RPM International manufactures, markets and distributes chemical products to industrial, retail and specialty customers. The majority of sales are made to industrial customers. RPM was founded in 1947 and employs more than 15,000 people today.

On October 5th, 2023, RPM announced that it was increasing its quarterly dividend 9.5% to $0.46, extending the company's dividend growth streak to 50 consecutive years.

On April 4th, 2024, RPM reported earnings results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2024 for the period ending February 29th, 2024. For the quarter, revenue was stable at $1.72 billion, which was in-line with expectations. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $0.52 compared to $0.37 in the prior year, but was $0.06 above estimates.

RPM produced record third quarter sales, net income, adjusted earnings-per-share, and EBIT during the period. Companywide, organic sales increased 0.9% for the quarter. Revenue for the Consumer Group was lower by 4.0% to $507 million. Organic sales were down 3.2% due to weaker DIY volume, lean customer inventories, and product mix. The Construction Products Group grew 4.3% to a third quarter record $496 million. This segment had organic growth of 3.1% due to demand for engineered solutions serving infrastructure and reshoring-related projects. Performance Coatings Group revenue was up by 6.9% to a third quarter record $344 million. Organic sales were higher by 9.2% due to strength in international markets and the timing of project completions. Revenue for the Specialty Products Group fell 7.6% to $177 million due to challenging comparable periods. OEM end markets showed some stabilization during the period. Organic sales decreased 6.4%, though this was a deceleration from the preceding quarter.

RPM continues to expect sales to be up a low single-digit for fiscal year 2024, which is down from a projection of mid-single-digit growth previously. We forecast earnings-per-share of $4.94 for the fiscal year, down from $4.98 previously. Still, this would be a nearly 15% increase from fiscal year 2023.

The last recession had a severe impact on RPM's earnings, which saw a decline of 42% from 2008 to 2009. It was not until 2013 that RPM's earnings numbers recovered above 2008's total. In recent years, growth has been much steadier. From fiscal year 2014 to fiscal year 2023, earnings per share grew at a rate of 7.0% per year. That growth rate has accelerated to 10.1% over just the last five years. Factoring in the strength of recent results with the likely declines in earnings during the next recession, we reaffirm our prior forecast of annual earnings growth of 7%, up from 5%, through fiscal year 2029. Organic revenue growth is expected to be the primary contributor.

RPM Intl. Inc. (RPM)

Updated April 30th, 2024 by Nathan Parsh

Growth slowed during the last recession, but RPM was able to maintain and increase its dividend payments to shareholders even in an adverse economic climate. RPM is now a Dividend King due to its five decades of dividend growth.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	17.7	19.8	17.3	21.2	15.9	20.1	24.4	22.5	24.1	18.5	22.1	20.0

Shares of RPM have increased $1, or 0.9%, since our January 31st, 2024 update. Using expected earnings-per-share for fiscal year 2024, the price-to-earnings ratio is 22.1. We reaffirm our target P/E of 20 from 18 as this is more in-line with the long-term average valuation and reflects the quality of earnings results over the past few years. If the stock were trade with this multiple by fiscal 2029, then valuation would be a 1.9% headwind to annual returns over this period.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	44%	43%	41%	48%	47%	53%	47%	37%	43%	39%	37%	37%

RPM is not recession proof, as shown by the company's decline in earnings, and in the time that it took for earnings growth to return to the company following the last recession. The company also has a high level of debt that could make acquisitions or high dividend growth difficult if earnings were to weaken.

RPM is a leading manufacturer and distributor of paints, coatings, construction chemicals, colorants and adhesives to consumers, contractors, and construction businesses. These businesses perform well when the economy is growing due to the increases in construction and home improvement spending. However, RPM is very susceptible to recessions.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following third quarter results, RPM International is now expected to return 6.6% per year through fiscal year 2029, down slightly from our previous estimate of 6.9%. Our forecast stems from a 7% earnings growth rate and a starting yield of 1.7%, offset by a low single-digit headwind from multiple expansion. RPM International continues to build off excellent results over the past few years, with the company demonstrating another quarterly record for sales and net income. There are some areas of weakness within the company, but, overall, the business is strong. We have lowered our five-year price target $1 to $139 to reflect updated estimates for the fiscal year, but we continue to rate shares of RPM International as a hold due to projected returns.
