Overview & Current Events

City Holding Company (CHCO) serves as the holding entity for City National Bank of West Virginia, offering a comprehensive range of financial services throughout the United States. These services encompass banking, trust, and investment management, with a diverse suite of products, including checking, savings, money market accounts, certificates of deposit, and individual retirement accounts. The company's portfolio encompasses commercial and industrial loans, commercial real estate loans, residential real estate loans, home equity loans, and consumer loans. Additionally, they provide mortgage banking services and a variety of deposit and wealth management solutions for individual and commercial clients, along with modern banking technologies such as ATMs, interactive teller machines, mobile banking, and credit and debit card services.

On January 24th, 2024, the company announced results for the fourth quarter of 2023. City Holding reported non-GAAP EPS of $1.84, missing estimates by $0.06. The company reported revenues of $69.13 million for the quarter, down 2.53% year-over-year. The company announced a record year for 2023, with net income at $114.4 million and diluted earnings per share of $7.61. The return on assets was 1.87%, while the return on tangible equity was 23.8%. Despite the headwinds in the banking industry, City Holding's President and CEO, Charles Hageboeck, highlighted that the performance was due to a robust and deep customer base and conservative operating principles. The purchase of Citizens Commerce Bancshares also broadened the City's reach into central Kentucky during the year. Finally, loan growth, excluding loans from Citizens, was greater than 6%, and asset quality was robust, requiring only a minimal provision for credit losses. City Holding experienced a 2% growth in checking accounts, with stronger traction in areas where the bank holds a dominant market position.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
EPS	$3.38	$3.53	$3.45	$3.48	$4.49	$5.42	$5.55	$5.66	$6.80	$7.61	$7.54	$12.14

Shares³	15.5	15.2	14.9	15.4	15.4	16.3	16.0	15.4	14.9	14.9	14.8	14.6

City Holding's performance reflects its focus on stability and growth, underpinned by its core values. With consistent non-performing asset ratios and a robust risk management strategy, the company's proactive approach to maintaining credit quality is evident. The growth of loans, notably in commercial and industrial sectors, demonstrates their value in supporting local businesses and economic development. However, the dip in commercial real estate loans suggests cautious lending practices. An increase in average depository balances mitigates the decline in period-end deposit balances, thanks to acquisitions from Citizens. Nevertheless, a decline in savings and non-interest-bearing demand deposits, counterbalanced by growth in interest-bearing demand and time balances, shows a shift in customer deposit preferences.

City Holding Company (CHCO)

Updated February 22nd, 2024, by Yiannis Zourmpanos

In line with the analysts' estimates and the favorable microenvironment, we expect the company to post an EPS of $7.54 in 2024. We estimate an EPS growth of 10.0% over the next five years, leading to our estimated EPS of $12.14 by 2029. Moreover, the company has a solid record of paying dividends despite operating in a macroeconomically sensitive sector, as City Holding has paid an increasing dividend for the past six years. We expect the company to maintain its dividend growth and have forecasted a dividend CAGR of 5.0%, leading to a dividend of $3.65 in 2029.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	13.0	13.3	14.7	19.3	16.4	14.2	11.8	13.7	12.7	12.4	13.4	10.0
Avg. Yld.	3.6%	3.5%	3.4%	2.6%	1.9%	2.8%	3.5%	3.0%	2.8%	2.8%	2.8%	3.0%

The regional bank trades at a forward P/E of 13.4, slightly lower than the long-term average P/E of 14.1 and the five-year average P/E of 13.0. Even though the higher interest rates and an uptick in the loan portfolio will benefit the company in the near term, we assign a P/E of 10.0 to the stock, which is a fair reflection of its value, leading to our target price of $121 by 2029.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	46%	47%	50%	50%	31%	40%	41%	41%	36%	35%	38%	30%

The company has paid a consistent dividend to its shareholders with a 10-year payout ratio averaging 44%, and we expect the company to maintain and increase its payout in the future. The demand for loans has recovered in recent quarters, and we expect the company to be in a much better position in the future than it is today. In addition, the margins continue to improve in the high-interest rate environment, and the net interest margin ought to be high, driven by the Fed's 'higher for longer' stance. Nevertheless, a case of a hard landing or recession could adversely affect its performance. Under the terms of the current program, the Company has repurchased 667,000 shares in 2023.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While City Holding runs an interest rate-sensitive regional banking business, increased loans and net interest margins will be a positive catalyst for EPS growth. Indeed, City Holding's dividend growth prospects could remain strong throughout the medium-term. However, we maintain our hold rating for CHCO premised upon the 6.4% annualized total returns for the medium-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 10.0%, the 2.8% dividend yield, and a valuation headwind.
