Overview & Current Events

Uniti Group is a Real Estate Investment Trust (i.e., REIT) that focuses on acquiring, constructing, and leasing out communications infrastructure in the United States. In particular, it owns millions of miles of fiber strand along with other communications real estate. In its recent past it has faced challenges due to its largest tenant filing for bankruptcy and renegotiating its lease with Uniti. However, the REIT is now on firmer footing and is pursuing growth opportunities.

Uniti Group Inc. (UNIT) reported solid results for the first quarter of 2024, with consolidated revenues reaching $286.4 million. Net income stood at $41.3 million, and Adjusted EBITDA amounted to $228.6 million, achieving Adjusted EBITDA margins of approximately 80%. President and CEO Kenny Gunderman highlighted the success of the core recurring strategic fiber business, which grew by 4% compared to the same period in 2023, and noted a decline in net success-based capital intensity at Uniti Fiber, indicating the success of the lease-up strategy. The company's transformational merger with Windstream, announced earlier, is expected to expand Uniti's network reach to 1.5 million homes passed with next-gen fiber, further strengthening its growth trajectory and financial profile. Uniti Fiber contributed $68.8 million in revenues and $23.8 million in Adjusted EBITDA for the quarter, while Uniti Leasing contributed $217.6 million in revenues and $210.7 million in Adjusted EBITDA. The company maintained a healthy liquidity position with approximately $470.1 million in unrestricted cash and cash equivalents and undrawn borrowing availability under its revolving credit agreement. Additionally, a quarterly cash dividend of $0.15 per common share was declared, payable on June 28, 2024, to stockholders of record on June 14, 2024.

Since the IPO in 2015, Uniti Group has struggled to grow AFFO per share as it has been weighed down by a heavy debt burden and significant troubles with a very large tenant. Eventually it was forced to renegotiate its lease and as a result has taken a hit to cash flows. However, the REIT is on much firmer footing today and is looking to reignite growth.

It is primarily working to drive this growth through refinancing its debt at significantly lower rates in order to generate increased cash flow from existing revenue streams while also leasing up its under-utilized assets. In the near-term, however, higher interest rates are delaying this tailwind, resulting in the large decline in AFFO per share expected in 2023. By adding leasing to its assets it can generate extremely high returns on investment capital as additional customers require minimal additional capital expenditures, but bring in strong cash flows. As a result, we expect Uniti Group to generate 6.3% annualized AFFO per share growth over the next half decade off of this year's lows.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
P/AFFO		11.00	10.5	9.7	7.4	6.3	4	6.8	8.3	3.2	2.7	5.0
Avg. Yld.		8.4%	8.8%	9.9%	12.9%	0.0%	8.7%	5.3%	4.1%	13.2%	15.4%	6.2%

Uniti Group has traded at mid to high single-digit P/AFFO multiples for most of its existence. That said, today it trades at a low single-digit P/AFFO multiple. With Uniti poised to grow AFFO per share at a steady clip moving forward while interest rates are rising, we assign a fair value P/AFFO multiple of 5x, which should provide a tailwind to total returns moving forward.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout		92%	92%	96%	96%	0%	35%	36%	34%	42%	42%	31%

While Uniti Group's balance sheet is far from rock solid, it is on firmer footing and continuing to improve as management works to refinance debt to improve the maturity ladder as well as reduce interest costs. Furthermore, the trust is retaining a lot of cash right now thanks to the low payout ratio which it is using to deleverage and pursue growth opportunities which should in turn reduce leverage further.

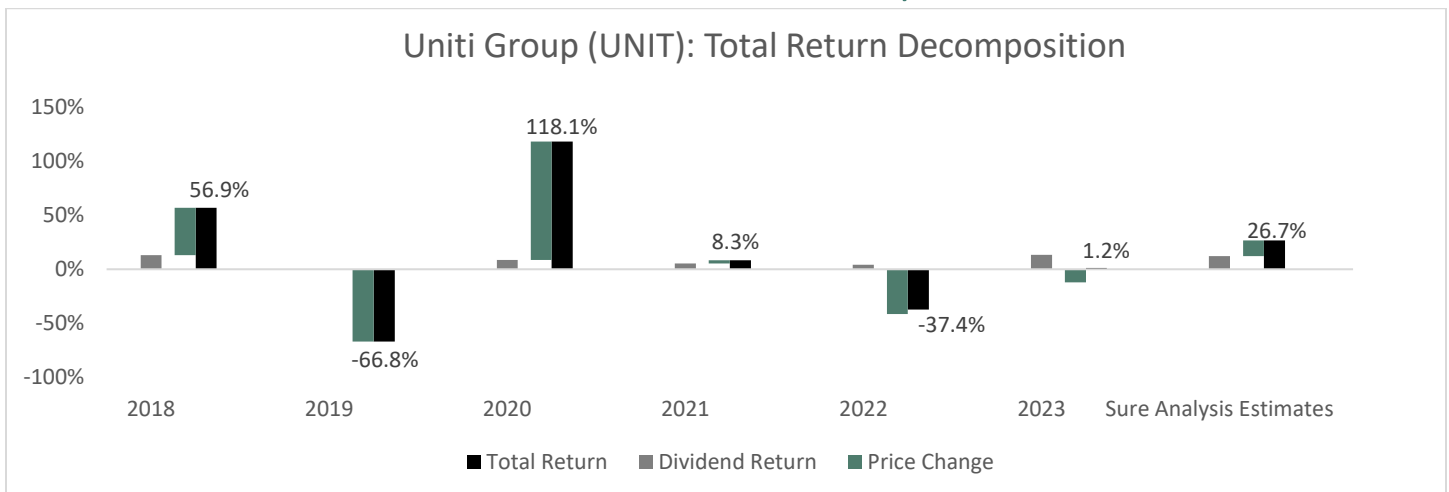

Uniti's fiber assets are critical infrastructure in the regions in which it operates and therefore the REIT should enjoy fairly stable cash flows in the face of a recession. While its assets are mission critical, there is nothing unique about Uniti Group that gives it a durable competitive advantage. As a result, it lacks meaningful pricing power and therefore is unlikely to drive abnormally high profitability over time. The main source of total returns will be a combination of its stable cash flowing business model and multiple expansion to compensation for the current deep discount in shares.

Given the low payout ratio, significant growth upside, and the mission critical and recession resistant nature of Uniti's assets, the dividend looks safe for the foreseeable future.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Uniti Group offers investors very attractive 26.7% annualized total return potential thanks to its sky-high dividend yield, growth potential, and deeply discounted valuation. That said, it is a fairly speculative investment due to its high leverage burden. As a result, we rate it a Speculative Buy.
