Overview & Current Events

Cigna is a leading provider of insurance products and services. The company's products include dental, medical, disability and life insurance that it provides through employer-sponsored, government-sponsored, and individual coverage plans. Cigna operates four business segments, including Evernorth, which provides pharmacy services and benefit management, U.S. Medical, which provides commercial and government health insurance, International Markets and Group Disability. Evernorth contributes 70% of annual revenues while Cigna Healthcare accounts for 24%. Cigna has annual revenues of ~$235 billion.

On January 31st, 2024, Cigna announced that it was selling its Medicare business to Health Care Service Corporation for $3.7 billion.

On February 2nd, 2024, Cigna announced that it was increasing its quarterly dividend 14% to $1.40.

Also on February 2nd, 2024, Cigna announced fourth quarter and full year results for the period ending December 31st, 2023. For the quarter, revenue increased 11.7% to $51.1 billion, which was $2.21 billion more than expected. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $6.79 compared to adjusted earnings-per-share of $4.96 in the prior year and was $0.25 above estimates. For 2023, revenue grew 8.2% to $195.3 billion while adjusted earnings-per-share of $25.09 compared to $23.27 in the previous year. For the quarter, total pharmacy customers increased 5% to 98.6 million. Total medical customers grew 9.9% year-over-year to 19.8 million. Adjusted revenue for the Evernorth segment, which is the largest within the company, was up 12% to $40.5 billion due to organic growth in specialty pharmacy and care solutions. Adjusted revenue for Cigna Healthcare increased 17% to $12 billion due once again to customer growth and premium rate increases.

Cigna provided an outlook for 2024 as well. Revenue is expected to be least $235 billion for the year while adjusted earnings-per-share should be at least $28.25. We have initiated our forecast accordingly.

Earnings-per-share have a compound annual growth rate of 12.9% for the 2014 through 2023 period of time. An increase in the share count during this time hides the fact that net profit has actually increased at a rate of 14.1% per year. Cigna's growth rate has remained solid in the medium-term as earnings-per-share have a compound annual growth rate of 8.0 % since 2019. One reason that earnings have a CAGR in the double-digit range is that the need for pharmacy services and health care plans will increase as more people age. Cigna's merger with Express Scripts, one of the top pharmacy benefit managers in the market, in 2018 should also provide tailwinds. In addition, Cigna has an ambitious goal to reduce its health care costs, which, overall, have risen much higher than inflation. We reaffirm our targeted earnings-per-share growth rate of 10% through 2029 as we find Cigna's business model very attractive.

Cigna Corporation (CI)

Updated February 2nd, 2024 by Nathan Parsh

Cigna’s dividend had never been a priority for the company. After cutting its dividend by 20% in 2009, the company has paid the same amount every year up until 2020. It should be noted that Cigna had typically paid an annual dividend in April of each year. That all changed when the company declared a $1.00 quarterly dividend for the March 25th, 2021 payment date. The company followed that up with a double-digit increase or near double-digit increase each of the last three years. We now anticipate dividend growth of at least 10% annually through 2029.

Valuation Analysis

Shares of Cigna have increased $35, or 11.9%, since our November 12th, 2023 report. The stock has an average price-to-earnings ratio of 13.1 over the last decade. Currently, the stock is valued at 11.6 times earnings estimates for the year. Price-to-earnings ratios were likely lower during the early portions of the past decade due to market concerns over how health care plans would do. Those fears appear to have abated somewhat. Reaching our 2029 target multiple of 13 times earnings could add 2.3% to annual returns over the next five years.

Cigna’s dividend has largely not played a role in the company’s total returns. That changed somewhat as Cigna’s stock now offers a yield that is above the average yield of the S&P 500 index.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	1%	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	20%	19%	20%	20%	20%

Cigna happens to operate in an industry that tends to hold up well during recessionary times as health insurance and pharmacy businesses are still in demand. Earnings-per-share fell from $3.96 in 2007 to $3.42 in 2008 (a 13.6% decrease), but rebounded to make a new high in 2009. Cigna has seen earnings-per-share grow each year since except for 2016.

We feel that Cigna has some immense competitive advantages. The company is one of the largest names in its industry, giving it a size and scale that is hard to match. Cigna’s acquisition of Express Scripts appears to have been a solid move, strengthening the company’s presence in its pharmacy business. Perhaps most important, an aging demographic will need increased pharmacy and medical services, giving Cigna an incredibly large pool of potential customers.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Cigna is now expected to produce total returns of 13.9% through 2029, up from our prior estimate of 13.3%. Our projected return stems from a 10% earnings growth rate, a starting yield of 1.7%, and a low single-digit tailwind from multiple expansion. Cigna experienced growth throughout its business in the most recent quarter and provided aggressive guidance for 2024. Shares continue earn a buy rating due to projected returns.
