RPM International manufactures, markets and distributes chemical products to industrial, retail and specialty customers. The majority of sales are made to industrial customers. RPM was founded in 1947 and employs more than 15,000 people today.

On October 5th, 2023, RPM announced that it was increasing its quarterly dividend 9.5% to $0.46, extending the company's dividend growth streak to 50 consecutive years.

On October 4th, 2023, RPM reported earnings results for the first quarter of fiscal year 2024 for the period ending August 31st, 2023. For the quarter, revenue grew 4.1% to a first quarter record $2.01 billion, which was $40 million above estimates. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.64 compared to $1.47 in the prior year, which was $0.10 better than expected.

Three out of four segments of the company produced record revenue for the first quarter. Companywide, organic sales improved 3.9% for the period. Revenue for the Consumer Group increased 1.5% to $670 million. This segment had organic growth of 1.7% due to pricing action. The Construction Products Group grew 10.8% to $783 million. This segment had organic growth of 9.5% due to strength in restoration systems for roofing and parking structures. Performance Coatings Group revenue was up 4.1% to $379 million. Organic sales were up 4.0% as infrastructure-related businesses saw higher demand. Revenue of $181 million for Specialty Products Group was a 10.7% decrease year-over-year due once again to lower volumes in those businesses that serve OEM markets. Organic sales declined 9%.

RPM now expects sales to be up a low single-digit for fiscal year 2024, which is down from a projection of mid-single-digit growth. We forecast earnings-per-share of $4.98 for the fiscal year, up from $4.92 previously. This would be a 15.8% increase from the prior year.

The last recession had a severe impact on RPM's earnings, which saw a decline of 42% from 2008 to 2009. It was not until 2013 that RPM's earnings numbers recovered above 2008's total. In recent years, growth has been much steadier. From fiscal year 2014 to fiscal year 2023, earnings per share grew at a rate of 7.0% per year. That growth rate has accelerated to 10.1% over just the last five years. Factoring in the strength of recent results with the likely declines in earnings during the next recession, we now forecast annual earnings growth of 7%, up from 5%, through fiscal year 2029. Organic revenue growth is expected to be the primary contributor.

Growth slowed during the last recession, but RPM was able to maintain and increase its dividend payments to shareholders even in an adverse economic climate. RPM is now a Dividend King due to its five decades of dividend growth.

Valuation Analysis

Shares of RPM have decreased $13, or 12.4%, since our July 30th, 2023 update. Using expected earnings-per-share for fiscal year 2024, the price-to-earnings ratio is 18.5. We reaffirm our target P/E of 20 from 18 as this is more in-line with the long-term average valuation and reflects the quality of earnings results over the past few years. If the stock were trade with this multiple by fiscal 2029, then valuation would be a 1.6% tailwind to annual returns over this period.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Payout | 44%  | 43%  | 41%  | 48%  | 47%  | 53%  | 47%  | 37%  | 43%  | 39%  | 37%  | 37%  |

RPM is not recession proof, as shown by the company's decline in earnings, and in the time that it took for earnings growth to return to the company following the last recession. The company also has a high level of debt that could make acquisitions or high dividend growth difficult if earnings were to weaken.

RPM is a leading manufacturer and distributor of paints, coatings, construction chemicals, colorants and adhesives to consumers, contractors, and construction businesses. These businesses perform well when the economy is growing due to the increases in construction and home improvement spending. However, RPM is very susceptible to recessions.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following first quarter results, RPM International is now expected to return 10.4% per year through fiscal year 2029, up from our previous estimate of 7.2%. Our forecast stems from a 7% earnings growth rate, a starting yield of 2.0%, and a low single-digit contribution from multiple expansion. RPM International continues to deliver record setting results, an impressive feat considering the growth rates that the company experienced last fiscal year. The company has an impressive dividend growth streak as well. We have raised our five-year price target $2 to $140 to reflect estimates for the fiscal year. We now rate shares of RPM International as a buy due to projected returns.
