Overview & Current Events

LTC Properties is a REIT that invests in senior housing and skilled nursing properties. Its portfolio consists of approximately 50% senior housing and 50% skilled nursing properties. The REIT owns 201 investments in 26 states with 29 operating partners and has a market capitalization of $1.4 billion.

Just like other healthcare REITs, LTC benefits from a strong secular trend, namely the high growth of the population that is above 80 years old. This growth results from the aging of the baby boomers' generation and the steady rise of life expectancy thanks to sustained progress in medical sciences.

LTC has been facing a headwind in recent years, namely the bankruptcy of Senior Care Centers, which is the largest skilled nursing operator in Texas. Senior Care filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy in December-2018. Until 2018, it was generating 9.7% of the annual revenues of LTC and was the fifth largest customer of LTC.

In mid-February, LTC reported (2/15/24) financial results for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2023. Funds from operations (FFO) per share dipped -8% over the prior year's quarter, from $0.72 to $0.66, and missed the analysts' consensus by $0.02. The decrease in FFO per share resulted from lower rental income due to the sale of some properties, which more than offset higher interest income. LTC reduced its leverage ratio (Net Debt to EBITDA) from 6.0x in the previous quarter to 5.5x. We praise this move but debt remains elevated. LTC is facing a headwind due to deferred payments from some tenants. As a result, LTC has not provided any guidance for this year. While the pandemic has subsided, LTC still exhibits lackluster business momentum. As a result, we expect essentially flat FFO per share this year.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

FFO	$2.55	$2.77	$3.06	$3.10	$3.06	$3.08	$2.99	$2.35	$2.56	$2.62	$2.60	$3.01

Due to the aforementioned headwinds LTC has been facing in recent years, the REIT has failed to grow its funds from operations meaningfully over the last decade. Growth has stalled in the last six years, partly due to the bankruptcy of Senior Care. On the bright side, the REIT has most of its assets in states with the highest projected increases in the 80+ population cohort over the next decade. Moreover, LTC has been hurt by the pandemic, but this crisis has subsided. Due to the low comparison base formed this year, we expect 3.0% growth in FFO per share over the next five years.

LTC has traded at an average price-to-FFO ratio of 14.7 over the last decade and has consistently traded around this valuation level in the last decade. LTC is now trading at a FFO multiple of 12.3, which is lower than the historical average, due to the impact of 23-year high interest rates on the interest expense and the present value of future earnings. We expect inflation and interest rates to subside in the upcoming years. If the stock trades at its average valuation level in five years, it will enjoy a 3.6% annualized gain in its returns.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	80.0%	74.7%	71.6%	73.5%	74.5%	74.0%	76.3%	97.0%	89.1%	87.0%	87.7%	75.6%

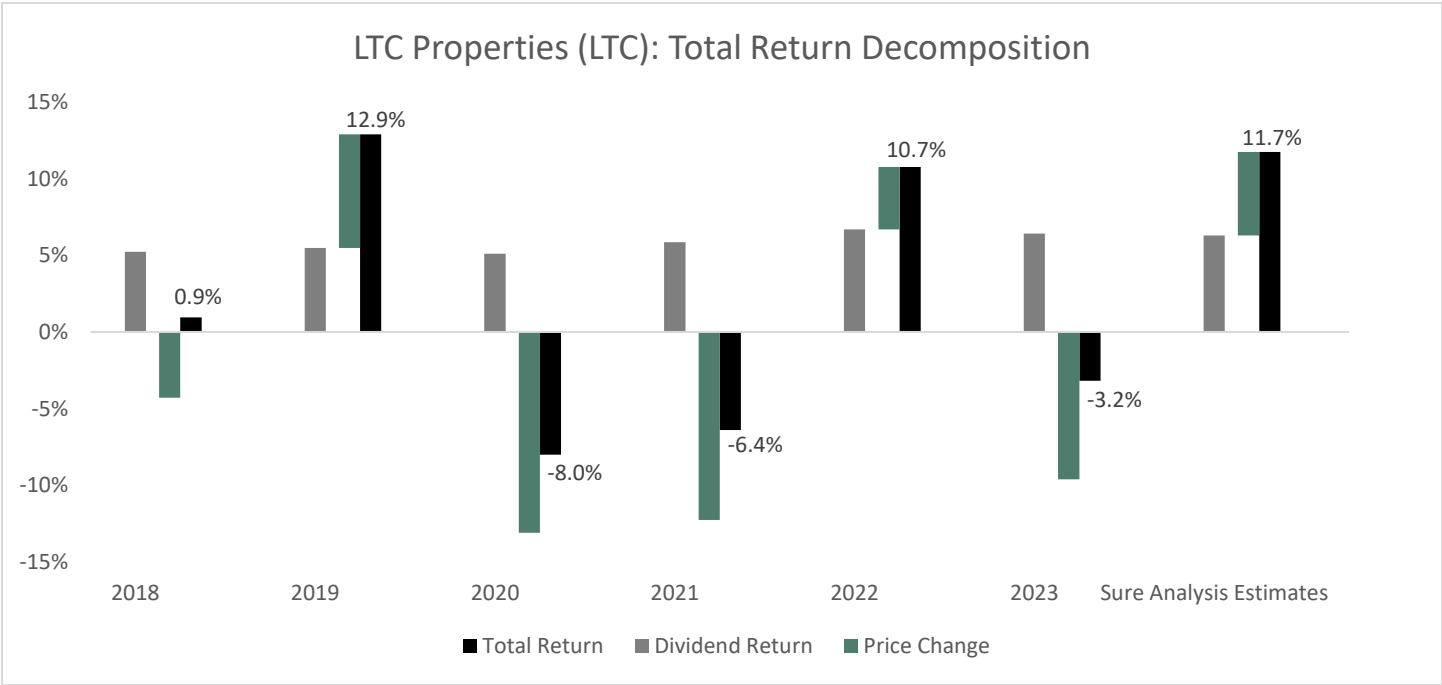

LTC implements a strict screening process before purchasing its assets while it tries to minimize its risk via geographical diversification and security deposits. While it benefits from sustained growth in the health care industry, it does not have a meaningful competitive advantage, as evidenced by its stagnation in the last six years. In addition, the default of a major customer of LTC proved that the REIT has tenant bankruptcy risk.

LTC is offering an attractive 7.1% dividend yield. However, it has frozen its dividend in the last seven years due to the absence of underlying growth. Consequently, it is prudent not to expect dividend growth for the foreseeable future. The payout ratio is 88% and the balance sheet is leveraged, with a debt to adjusted EBITDA ratio of 5.5x and an interest coverage ratio of 2.8. As a result, the dividend may come under pressure if the trust faces a strong headwind, such as a recession. Fortunately, the REIT does not have material debt maturities for the next four years.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

LTC has failed to grow its FFO meaningfully for six consecutive years. With that said, we expect the REIT to overcome the headwinds from the bankruptcy of its major customer and the pandemic and return to growth mode next year. The stock could offer an 11.7% average annual return over the next five years thanks to 3.0% growth, its 7.1% dividend and a 3.6% valuation tailwind. It thus maintains its buy rating but it is suitable only for patient investors.
