Overview & Current Events

Citizens Financial Group is a bank holding company for Citizens Bank, a regional bank that is based in Providence, Rhode Island. Citizens operates in two segments: Consumer Banking and Commercial Banking. The consumer segment offers traditional banking products and services, such as deposit accounts, home and education loans, credit cards, business loans, mortgage and home equity loans, personal loans, auto finance loans, and wealth management. The commercial segment offers a full suite of financial products and services to businesses, including treasury management, cash management, forex and interest rate risk solutions, M&A advisory services, and more. Citizens traces its roots back to 1828 and operates about 1,000 branches in 11 states in the U.S. The stock trades with a market capitalization of $15 billion, and Citizens should generate roughly $8 billion in revenue this year.

Citizens posted fourth quarter and full-year earnings on January 17th, 2024, and results were largely in line with expectations. Adjusted earnings-per-share came to 85 cents, which was a penny ahead of estimates. Earnings fell from $1.32 in the year-ago period. Revenue was off almost 10% year-over-year, however, and missed estimates fractionally. Net interest income was $1.49 billion, down slightly from Q3, and off from $1.70 billion a year ago. Net interest margin was 2.91%, down from 3.03% in Q3 and 3.30% in last year's Q4.

Provisions for credit losses of $171 million, flat to Q3, and somewhat worse than last year's Q4 value of $132 million. Noninterest expense was $500 million, up slightly from Q3, and down slightly from last year's Q4, which came to $505 million.

We start 2024 with an estimate of $3.35 in earnings-per-share, based upon weak guidance from management on net interest income as rates retrace 2023 gains.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029

Citizens has posted strong earnings growth in most years, with 2020 being the obvious exception. Citizens had been seeing strong credit metrics based on prudent underwriting strategies, resulting in lower net charge-offs and allowances for credit losses until recently. Citizens, like just about every other bank of reasonable size, took huge credit loss provisions in 2020, but those were largely unwound in 2021 as actual results were much better than originally feared during the worst of the pandemic. We note that Citizens is seeing lower lending margins and rising expenses, given the volatile moves in interest rates that continue to take place. Given this, as well as the unsustainable nature of credit loss provision unwinding from elevated 2020 levels, we think Citizens will struggle to replicate 2021 earnings levels. Based on low estimates for 2024, we have upgraded our growth forecast to 8% annually. We see rising lending costs, higher credit costs, and a lack of loan growth as headwinds for this year, but earnings should normalize into 2025 and beyond.

We see the dividend rising in the years to come as Citizens' payout ratio is low compared to many regional banks. The dividend has proven to be a priority to management, and we believe it has the potential to hit $1.95 per share by 2029. We note that Citizens raised its payout for the first time in 2.5 years in mid-2022.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	15.4	16.4	12.3	11.2	11.5	9.3	12.6	10.8	8.1	8.5	9.6	9.0
Avg. Yld.	0.4%	1.6%	1.9%	1.8%	2.4%	3.8%	5.6%	3.4%	4.1%	4.9%	5.3%	4.4%

Citizens has been valued in the low-double-digits for the past handful of years, excluding 2022, and we peg fair value at 9 times earnings. Shares trade at 9.6 times this year's earnings, implying a modestly negative valuation impact. The yield is also very strong at 5.3%, and we see it remaining above 4% for the foreseeable future.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	6%	26%	23%	20%	28%	36%	70%	29%	33%	42%	50%	40%

We see the payout ratio remaining where it is today for the years to come, as earnings growth and dividend growth should be roughly congruent. We have no dividend safety concerns at this point.

Citizens, like any other bank, is beholden to economic conditions. Citizens didn't exist in its current form during the Great Recession, but regional banks in general are quite susceptible to recessions, and indeed 2020 showed what kind of impact a recession can have on earnings. Citizens, also like other regional banks, doesn't really enjoy any competitive advantages, as services are commoditized in banking to a large extent.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Expected total returns have deteriorated slightly since our last report, but we are reiterating the stock at a buy rating. Dividend safety is strong, and the current yield is about three times that of the S&P 500, so we see Citizens as a strong income stock, although it's slightly overvalued now. Total returns could accrue from 8% growth, a small valuation headwind, and the strong 5.3% yield.
