $138, and we currently have a five-year price target of $161.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

		1.5					0 :
Year	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2028

Ingredion is a leading provider of ingredients to industries that show growth potential, including the food and beverage industry. The company has a simple business model and nicely positioned itself in the global food supply chain. During the Great Recession, the company performed relatively better than the broader market, with a slight drop in sales and earnings in 2009 before quickly returning to growth in 2010. We have seen a similar trend during the COVID pandemic, with the company quickly returning to growth last year. However, supply chain issues and a higher inflationary environment can impact the company's bottom line. The starch and sweetener industry is a highly competitive industry, particularly in North America. Many companies' products are considered essential ingredients that compete with virtually identical products manufactured by other companies in the industry, such as Archer-Daniels-Midland (ADM). The company tries to gain a competitive advantage by investing heavily in R&D with a team of over 500 scientists who work on plant science, food formulations, and the development of non-food applications such as starch-based biopolymers.

Final Thoughts & Recommendations

INGR is a solid and straightforward business that will likely grow its dividend in future years. However, some risks should be considered, such as regulation, competition, and the price of raw materials, especially corn. Volumes are also beginning to soften from last year. Despite these challenges, we are confident the company can meet its expectations. With a 5-year CAGR estimate of 12.1%, Ingredion receives a buy recommendation from Sure Dividend.
